

January Newsletter

Our first picture is the crystal grid that we made for 12-21-12. It expresses our intentions for what we would forgive of the old and embrace in the new.

The Sacred Stag picture is an offering from Karen Singer, as is the beautiful blue rose in her ad and the Full Moon picture in our astrology section.

I also included a picture of St. Germain at the Solstice celebration, 12-21-12.

The ending of the Old Order has brought up a lot of issues that have been becoming more obvious and now they simply cannot be ignored.

The changes that are required must come from the Soul of each individual. Intellectual responses are just are not touching the true issues.

I heard a senator saying, “This is insane. We are killing each other and the United States is the only civilized nation that is doing this.” I don’t know that that is altogether true, that we are the only ones, but certainly we are the prime example, before the world, of the “promised land”.

The United States was created from a vision of a New Earth, a New World where peaceful coexistence is possible, where everyone has a chance. As the Old Order is ending, of course, there is a crisis of consciousness. Hopefully in the collective consciousness there will be a shift that seeks the path of Love rather than the idea that death is the way to heal the planet.

St. Germain said that the Souls of Adam Lanza and the twenty children who died at Sandy Hook School agreed to participate in this event to touch the hearts and minds of everyone on earth at this time of change. The Soul is clear and powerful no matter what the age of the body it inhabits. The amazing courage that this agreement took on the part of all the teachers, children and parents involved is beyond words. The beautiful lives that all of us have are worthy of consideration. Our life is God’s gift to us and what we do with it is our gift to God.

My most sincere intention is that we can find the Love of God within ourselves, to truly feel what it is to be Loved and share that Love by living it rather than just talking about it. Judgment, bullying and belittling are not what makes people strong. The psyche is sensitive and each one of us deserves to be treated with respect and consideration so that all people can know just how wonderful they are no matter what. This is not an issue of “to punish or not punish” but to be so much more aware of the feelings of others. The Golden Rule is not some old phrase from the Bible. It is a standard to live by.

I am pleased to say that the homeopathics that I am taking for blood pressure and heart are working beautifully. This is a stressful time of year for everyone and I am doing well. I had my blood pressure checked right after Christmas and it had actually dropped a little. I am grateful for all of the seen and unseen help that I get.

May this Year of Acceleration take us to new heights of growth and Revelation.

Remember that our first “Teaching with the Master” evening is January 9 (and each 2nd Wednesday throughout the year) at 7 p.m. MST. You may go to my website or Pay Pal or give me a call to sign up for the evening. A code will be sent to you with the number to call and the code for the evening. If you do both the Teachings evening and the Q & A evening on the 4th Wednesday of each month it will be $40 for the month. If you choose to only do one event or the other each one will be $25. CD’s and/or mp3 will be available for $15 for each event.

Rainbow Center News

Our January group will be on the 20th. The topic is “Seeing Beyond the Beyond”.

CD’s can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2012groups.html

The final “Chats with the Inner Merlin: The Sacred Stag” is now available. Merlin brings our connection with nature to us once more in the mystical journey of the Sacred Stag through the underworld and into the light of spring. Drawing the ancient times into the blending of the NOW, Merlin remembers us to our own Sacred Self.

ASTROLOGY

NEW MOON-January 11

This New Moon packs an extra punch as not only are the Sun and Moon, but Mercury, Pluto, Juno and Venus all in Capricorn. We start the New Year with intensified focus on everything that the patriarchy has stood for and where the old ways are no longer working. The resolute resistance to change can no longer stand in the way of progress. The Mountain Goat-Capricorn, climbs to the highest point and can stand on almost nothing in order to get a new perspective. Both Capricorn and its traditional ruling planet Saturn, trace their mythological roots back to the divine feminine. Goats and horns were symbols of the Moon priestesses who lived in mountain shrines. Saturn, an ancient fertility figure, is derived from the Great Goddess. Vesta, the first born child of Saturn was the Olympian goddess most associated with Capricorn. The tight quincunx of this New Moon with Ceres and Saturn’s quincunx with Vesta suggests that we take a closer look at how we view feminine energy, nature and spirituality.

As the patriarchy ends the understanding of the place of woman is changing. Our experiences with time and spaces are shifting dramatically. Saturn and Capricorn have been associated with physicality, logical thinking and all that we can see, touch, taste, hear and smell. Pluto is spending a protracted period of time in Capricorn (2008-2024). Its square to Uranus (2012-2015) opens the gates of quantum energy wider and draws us beyond the beyond—nothing is stationary, solid or separate. In the new dimensions tie is not experienced as three-dimensional (past, present, future) but an eternal NOW. Time appears as the illusion that it is. Our past is as changeable as our future. The ancient Greeks had two words for time: cairos, designating spiritual or cyclic time and chronos, signifying mundane, sequential time. We are now accessing more of the flow of life that is defined as synchronicity-syn, “united” and chronos, “time”. We can live in the time of spirit and feel the connection of our personality to our Soul self in a way that totally redefines our being-ness. Synchronicity requires that we keep our energy focused on positive concepts and be mindful of each event as carrying an essence of positive good for us and/or others.

The power of Capricorn brings special attention to how we personally deal with power. In the Western world power has been defined by money, prestige and dominance. The changing times are constantly showing us that nature, community, truth, Love and even good health are all elements of personal power. Worry is the highest form of negative creation and the constant rush to get to the next thing wears on our spirit. Judgment has been a standard by which many people live and it is proving to be a drain on our most precious resource—our own power. Living in the NOW, being grateful for our blessings and being willing to surrender things that have nothing to do with Love put us in touch with our power 24/7. We have been brainwashed into believing that people in power know better what is good for us than we ourselves do. Acting from fear, letting others define our life’s direction and goals, being so paralyzed that we cannot say no appropriately are major power give aways and we can no longer afford the luxury of abandoning ourselves for the illusion. Everything in our lives shows the world who we are and what we consider important. We can say what we want, but our thoughts and actions speak much louder than our words in these times. Notice that the path of Venus during the month can change our priorities and relationships. On January 12 Venus squares Uranus, January 16 Venus conjuncts Pluto and on the 17 it cojoins Juno. Pluto cojoins Juno Jupiter squares Chiron on the 14. The power of Venus warms our hearts and calls us to reconsider where our hearts desires can take us.

God does not ask, “How many good works have you done?” God asks, “How much did you love what you did?” Love is not something that we can fake. The mind has played many games of illusion, but the truth of Love is so clear that no amount of words can mask the absence of Love. These times are revealing who we are no matter how hard we may try to conceal what we would hide. Your real self is the most amazing thing that you can give the world. Be the very best that you can be.

FULL MOON-January 26-27

The zodiac describes an archetypal cycle that influences us on many levels. We have just concluded a 26,000 year cycle of the zodiac and along with the end of the Mayan calendar and a new hoop in the Hopi world we are facing many vast changes at this time. Aquarius is about the evolution of consciousness on a group level. We are moving from the personal identification with self alone—gender, religion, race or country—to the recognition that we are part of a much greater whole. We are being nudged to acknowledge that we are equal members of the human society rather than measured by status, cast or education which has divided us for eons.

Full Moons show what we require to integrate at the time. This particular Full Moon emphasizes the archetypal truths of both Leo and Aquarius. We are all Divine Creative Masters who are having a Human experience. We are totally unique and totally a part of the Oneness. Each one has a special gift that no one else can give. If we do not give our gift the world must do without it. Each person carries his or her own priceless essence that is like a thumbprint—no two are exactly alike. That vibrational frequency is your life force and it makes you identifiable as different from anyone else. Each individual constitutes a part of a synergistic whole far greater than any of its parts.

Uranus, modern ruler of Aquarius, closely joins Pallas, the Greek Goddess of Wisdom at this Full Moon. The movement toward a more balanced masculine and feminine alignment is getting stronger with each turn of the Moon cycles. The struggles between head and heart that have so ruled the separation are calling to be mended within each person. There is nothing to lose and much to be gained by allowing the mind to be guided by love as we enter fully into the Aquarian Age. Uranus conjunction with Pallas during this Full Moon ignites the drive for freedom and equality. The trine to the Moon in Leo and sextile to Sun in Aquarius bring an ease to communication and networking with others. Facebook will probably be busier than ever.

Vesta, brightest asteroid in the sky, and another feminine archetype, stations direct shortly before the Full Moon. Jupiter stations direct on January 30. Vesta and Jupiter will travel within ten degrees of each other from June 19, 2012 to April 1, 2013. This expands our understanding of women's issues, devotion and the purpose of life.

With each passing month the necessity to LIVE OUTSIDE THE BOX becomes more imperative. The BOX sits on our neck and we must discover that even though we have no reference point for operating without total mental focus we are required to find the way home which exists within us. "The only way out is in" –St. Germain We have been warned and educated to stay away from our inner realms. The medical profession fears "mental illness" because it is not treatable in a controllable, physical way. The healing would now be found in those places within where we have been denied access for so long. The Goddess Mother awaits us to sooth our troubled thoughts and assist us to remember that we are loved beyond imagining. God/Goddess/All That Is exists within.

CRYSTAL CORNER

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

Happy New Year to all of you and may you find greater prosperity and a kinder, gentler path! I feel that new beginnings give us a great opportunity to start fresh. What better time for this as the year 2012 ends and 2013 begins?

It seems that no matter where I look I'm finding people who are experiencing colds and flu along with all kinds of other challenges. This includes me, my best friend of forty years and my brother and sister-in-law, some of whom have been very ill. All of this had me wondering because it is my understanding that we are wonderful creators and create, out of our emotions, all kinds of interesting and uncomfortable things. I remember reading years ago, in a book by an author I can't remember, about this man who became ill very suddenly. He struggled with the illness for a time, curled up on his bed. He gradually came to the realization that he no longer needed to experience what he had created, he just had to get centered and release it. This worked for him. (I'm paraphrasing here as it has been many years since I read this.) Instead of creating distress in the body, let's create health and ease.

St. Germain and I were visiting one day and I playfully asked if there was a cure for the common cold. I was told that the cold is a disease of distancing and a manifestation of emotional stress. When anyone knows you have a cold, they tend to stay away--therefore, the distancing. It comes from fear, resentment, a desire to be alone without the sense to say so, a requirement to rest the body and again not the sense to say so. We are not so receptive to colds when we are centered. We all need wellness time. It takes strength to say, "I need to rest." I think this pretty well describes us all at one time or another as we rush about our days. Stress kills.

As for the stones and crystals that will aid you with these challenges, I'll go back to some old and familiar ones.

Lepidolite, a natural lithium, is so great for stress. You can carry a piece with you in your pocket or bathe with it. You may also create an elixir with pure water and drink it. To do this, use bottled or filtered water, a half gallon or gallon would do. Place your stone in the water and let it set for 24 hours before using. This allows the essence of the stone to permeate the water. Start by drinking just 4 ounces a day then adjust it up or down to get the effect you desire. Keep in mind that the effect will build up in the body so you will require less as you go along. Just add more water to your jug as you use it.

Ruby Stems do not necessarily heal a virus, but they greatly assist as a computer directed force that would assist the antibodies within the physical body to properly recognize and identify what they are dealing with. These help the body to find an appropriate way to deal with a toxin, a poison or a disease maker. Now that the toxins have been identified, they can be removed.

Peacock Ore is a copper mineral that assists in removing toxins from the body. If you were to pair it with Rose Quartz, it would work almost as an antibiotic. In some cases, it would be a blood purifier.

As we hit the next year running, please don't forget the wonderful stones and crystals that live with you and help you in all things. If they are in plastic bags, take them out and let them breathe! Make a water and pyrite solution, then cleanse them and recharge them. (Do not let them set in the pyrite solution!) If you prefer, set them in the sun or the moonlight to charge. Don't forget your jewelry!

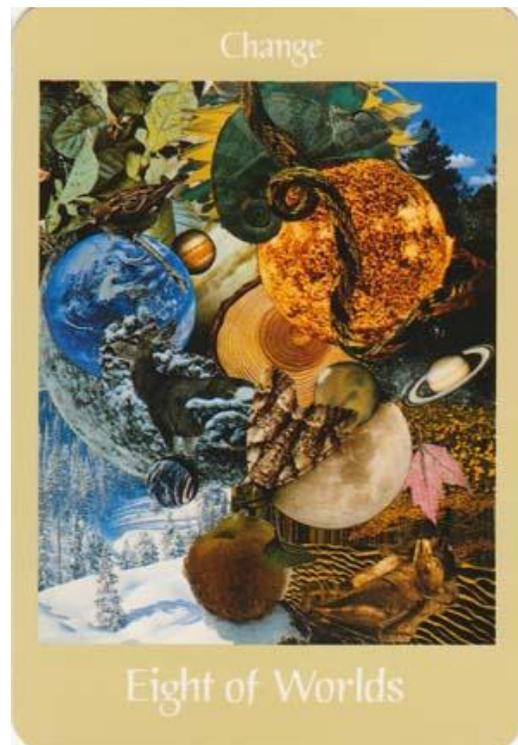

And so, another year begins. My anticipation continues to escalate with nary a sign of stopping. It's a wonderful life! Happy prophesies!

Thank you all for your blessings, kind words and business. I appreciate you.

TAROT TALK

As we begin our Year of Acceleration the tarot card is Change—the eight of Worlds. Change is everywhere, but mostly it is within us. There is so much change in our physical world and in our fiscal affairs.

Transform yourself to fit your circumstances and to keep pace with changing realities. Conform to the present situation while shifting into the changing world around you. Through such supple and flexible adjustments you will rise above the limits of the old ways.

Everything in your life is changing. One thing leads to another. Flow with the succession of changes and simply observe where they are taking you. Trying to stop them is a bit like attempting to extricate yourself from a spider web. Being aware that the changes have a form and direction allows you to decide just where you want the changes to go. You cannot force the changes go where you want them to, but you can redirect and reshape the energy from within your own psyche so that each change works in your favor. Be aware that the changes can work for you only when you keep the direction of the flow focused on positive outcomes. If you begin to focus on your good coming from something bad happening to others the effect can be like a boomerang. Ill will in the energy of Acceleration magnifies the outcome no matter what.

The Rune is Kano--Opening.

*Fire is Heaven's light in its palest hue.
That firey branch
Burning at the heart's center
claims its kinship
with the Sun.
What hid itself in shadows
Is clear to me now.*

This is the Rune of opening, renewed clarity, dispelling the darkness that has been shrouding some part of your life. You are now free to receive and to know the joy of nonattached giving. This is a time for recognition and clarity of intentions.

In relationships, there can now be a mutual opening up through your awareness that the Light of understanding is once again available to you both.

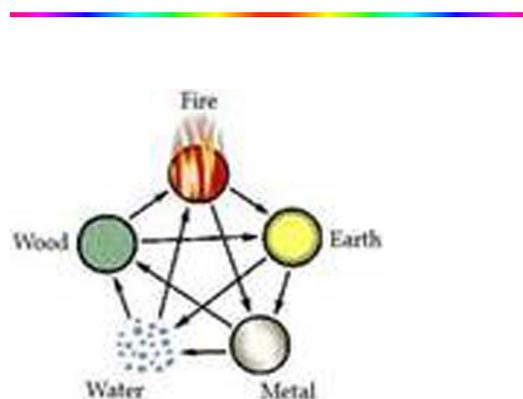

Recognize that while on the one hand you are limited and dependent, on the other you exist at the perfect center where the harmonious and beneficent forces of the universe merge and radiate. You are that center.

If you have been operating in the dark, there is now enough light to see that the patient on the operating table is you.

When you get the Change card or Opening you are being called to be ready for new things in your life. There can be changes in friendships and relationships that mean discovery of self instead depending on someone else to make a life for you. You may be called to give up the old gladly in order to make room for renewal of the union or friendship.

Opening can mean the end of old ways that are no longer valid in your life and a requirement to live empty for a while. The new will be revealed in its time. Under no circumstances will fighting the shifts help you. Patient discovery of the gifts that each experience provides allows you to realize just how Loved you are and what fulfillment is provided by the Universe when you Open yourself to the positive outcomes.

Thoughts from the 5 Element Acupuncture Corner
By: Nancy Wadda, Acupuncturist, M.Ac.

Winter Energy—the Water Element

As winter sets in deeper and the earth and water freeze, we also go into a deep “unknowing”, a winter's reflection on the idea of just "being". Can we be okay with the fact that we don't know what is going to happen in the future and be at peace with the emotion of fear of the winter season? Practice just "being" for a few minutes a day to feel the down energy of the season.

The water element in balance shows up as someone who utilizes their skills and abilities, willing to try new experiences even though they might be afraid, using the courage of the element to move forward to enhance one's self and with life experiences wisdom comes to share with others.

Out of balance, the water element can show physically with UTI's, bladder infections, kidney problems, insomnia, hearing problems, exhaustion and anxiety issues. Emotionally a person can be locked in fears and phobias or the person may be "fearless" and put themselves in unsafe situations, i.e. adrenalin junkies. Some feel like they are "drowning" in depression or anxiety.

Spiritually a person may not feel connected to Spirit, feeling hopeless. Upper Kidney Points are used to revive the spirit such as Spirit Burial Ground, Through the Valley and the Dark Gate. These help the person get in touch with the Heavens and their own spirit, to walk through the scary stuff and know that on the other side is spiritual support.

So if you are feeling weighted down by the end of the holiday season, exhausted, fearful of the future, spiritually depleted, take some major time to rest, eat hearty winter vegetables, and sit in the stillness of the season to "know" deep within your core of you that you are being held and supported by the universe.

Happy New Year and many blessings for you in the coming year!

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Beloved Masters, we celebrate your evolution
into the new energy.

You will be noticing that everything is speeding up in this Year of Acceleration. It is absolutely imperative that you notice that if you have a thought the results come quickly. If this occurs enough you must recognize that you are calling outcomes into your life and into your world. Karma is speeding up and everyone is meeting immediate karma. The "mindless" processes that humanity has allowed its-self to slip into will show up quickly in the energy of the changes. Forgetfulness is not something that is happening only to the older population. It is proving to be a common occurrence in all ages. Haste, stress and drugs slow down the keenness of the mind. Fear can paralyze the thinking process, so nothing functions as well as it could. It is vital that each person practices being present and alert all of the time. The “awareness” muscle is lazy and it must be built up for the movement of these times. Learning to multi-task, especially in the spiritual realms, is another imperative of the changing times.

The portals that opened at the end of 2012 are now offering opportunities for greater shifts of consciousness. The remembrance and understanding that you are the New Earth’s creator is vital. What would you desire? Do you honestly believe that a short temper brings peace or that telling everyone how bad they are is going to actually make your world better? You will find that what you are putting out is returning to you. Your EGO may want to play victim. “I just don’t know how to stop myself from being angry” or “I have every right to be angry”. Beloved Masters, We would be the last to argue that you have every right to create exactly as you choose. Your free will honors that. You are also free to receive the backlash of your actions and you are free to dislike how it feels just as those on whom you unleashed your anger disliked it. The question is not who is right or justified to act in uncaring ways, but when will you stop? The abuse that you would heap upon others returns to you more quickly with each choice to stay separate.

There appears to be a tendency to ennoble theft on every level of society. The impoverished justify their actions by their lack and the rich justify their choices by the fact that the more money they have the better they are for the economy. The bottom line is that theft is theft and it simply creates a circle of loss that cannot be healed by more theft. Because a business man can raise his prices to protect his “payroll” does not balance the fact that as the prices are raised the payrolls are not and there is a mega push toward destruction in the market place that cannot be blamed on any one person. It is universal. It never was good business or honest practice to take advantage of others, but as the frequencies of the planet are up spiraling it is becoming progressively more obvious just where poor business practices are happening—everywhere. This is not about finger pointing. This is about the personal self-examination of each being and clearly changing from the inside out the mind sets and out-moded practices that have brought the earth to the brink of economic disaster. Self-protection is no longer self-protection in the changing energy if that “self-protection” is gained at the expense of others. It is up to each Soul to get well with self. Justification of cruelty of any kind must be considered. There is no excuse for doing unto others what has been done to you. The changes will prove that the Golden Rule is gold. “Do unto others what you would have them do unto you.” The shifts are showing up the things on the planet that, for so long, have been carried out “behind closed doors”. They are showing up at every level and in every way. From the inappropriate activities of the leaders of countries, banks, corporations, big businesses, little businesses, churches, hospitals, chemical companies, gas and oil, power companies and city councils to the attempts of individuals to carry out cruel, unkind, small actions and activities against those that they judge deserve to be mistreated for any reason. STOP!!!! Put yourself in the place of the one that you are planning to hurt, take advantage of or punish in some way. Before you say what you are thinking remember that thoughts are creation. Is this how you would want God to create a world for you? You are creating a world for yourself and others by your thoughts, judgments and opinions. The blessing is that God never judged you. The game of God’s judgment has been a great control mechanism, but God is UNCONDITIONAL—no judgment. You are loved even when you create without consideration of the outcome. You are loved no matter what you do. The unpleasant outcomes are not from God, but the Truth of Divine Law that was set in motion before humanity was created. This Divine Law maintains balance and reminds each being that “You are a creative Master in your own right. Is this what you want in your world?”

The EGO does not want to be told what to do. God established the Divine Laws knowing that the mind of man would rebel against the Law and attempt to make laws to counter Divine Law. Man’s law is subject to change at a moments notice. God Law is forever in Love. The mind can say that God’s Law is cruel because it takes no favor. The games of Earth have been designed to pretend that God does take favor and even made rules based on the “favor” that God would hold. “God Loves me best” is just another version of sibling rivalry, because the mind cannot imagine what it would be like to Love everything equally.

ALL OF THE GAMES AND LIMITS AND CONFLICTS AND JUDGMENTS AND PAINFUL INJUSTICES OF THE PAST WOULD NOW BE FORGIVEN!! Forgive everything! FORGIVE EVERYTHING!!!
FORGIVE ABSOLUTELY EVERYTHING, NOW!!!!!!

SURRENDER, SURRENDER, SURRENDER. It is up to you because you are the only one who fully knows exactly what you would have your world to be. Make your choices in the most open, loving, expansive, beautiful, powerful, considerate, uplifting concepts possible and hold the intension that as you can imagine bigger, more wonderful concepts you will hold them for everyone. Deciding who deserves the good is dying with the old ways. YOU DESERVE THE GOOD AND SO DOES EVERYONE ELSE. No one deserves more or better than another. Are you willing to allow yourself the best? This is the question that will open the floodgates of Heaven once you accept that your willingness is the measure of what can come to you. This is not something that you think, but how you feel within. You can think that you want the best. You can believe that you deserve the best. But until you feel the compassion that allows you to have all good things, what you call into your life is filtered by you own personal judgments against yourself. Measuring against others proves nothing. God will give everyone ALL.

I have said this before and I will keep saying it. I can give you great spiritual Truths and until you are ready to hear them, they will either be considered briefly and forgotten, or you will want to tell others how they must use these Truths when you do not understand the principles yourself. Living the teachings, applying the concepts in your own life is the only way you can possibly grasp how they work. No longer are Spiritual Truths just book-learning. The time of discussion and debate alone is passed. Deciding what I meant when I gave you the teaching is political rhetoric. How does the truth fit you? Can you feel the possibilities within yourself that the changes can bring into your life? Are you willing to make the changes? YOU ABSOLUTELY CANNOT CHANGE AND STAY THE WAY YOU HAVE BEEN.

I am going to share spiritual truths on the first Wednesday of each month during 2013. We will be offering accelerated information to bring you along in this Year of Acceleration. The teachings are about the incorporation of Love into every aspect of your life—forgiving everything that is not about Love again and again.

You are so Loved and We, the Masters invite you to step into our realms to live there all of the time. It is right where you are. You are not going somewhere inaccessible. You do not have to leave those that you Love behind. You are, however, required to be patient with the fact that not everyone is achieving the revelations at the same time or in the same frame of reference.

You are so very Loved. You are being brought into whole new levels of understanding that were not available before the end of 2012. Everything is changing and you cannot stop it by saying “I do not believe that” any longer. Nothing is as it appears to be. Only by being in touch with your inner self will you find out what the next step is. Until then you may feel as though nothing is happening and that you are “stuck”. Things are moving too fast to be stuck but if you have a certain concept about how your life should, oughta, gotta, musta be working it can get frustrating when life does not comply to your wishes. Control simply works less and less well in the new energy.

We are with you, but we cannot change you. It is up to you to make the shifts and then we can be of assistance. In the Beloved changes I remain always your Faithful Servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain.
