While I was in the east Dorian got this picture of a rainbow over Red Butte. Most of the rainbows that we get are in the east and south so when we get a rainbow in the west we consider it auspicious. The Full Moon picture was taken from our deck as the Moon was rising. The beautiful Wyoming sunset was taken from our front yard.

What a wonderful trip I had to Georgia and North Carolina. The weather was beautiful and the trip was smooth. I want to thank everyone who was so helpful, as Dorian did not go with me this year. I got to visit with old friends and met some lovely new people.

I am pleased to say that, thanks to Helen's assistance, I am completely off of the blood pressure meds that I was on. She gave me homeopathic remedies for hypertension and heart as well as getting me back on the basics-liver drainer, bowel assist and general pain in the body complexes. The blood pressure meds had caused me to swell and my lymph nodes were hard and swollen in my arms, inner thighs and lower stomach. It is amazing to me that the medical profession can honestly give drugs that are as likely if not more so to kill you than cure you and they are very clear about it. All you have to do is listen to the ads on TV and they clearly tell you that the drugs can cause serious side effects and even death, but you will feel better while you are dying. No thank you! Personally, I choose to live well and healthy, as well as a good long life. I still feel that the medical profession can assist in telling me what is going on to confirm what I am seeing and then I can get help wholistically for my healing. For anyone who would like to talk to Helen about homeopathic remedies here is her info: Helen Dumba, 770 784-1060, Newborn, GA.

We are supposed to have good weather here until Thanksgiving Day and it is to start raining and snowing and be cold for the next few days. I am glad I was in Wyoming for our fall in September and October as Georgia didn't have much color and I missed the North Carolina peak. There were still some beautiful reds and a bit of orange and gold. The Cabins of Flatrock where I stayed in North Carolina had some simply firey red trees on the property. If you are ever in the Asheville/Hendersonville area these cottages are homey and comfortable. The bigger ones are $95 per night have king beds and a larger living room/dining area as well as a bigger kitchen. The smaller cottages have generous queen sized beds and a smaller living room and kitchen and are $85. They do weekly rates and rent monthly in the winter. It is The Cottages of Flatrock, 1511 Spartanburg Hwy, Flatrock, N.C. 828 693-8805.

I have to say that I am glad that President Obama won. It does look as though the trend of the past may continue and the people of this country are going to have to make some changes in how they view their affairs. The money markets of the world and the banks and corporations are going to push until things must move in a new direction. We will be required to take a deep breath, surrender what we think we cannot live without and then watch how things reshape into new and much more positive directions. If we continue to fight we will keep creating the same old outcomes until we are willing to change. I am finding that the "deep breath and surrender" works like magic where the old "get up tight and worry" attitude just tries the spirit. Logic might say that is foolish, but in these times logic is not always the best answer.

It is interesting to watch the world change and know that what we are seeing is what we believe. Accepting the fact that we are that powerful is really big.

May you have the best of Christmas's and a very happy New Year! May this holiday season be fulfilling to everyone, everywhere. Blessings and Love, Molly

Our New Year's Eve event will be on December 31 at 8 p.m. We will bring in 2013, The Year of Acceleration. St. Germain says that as we have thought things were moving rapidly we have not seen anything yet. He will define the new directions and talk about our part in it.

CD's can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2012groups.html

Our December "Chats with the Inner Merlin" will be "The Sacred Stag". According to Druidic lore each year the Hounds of Hell chase the Sacred Stag through the world. This chase culminates in the light of Spring and another winter passed.

We are hoping to begin the New Year with "Teachings from The Master". St. Germain will speak about the spiritual laws that guide our lives and how we can use them to bring the life that we desire to live. We are looking into conference calling and will have more details in the January newsletter.

ASTROLOGY

NEW MOON-December 13

This month brings a momentous time of new beginnings! This is the end of a 26,000 year cycle that has been called by many names—the Ascension, The Great Awakening, Timewave Zero, the Hopi Fifth World and many others. This marks a union of heaven and earth/ sacred and secular. Twelve is a sacred number of completion and 12-12-12 as well as 12-21-12 are dates that have been associated with this evolutionary transition into higher realms of living. This winter solstice gives the appearance of being aligned with the center of the Milky Way Galaxy which is the point of Spirit's deepest descent into matter and its return to light. In this case the Archer's arrow of Sagittarius pierces the veil and brings a stronger union of Spirit and physical world than has existed in thousands of years. We will begin to see shifts in every area of our lives—mental, physical and most of all emotional/spiritual. The monetary focus of our direction in life is becoming obviously unsustainable. We are being drawn to recognize our Sacred Self and our Higher calling rather than measure our value by illusions. The healing occurs from the inside out and our wounds are being revealed more and more each day. We can no longer say that what has happened is the fault of anyone or anything beyond our own Masterful design of our life. If we could create such wounds we can heal them just as wonderfully.

A New Moon brings new cycles of creation and in Sagittarius we can more fully see ourselves and our placement in the overall scheme of things. The Galactic Center continues to transmit huge amounts of electromagnetic radiation which empower our extreme shifts of consciousness. Within hours of this New Moon Juno cojoins the GC and opposes Ceres, bringing male and female energies into a more balanced relationship. This facilitates a stronger union between humanity and the natural world. Venus joins the North Node in Scorpio and Pallas's square and Vesta's opposition to the New Moon highlight the imperative for equality and cooperation to change the love of power to the power of Love. It is quite possible that in the New Year we will begin to see increasing changes in money market, corporations, banking, the medical and pharmaceutical industries, insurance and all places where the unrealistic demands for money have caused the huge decline of monetary well-being on Earth.

Uranus will end its yearly retrograde just a few hours after the New Moon, thus accelerating the impetus for quantum leaps in consciousness. The square between Uranus and Pluto has been pushing the envelope of change in how we see ourselves and our world and this movement direct of Uranus will just put a power pack on the aspect. This New Moon is also a SuperMoon where the Moon is the closest to the Earth (perigee) and syzygy (in a direct line with the Sun and Earth). If you feel funny—strange sensations, light headed, dizzy, dis-connected—you are not losing your mind, you are actually gaining a whole new perspective of what higher dimensional frequencies feel like.

On December 20-22 Jupiter, traditional ruler of Sagittarius forms a double quincunx (when two planets are 150 degrees apart, within 3 degrees of orb) with Saturn at 9 degrees of Scorpio and Pluto at 9 degrees of Capricorn. Jupiter is at 9 degrees of Gemini. This gives a huge push to getting “outside the box” in social reform, healing our lineage issues and transcending our religious limitations.

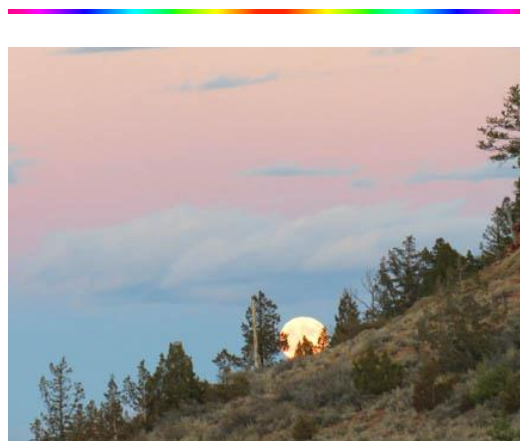

Clarity is one of the greatest healers in these times. It is imperative that we define our goals and visions for the future. St. Germain says, “I don’t know” is an unacceptable answer in these times. We do know the answers, we just do not always want to be responsible for that much understanding. We are connecting to our Mastery in ways that we have not accessed in many millenniums. We are required to own the fact that we do, indeed, create our reality by every thought that we have, whether we say it out loud or not. Our emotions can lead us to make choices that are not the wisest. A blending of mind and Spirit brings much more satisfactory results. Forgiving our programming to limit and victimization allows a clear view of where we are going and how we can change it if we desire. “2012 will depend on who you are. Nothing will happen to you. What happens is what you choose to happen” (Diana Stone)

The map of the planets for December 21, 2012 shows the Sun (masculine essence) is conjunct Pluto in Capricorn making a wide angle square to the Moon (feminine essence) in Aries conjunct Uranus. This brings us into the New Year and new times seeking a greater healing of the issues between mind and emotions, logic and feelings and men and women.

Jupiter in Gemini is opposing Mercury and Venus in Sagittarius. This makes Jupiter and Mercury mutually receptive (each planet is in the sign that the other planet rules. Again we find an emphasis on the opposition of mind and Spirit which seeks for balance. Saturn, (The Great Teacher) in Scorpio sextiles Pluto in Capricorn and these two planets are also in mutual reception. This can bring deeper understanding of the changes that we are facing internally, in the coming times.

As we step across the energetic line between where we have been for the last 26,000 years and where the technology of Spiritual evolution is taking us we are required to surrender everything that we believe that we “know for sure” and be open to greater Love and awareness.

FULL MOON-December 28

Welcome to graduation!! You are receiving your diploma from the University or the Universe. You have learned to forget who you are and now you are remembering again. The hardest part is that you have done such a Masterful job of convincing yourself that you are not a Master that the realization that you are comes as a big shock. Living in duality and the illusion of separation has been a valuable training for understanding the law of Karma (cause and effect). You wrote the play, produced it and became its star. Everyone on the stage was carefully written into the plot even if your logical mind does not remember. Radio and TV have many channels to choose from and so do we humans have a multitude of choices to pick our life script. The old game is over. The old energy grid has broken apart and 2012 marks the beginning of a brand new energy for the inhabitants of Earth. The very cells of our beings are shifting and our DNA is changing. No longer are we controlled by “what was”. We are able to readily access higher dimensional frequencies, realms that have been considered to be out of reach from the physical levels. We can if we dare access new, expanded awareness—greater truth and options that have not been available before.

Mercury in Sagittarius forms an out-of-sign bridge between Venus in Sagittarius and the Sun/Pluto/Juno conjunction in Capricorn. We are moving deeper into the energies of balance between God/Goddess/All There Is which will bring really big changes in relationships. The solar feminine is assertive and protective, strong and compassionate, guided both by intuition and the heart wisdom of remembered Love. The divine feminine is balanced by the fluidity of the lunar male energy. The Moon in Cancer is highlighting family and lineage issues and the requirement to bring the Love of family to the fore, by Loving self well enough to be there for family. This will change our focus on how we can be with the family and provide a viable level of prosperity at the same time. Business as usual is grinding to a halt. The roles in business are changing. There are more people who are in the role best suited to their personality (stay-at-home dads, executive moms) rather than the mold set for the gender. Uranus forms a T-square with the Sun on Christmas Day and this informs us where we must deal with our shadow self, take our dominion over our own affairs and make fundamental changes that we can live with. No longer can we talk about change as something that happens “out there”. It is imperative that we have the experience in order to know where we wish to go next.

As this 26,000 year cycle closes be very discerning about how you spend your time and where you put your thoughts. Integrity is imperative. The energy of the shifts will bring the slightest tinge of compromise to your door quickly and magnified to get your attention. Seek out beauty. Forgive yourself and others. The New Year’s resolutions can no longer be made with the thought in the back of your mind that they don’t really matter. Do not weigh whether to choose love or not—choose Love in everything.

Have a blessed, happy, prosperous and highly changed New Year!!

CRYSTAL CORNER

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

Hello to all my readers! I hope you all had a wonderful Thanksgiving. I have so many things to be thankful for that it would take more time and I’m running behind on my column as it is! Suffice it to say that there is something good in all things. We have but to recognize it.

I’m doing something a little different this month for the column. For those of you who have wished you could stock up on some of the stones and crystals featured in previous columns, have I got a deal for you! From now until the end of the year, I am offering everything in my shop and on the website for 40% off. If you don’t see what you want, please call because I do have a great selection.

One group of items I’m featuring is the Himalayan salt lamps and candle holders. These items are created from the salt brought out of the Himalayan salt mines. Salt has been used for thousands of year for its healing powers. People with asthma, bronchitis and other respiratory challenges would be sent to live in the salt chambers of the mountain as a cure for their ailment. Salt lamps create negative ions which attach themselves to positive ones (the bad ones) consequently making them very heavy. They then fall to the ground or a surface in your home as dust that is then easily vacuumed or dusted.

There are numerous shapes and sizes of the lamps and candle holders. The newest item is a small lamp that can be plugged into a USB port on your computer. You have a choice of a rosy cube, a natural white shape or a round rosy one. These lamps, when plugged in, go through a variety of colors. With the regular lamps, most are the rose color or white and come in sphere, pyramid, cube and pillar shapes. These make great gifts and are perfect for a nightlight. One of my favorite pieces is a carved bowl full of salt chunks.

I have wonderful crystal balls in a variety of stones and sizes, many different wands, pyramids, animal totems and many, many different hearts. One-of-a-kind crystals are available for use in the home or business.

Be sure to take advantage of this huge inventory reduction sale and give a gift that will keep on giving.

Enjoy this last month of the year (I'm still anticipating what that will look like!) and have fun on your journey.

TAROT TALK

Our Tarot card for December is the Fool-0. The necessity to surrender to the Universe and accept that you are cared for is vital in this time. You are the Fool, the innocent, wide-eyed Child. Be open and expectant to the next synchronistic moment.

Like a child has enormous potential, your possibilities are unlimited. If things do not always work as you thought that they should, it does not mean failure, but experience. That is part of the process of growth.

The number of the Fool is 0. You are remembering that you are Spirit and as such you are everywhere and everything. You are safe even when you feel lost. You are young and ancient all at the same time. Taking a leap of Faith into the unknown requires tremendous courage.

The negative side of the Fool is the shadow self that never grows up because of the fear of responsibility. Remaining immature does not guarantee that life will always be free. Freedom comes from the experience that brings appreciation. The Fool is not fool-ish.

Our Rune for December is The Unknowable-25. The Blank Rune calls for total trust, surrender, relinquishing control—all of this is only words. Look into the night sky and tell me what you see.

As with the Fool Card the Blank Rune is the end and the beginning. This is where you are tested in your Faith. Your total trust should be taken as an exciting evidence of your most immediate contact with your own true identity, which like the phoenix, rises again and again from the ashes of what we call fate.

The Unknowable can portend a death, which is usually symbolic. It can relate to any part of your life as you have been living it. Relinquishing control is the ultimate challenge of the Spiritual Warrior.

Here the Unknowable informs you that it is motion in your life. The blankness is like living empty for a while until the space within you expands and fills to new levels. If, indeed, there are “matters that are hidden by the gods” you are asked to remember that what beckons is the creative force of the unknown.

The Blank Rune can bring to the surface your deepest fears: “Will I fail?” “Will I be alone?” “Will I lose all that is important to me?” Yet your highest potential, greatest good and most fertile dreams are held in the seed of that blankness.

SURRENDER is what this Rune requires, for how can you control what has not yet manifested. This Rune calls for an empty-handed leap into the void. Drawing it is a direct test of Faith.

The Unknowable represents the path of karma—the sum total of your actions and of their consequences. As you shift and evolve the debts of karma shift also. Nothing is preordained. Whenever you draw this Rune, take heart: Know that the work of self-change is progressing in your life.

When the Fool and/or the Blank Rune appear in your reading you are preparing to step into a totally new way of being. You are becoming new. These are signals from the Universe to be open to what is not yet seen. Wait in patience and seek clarity in each new signal that appears to you.

The Fool and the Unknowable Rune are truly harbingers of new ideas and consciousness that are being delivered right to you where you are. You do not have to go anywhere to find them.

Thoughts from the 5 Element Acupuncture Corner

Winter Energy—the Water Element

The season of winter is here. Can you feel the energy continue in a downward and inward motion? If you are like most 21st century people, you are probably in tune with 24 hour television, internet, cell phones, lights and the nonstop seasonal activities. Makes me tired just thinking about everything that I “coulda woulda shoulda” be doing this December. Winter is the time of the Water Element. Nature goes to sleep on the outside, quiet and still, but within all of Nature energy is still moving only more slowly, like the sap of a maple tree, building up reserves for spring.

So winter is telling us to slow down. Imagine the farmers of old, in the winter they went to bed earlier and slept longer. They ate hearty winter vegetables in soups and stews. They slowed down and contemplated on the wisdom of the season and were able to be in the “unknowing” of the deep winter, building up energy and reserves for the busy planting season of spring.

Water moves and searches for the lowest point and settles. Water comes in many forms from raging rivers to still ponds to the slow drip of a melting icicle to vast moving oceans and seas. So how can you relate to the water element in Nature when there are so many forms to observe?

We can observe and practice the winter/water energy by taking time to be still. And in being still, with no phones, TV or internet, we can hear our inner most being. Be in the “unknowing” and do not fear, because in that stillness and unknowing comes the water energy of courage and wisdom.

Take the time to be quiet and not in such a rush to go go. Settle into bed early a few nights a week and take in the stillness of the winter season. Dress warm and protect your neck from wind and cold invasion with a scarf. Eat warm earthy meals and build up your energy for the wonderful promises of spring.

Next time I'll talk about the water element in and out of balance within a person and what you can do if you recognize these things in yourself. Blessings to all in this beautiful season!

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

PREDICTIONS FOR 2013

Dearly Beloved Masters, the Mind tends to look for a moment when everything changes so that it can say “There now this is how it will be from now on”. 2013 will arrive as other years have come. The 21st of December 2012 will pass and the changes that were looked for in the world may be dismissed. But deep within the collective consciousness the changes are happening with lightning speed. The polarization of the planet will accelerate in the mental realms as each side attempts to prove that they are RIGHT. There are those who are feeling the “forward” movement from within, yet they cannot explain what it is that they are feeling because it has a much more right brained approach. There are the Traditionals who feel that the forward movement is leaving some important standards of life behind. The healing of this rift will not come through scientific proof or conflict of mind or any form of battle, but through personal experience. The heart-full and Soul-full shifts are occurring within and many people are feeling “something” is different. The EGO will stir fear by suggesting that if you do not have a logical grasp of what is happening it is probably going to have a negative outcome. The healing will come from within based on an ancient word, the Latin word for shared unconditional Love— AGAPE!! Agape is the open heart and open mind, ready to blend with others hearts and minds that desire ascension. It is not about who is right, but the willingness to accept that others are also changing fundamentally from the deepest places of self. There are people who still feel that the only way to change things is to kill those who disagree, whether physically or by reputation. AGAPE seeks to bring an at-one-ment that does not force change, but opens the way for it in Love.

The MIND always needs to prove that it is right. SOUL lives in the Truth of AT-ONE-MENT. The evolution of the planet can no longer be purely scientific technology. The focus on mechines as the most important forward movement has only encouraged more war, separation and greed. The changes, of necessity, must first be the unity of body, mind, emotions and spirit within each person. Technology for the sake of progress without the guidance of Love will continue to go the way of war, disaster and destruction. The political arena is a battle ground of war, again to prove which side is right. The idea that the people are to be “led” by the government brings a feeling of frustration and fear. People believe that they are being ignored in the power plays of “big Money”. “Making a living” no longer provides the fulfillment and satisfaction of a job well done, but has become, for so many, a struggle to merely survive. Money is a symbol of the currency flow of God, but the World has come to worship the symbol much more than the Creator. The call goes out for all of humanity to turn from the love of power to the Power of Love. Technology that involves the Spirit is the direction of the future.

Each religion on the planet has a beautiful foundation that began in pure Love. It is time that each person would take the time to truly understand what their religion stands for, rather than to assume that personal beliefs are all that there are. Religions are like a puzzle. Each one has a strong point of faith that will support the strength of all others. Put all of the pieces together and the outcome for all will be fulfilling beyond the greatest imagining. The underlying desire in the hearts and Souls of the planet is peace and well-being. Separation designed by the EGO has created illusions of fear that “other people” are just trying to take advantage of you. Forgiveness of the shadows and seeking in all things enlightenment brings movement toward Oneness.

The end of 2012 has brought the planet to a point of choice. Each person is required to look and feel deeply into themselves to find a Love and a Truth that exceeds any intellectual concept outside of them. This is the guiding Light of the new becoming. It is not an ideology created by a person or group of people that is “one size fits all”. The belief that any one group or person has all the answers has been the standard for thousands of years and it has never lasted. It simply fueled another war over who is right. Each person on the planet was created in Love in the beginning. As each one dares to remember that Love within, it lifts you out of the conflicts and blindness of illusion, into an astounding recognition that you are Loved beyond belief (you do not have to earn it). You have a mission, a special purpose that only you can fulfill (If you do not fulfill it, the planet will be without it--no excuses that you have nothing to offer will suffice). You are important to people that you do not even know. They have noticed and admired you even if you were not aware. Everyone has an important role to play because they are here. Live the best you that you can be.

There are many predictions about disasters, those who come from other planets and other dimensions to “make changes” by force which is no different than things have been here all along. There will be more and more polarization into camps of right and wrong until each being makes a personal decision to change from within. THIS IS CALLED SURRENDER. The Christian churches would call it “giving your life to Christ”. Each religion has teachings about surrender as a way to Oneness with the Divine. These are called by many different names, but the essence of unity is recognizable on the deepest levels of self. Beloved Ones, all paths lead to the Way of Truth which is an internal awareness of the psyche and spirit. No one can tell you how to achieve this alignment because it is exquisitely personal. Because Love is not something that can be controlled by the mental realms the teachings about how to ascend can only go so far and then frustration sets in. You may ask, “When will all of this end?” We can only say, “When you are willing to trust Spirit more than EGO”. Things will change in positive ways as you will accept the protection that comes when you cease to look outside of yourself for insurance or assurance.” Rising above the hold that the EGO has kept on the human mind for eons, takes extreme courage. Above all DO NOT GIVE UP---
SURRENDER!!!

The acceleration of the energy on the planet is speeding up the timing on outcomes. YOU CREATE YOUR OWN REALITY! YOU ALWAYS HAVE! NOW YOU ARE LIVING THE PROOF THAT WHAT YOU SAY OR THINK HAPPENS ALMOST INSTANTLY.

You can use this energy positively and produce a better life in the midst of chaos around you. The EGO says, “I have no right to more good than those people around me who are suffering”.

Then the EGO (the two headed dragon) speaks from the other head and says, “I have to get what I can while I can and if others suffer, too bad. It’s Karmic.” The way of Truth within will show you how to create good for yourself that abundantly flows to be shared with others without the either/or of the World teachings. When we say “for the highest good of all concerned” it means that no one is left out.

The MIND is looking for solutions in the same places that it has looked since this game began. Einstein said that you can never solve a problem in the same place that it began. You have looked outside, into the future for answers and the result has been confusion at best. It is now time to look within and find the help and guidance that awaits you there right now. There is much talk about an intense darkness followed by a blinding light. Beloved Masters, The darkness is what you will encounter within when you venture into the outer edges of your Inner Self. The brilliant, blinding Light is your Inner Connection to I AM. You will not remain blinded. You will adjust to the clarity and Truth of your Allness.

Focus on the heart connection with an animal (animals live unconditional love naturally) or some beautiful scene in nature and feel your heart begin to open naturally. This will not happen if you try to make love flow. You are feeling for the AGAPE or unconditional Love that is your connection to everyone in the physical world, as well as those who have passed into the higher realms and your Source connection. Feel it, feel it, feel it and be amazed at what wonderful things begin to happen in your life. You can reach those who have passed over and make healing by forgiveness and acceptance. Things that have stood in the way of spiritual advancement can now be allowed to dissolve in the essence of Love without a condition. This is NOW available to everyone. What you are seeing on the planet is the resistance to the changes that this Love can bring, but there is a softening. More people are beginning to shift from the attitude of “fight to be right” to one of seeking peaceful outcomes. This is vital as the patriarchy is disintegrating in the essence of new understanding.

I do not focus on what can be done, because doing is outer activity. “Who, what, where, when, why and how?” are defining tools of separation. We are not saying abandon logic, but balance it with intuition and the art of connection to the Divine. No longer can the masculine oriented thought processes deny the feminine intuition and sense of order. The changing times will not allow only masculine or only feminine in any aspect of life. Uniting the aspects that have been divided for so long will bring about an amazing “New World”. This New World isn’t somewhere else—that would still be separation. The good things are here NOW, rather than out there somewhere, in another place that is always just out of reach. This New Earth is waiting to be discovered inside of each being. That is where things are going. “How do you get there?” Go within! “How do you go within?” When you forgive trying to make spiritual changes by doing mental, physical activities alone you will discover that the Way to the Connection with All is right where you are in your own personal energy field.

2012 has Revealed the beginning of bringing humanity together in a peaceful, joyful, harmonious sharing. The EGOic Mind says, “That is impossible. Look at history. Look at what we are up against. Look what they are doing.” As long as you focus on what has been rather than where things are going you will create the same results that you have in the past. Only when you are courageous in changing your vision from disaster to Divine recognition will you begin to see the world differently. Your vision, held in Love can be a light for others to follow, but you cannot bring the vision to others by force. That has been the issue of the past. This is a planet of uniquely divine individuals who are all bonded by their creation in Love. Only when the focus on Love becomes the focus of each individual can all see/feel the same vision. The recognition is the opening of a divine seed in the heart/Soul of each one that allows every person to recognize that even though different words are used or different concepts are described everyone is intrinsically seeking the same sense of belonging to the One. Seeing the same vision does not mean that everyone becomes a rubber stamp of some ideology, but that each being realizes, with an internal understanding, that the heart felt energy is conveying the same message spoken to each one in the language of the heart. The masculine Mind is required to surrender to a union with the Divine feminine Soul. This union is completely personal for each one. It brings each one home to that belonging that is a driving force on the planet. Home is right where you are deep inside of you.

You have lived in this illusion for 26,000 years. The cycle is ended and you are free to live all that you are. The memory of that Oneness lives in the cells of your body, the strands of your DNA—you are divinely created—REMEMBER.

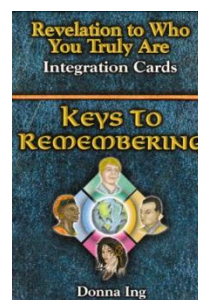

We, the Masters, do so desire that each one will allow the remembering NOW. That is what the end of the last cycle of the Mayan Calendar heralded. You are now free to become again what you have always been. Feel the movement as the Year of Acceleration enters. May 2013, bring blessings and revelations to open hearts and allow the divine mind in each Master to usher in the New becoming. In the greatest of love I remain your humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain.
