Last month Linda Thomas mentioned how their cats love to take a “catnap” with her husband Bob. I thought I had a picture but I didn’t, so she sent me one of the pile of kitties on Bob’s lap, legs, chair. Zeus and Apollo are the orange boys and Lucky Lady is in the middle of the heap.

June proved to be a mystical, magikal month for us. On the 6th of June Dorian’s sister flew to Denver and was supposed to fly into Riverton which is our nearest airport. However, five tornados and high winds prevented her plane from taking off so she did not arrive until noon on Saturday. On Sunday, which was a cold and blustery day (it was 32 degrees when we got up) we drove up the switchbacks in Shoshone National Forest which are about fifteen miles from our house. There is a huge rock formation that looked like a Sphinx that has been looking out over the valley high up on the side of the mountain where the switchbacks swing back and forth up the mountain. We stopped to show Karen the Sphinx and look out over the valley.

There were Mule’s Ears everywhere and the other wild flowers were beautiful. Karen was only here three days and we showed her as much of our beautiful area as we could.

About ten days later we drove up the switchbacks again because the road had been closed about seven miles up when Karen was with us. As we started up the switchbacks Dorian looked up and said, “The Sphinx is gone!” The rock face of the mountain had fallen off and the face of the Sphinx was no longer there. We kept climbing up the mountain road and as we got closer to the first plateau Dorian said, “There is another face there now.” Where the face of the Sphinx had been there is now the most beautiful Native American head in profile, the head is tipped back and the eyes are looking up at the sky. It could be male or female but it is as clear as though it had been carved from the mountain. The hair flows back into the mountain and everything—brow, eyes, nose, cheek, lips, chin are clearly defined. Here is a picture that Dorian took. Unfortunately we could not find a picture of the Sphinx anywhere.

After finding this treasure we continued up the mountain to find that the gate was open so we decided to make the full drive, which is about twenty-five to thirty miles. We got up to just under ten thousand feet and ran into a snow storm that was so thick that we could not see the road where we wanted to go. We turned around and started back down the mountain. In about four miles the sky was blue, the Sun was out and you would have never known that there was a storm just a few miles away.

On the Solstice we decided to go to Red Dessert, which is about eighty-five miles away—at least a tiny corner of it is. The whole area is huge. It was amazing to drive fifteen miles off of highway 191 and see miles of great white sand dunes. We saw a formation called the Boars Tusks, which Dorian said looked like the core of a volcano. The rock formation looks like two big boars teeth standing on end in the sandy cone beneath it.

We drove to the petroglyphs, but it was too hot to walk very far. We hope to go back in the fall when it is cooler. Dorian wants to go to the “Birthing Stones” where hundreds of years of women have birthed their children. The rocks are worn with the pressure of hands and fingers digging into the rocks during birth. There are glaciers under the sand dunes in one area of the dessert and they have been there as long as anyone knows. No matter how hot the dessert gets the glaciers are there all year round. In order to really see the dessert it would require a camper and several days to spend just looking. I believe I read that the dessert is over 400 square miles just north of I-80.

These cloud pictures were taken on the trip home from the Red Dessert.

I love where we live. No matter what direction you go there is always something fun, interesting and astounding to be discovered.

On June 23 we woke up to find a mountain lion staring into our bedroom window at us. It was a young lion, not full grown, very curious about what was going on inside the house. Dorian whispered to me there is a mountain lion outside the window. I looked and it was about six feet away from our open window (nothing between us and mountain loin but the screen). I looked right into its eyes and they were just beautiful, topaz gold. I felt a true heart connection with the cat. The coat was tawny and when it stood up every muscle moved with grace. It was magikal. It took a step, as if to walk away, and then it turned back to look at us one more time. Then it walked away without making a sound. In the early light, the Sun was not up yet, but the mountain lion glowed as though it was lit by some inner source.

We looked up Mountain Lion in Animal Speaks and in the Medicine Cards. Mountain lion represents the necessity to claim ones power in a very deep way. Mountain lion is a leadership symbol, but leadership without expectation of others following. It is owning personal power in a gentle, no dominate way. It calls for the balance of strength and compassion.

St. Germain is now offering a “Personal Growth” package. Each month you can get the Teachings, Q & A and a one hour private session with St. Germain to develop your personal evolution in spirit. The cost will be $120 per month with a six month commitment which is a great deal as a one hour private session is $200 normally. Just imagine spending an hour of valueable time each month discussing anything about your growth that you wish with the Master. We have the good fortune of spending time with him regularly and it is such an up lifting experience.

Most everyone has chosen to continue with the Personal Growth as the first six months ended in June. New people are signing up. Would you like to be next?

Rainbow Center News

Our group for July is “Testing Your Power”. As we become more aligned with ourselves we might believe that the tests would stop or get easier but we are Masters and therefore the tests that we run on ourselves can be quite demanding. That is why living the Love is such an imperative. The group will be July 20th at 2 p.m. Call in is available if you would like to join us. Call Molly to get the code.

CD’s can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2014groups.html

Our Teaching with the Master for July is “Masters are Interdependent”.

We have been separated into categories by the Old Order. We have considered ourselves independent and self-sufficient or dependent/victims. In Love we are not one way or the other, but blended. Being INTERDEPEDENT means that we recognize that we cannot do everything all by ourselves nor is that necessary and we are safe to trust others in relationship so that all of our requirements and desires can be fulfilled. As we remember how to live the Love all of the time we also begin to discover that the need factor in our life diminishes. A Master’s life is extremely FUL-FILLING.

If you haven’t had the experience of the Teachings that St. Germain is offering this year they really help us to understand what is going on. It just might be worth your while to check them out. The deep healing power of the Master is there to experience again and again as you listen to the awesome wisdom that he brings. CDs are $15 for each set—Teachings or Q&A. It is $25 to call in one time or $40 for both sessions each month. Postage and handling are separate.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON-July 12

The planets have been moving us along steadily and consistently in our blending and balancing of our inner masculine and feminine. This particular Full Moon really underscores the necessity to bring greater balance in all of our relationships. Cancer-water and Capricorn—earth are both yin, receptive signs. With yin energy we are required to go within before taking action. Cancer is, especially, being brought to an understanding of deep, personal feelings that have been avoided for lifetimes. Capricorn remembers us to our personal authority—the authorship of our own life—and how to be, not just responsible, which can be a burden, but re-spons-ible (able to respond to how our life is moving at any given time).

We have been taught that “good people” do for others. We are now being reminded that true service is not just the doing, but the compassion with which we serve. When we ignore our won requirements we set ourselves up for resentment and anger about being used. It isn’t that others take advantage nearly so much as that we do not pay attention to what is asked and what is answered. When we decide that another person needs something and we proceed to fulfill that need without asking we are in disregard of their wishes, no matter how grand the deed we do is. This in turn seems like disrespect, but who is disrespecting whom. If we disregard ourselves for others we become victims to our own choices. We sacrifice ourselves for home/family/country and we feel cheated in the long run.

St. Germain always says the priority would best be God first, self second and others third because if you are not fulfilled you will live by the standard of sacrifice rather than service. The EGO has feared that if people feel satisfied they would not serve others, but serving to get something is not true service after all.

This Full Moon emphasizes the [laces where we feel torn between caring for ourselves and caring for others. Always consider within self—“if I feel empty, what will I give to another?” We must learn to recognize and honor our own boundaries. We have spent most of this year under an ongoing grand cross as this Full Moon joins Jupiter in Cancer, Pluto in Capricorn, Uranus and South Node in Aries and Mars, Ceres, Vesta and North Node in Libra. This is a clarion call from the Universe—“PROBLEMS DO NOT GO AWAY UNTIL WE ARE WILLING TO MAKE THE NECESSARY CHANGES!!!”

Mars, Ceres, Vesta and North Node are all conjoined in Libra (23-24 degrees) and trine Venus, a very rare alignment. (One of the things that I have always liked about astrology is if there is the necessity for a cosmic message it shows up in one configuration after another. Almost as though the stars are saying, “In case you missed that message here it is again and again and AGAIN.) The repetition of the message that relationships must be treated differently, the balance of feminine and masculine is imperative, we are being called to remember Love is the Divine Healer and that we are the Physicians—it shows us how important these messages are.

When we are well with our masculine we can be strong, assertive and have a sense of our Selfhood. The power of the feminine brings compassion, a true sense of supporting self and others and an excitement about where life is going—new creation. We are now called to remember that kindness is not a weakness and strength is not just about how angry we are.

Just after the Full Moon several important shifts take place that help to emphasize where we potentially are going with the changes. Jupiter moves from Cancer to Leo on the 16th of July and will remain there until August 11, 2015. This herald of expansion and Faith will burn brightly in the fiery creativity of Leo. The Baby Boomers born between 1937 and 1958 have Pluto in Leo and this progression of Jupiter through Leo now provides opportunities to become aware of one’s deepest fears and discover one’s deepest desires and why they are blocked. On July 20th, Saturn ends its four month retrograde at 17 degrees of Scorpio. This is like a green light from the Universe to proceed with what has been on hold. On July 21st Uranus begins its yearly retrograde at 17 degrees of Aries. We must now look at where we have been avoiding obstacles and remove them rather than backing up or going around them.

As the Old Order is passing there is a final push to prove that the masculine is and always will be best, strongest and most dominant. The trend of planetary movement is to the blending of masculine and feminine, not the dominance of women in the World. We require more than ever the soft, the gentle and the compassionate to bring harmony to this most conflicted planet. It is not a weakness to honor other people’s ideas, beliefs and rituals, but it requires that all will be involved. It isn’t who is right or best or mightiest, it is how we cohabit this beautiful, sentient jewel of the Universe.

NEW MOON-July 26

For quite a long time our attention has been directed toward the feminine and now we are called to look at the masculine (yang) principle. Leo is the sign that is most associated with the Sun, a symbol of consciousness. Our Sun sign is not so much who we are, as who we are becoming. It is an expression of the attributes that we wrote into our Soul script and how we choose to express those qualities in our life. Being an artist is as much an expression of the life that we live as any one aspect of that life. True creativity comes the heart, our Soul directed essence, the spark of the Divine that we carry at our core. We are creative by the very Life Force that we carry—whether it is positive or negative we create by our thoughts, passions and desires. We are co-creators with God. This New Moon calls us to remember the fire of our passion, the things that make life lovely and how each one of us personally expresses that Love in the World.

Jupiter closely joins this New Moon, expanding our sense of our place in the World—our confidence, enthusiasm and creative potential. Jupiter, by its very nature is big and joyful. It stretches our horizons and expands our inner space, also. Jupiter’s magnetic field is the largest and most powerful planetary magnetosphere in our solar system; it radiates more heat that it receives from the Sun and, under certain conditions, also transmits more radio emissions that the Sun does. The conjunction of Jupiter with this

New Moon in Leo urges us to have more Faith in ourselves, in life and in our power to make a difference at this critical time on Earth.

Shortly before this New Moon, Mercury in Cancer forms a t-square with Uranus and Pluto impressing us to “Think Differently”. Now Venus in Cancer has moved into opposition with Pluto and square to Uranus challenging us to be faithful to ourselves and live the Truth that is ours in our deepest knowing. On July 31, the Sun squares the degree of the previous solar eclipse in Taurus on April 29, encouraging us to take another giant step forward in our progress. On August 1 Venus in Cancer, Saturn in Scorpio and Chiron in Pisces form an exact grand trine shedding new light on that next step and opening new gateways of intuition to guide us.

We are being shown that when we live our dream and do what we came to do, money comes to us, doors open for us, we feel useful, that we belong and, suddenly, work seems like play. Welcome to the ongoing Dawning of the Age of Aquarius!!!

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

Dealing with Depression

Hello everyone! Summer is upon us and at least it is a little warmer. The garden is up and growing fast and I am so enjoying a yard rife with flowers.

It seems that everywhere you turn now people are experiencing depression. Sometimes they will say, ‘Oh, I lost my job and I am so depressed!’ Other times it’s that they are gaining weight or their health isn’t good. Whatever they lay the depression on, consider that it is their greater good attempting to get their attention. When one has asked for greater awareness, the limitations are pulled away. In this instance, we would use stones that would accelerate us beyond ourselves because when we are trapped in the limit we are depressed because we cannot operate in the old ways anymore. Because we have asked to know, we get the answer. It is the butterfly coming out of the chrysalis; there must be an opening or rising of the energy.

The Actinolite would aid in raising the vibratory rate of the entire being. It would be especially beneficial for the heart chakra and would allow an integration of new awareness gained and a connection with All-That-Is.

To bring greater joy into our lives, use Diopside and/or Atacamite.

As joy vibrates in the cellular structure of the physical body, Atacamite, as it is used, will bring into the physical affairs, into the daily life a greater sense of joy, delight with being and a greater sense of well-being. It would assist in sweetening the emotional nature and uplifting the heart and the mind and making the sense of joy real in this illusion. Dioptase amplifies joy. Use with Citrine to alleviate fear and bring a more delightful encounter with life. Fear is a real part of depression as we journey into the unknown.

As we begin to accelerate and open up our energy, we always require the balance the masculine and feminine energies. When we expand beyond what we have been, we require androgyny, the sacred marriage, the union of self. Blue and pink Andean Opals are ideal for creating that balance. You would use the blue Opal on the left or feminine side of the body and the pink Opal on the right or masculine side of the body for the balance.

As we allow the acceleration of energy and embrace the joy within us, we will find that the depression is just a memory. So be it!

EVERYONE IS A CHANNEL

In July of 1975, my family and I moved to Billings, MT. In September I bought a book by Mark Prophet called “St. Germain on Alchemy”. I had heard of St. Germain, but didn’t know much about him. I had always been interested in alchemy since I first read about it. One Saturday afternoon in October, I had a quiet time and I sat down with the book to read for a while. I read about St. Germain’s colors—teal, violet and pink—and realized just how important those colors had been in my life. I read about the equal armed cross and the fleur de lei. Since I was very young when I would begin to meditate or pray I would see a round stained-glass window with teal and violet roses which would resolve itself into an equal-armed cross. Then “then the screen would go blank” and I would begin to pray. It all was so familiar to me and I stopped to just take it in. I had closed my eyes and suddenly I saw a huge Violet Flame intuitively. I heard a voice both inside my head and in the room. It said, “Beloved Woman, I am your Gatekeeper and you have made a Soul agreement to be a Trance Medium for the times to come”. I had attended the Spiritualist Church and I knew what mediums did. I thought it was very interesting and I did not want to do that. I said to the voice, “I don’t do dead grandmothers and I don’t care if Jesus Christ shows up I am not letting anyone use my body! You need to find someone who will give their body away.” St. Germain laughed largely and the Flame disappeared. I thought I was losing my mind and I put the book away.

Three days later the Flame was back and the voice said, “Beloved Woman, have you made your choice?” I said that since this was about a Soul Agreement I would do it, but only if I could channeling the Highest Light that is. St. Germain said that my agreement was that the White Brotherhood would use my body in the times to come. I felt that I was ready and said so. (The EGO jumps at the chance to “do the right thing”.) Time passed—days, weeks, months. I wondered when I would begin to channel.

In 1982, John and I divorced and in 1983 I married again. In the summer of 1985 I met two men from Spokane, WA—Danny Balisteri and Munday Jones. They worked a psychic circuit and they had come to Billings to do readings. They had gone to a book store and the people gave them my name. I agreed to talk to them and they came to dinner. (My 25th class reunion was coming up and I really wanted to go. I had no idea how we would get there, but I felt that it would happen.) I agreed to sponsor them and began to call people to set up appointments. One of the women who heard about the readings came and when she heard about my desire to go to my class reunion she said that she would pay for a rental car and give me $100 to travel on. She wanted the rental deposit back, but said that I could keep the $100. Another client of mine gave me $100 and said, “Don’t use this for anything, but the class reunion”. Danny and Munday were very busy and they gave me a % of what they made. I was going to the class reunion.

Munday and Danny also told me about the Psychic fair that I mentioned last month. I called Norma Cowie who was the manager of the Fairs and signed up for all four fairs—Vancouver, B.C., Portland, OR, Calgary, Alberta and Seattle, WA. I did fairly well at the fairs as a whole, but the main thing was that I met people and made connections.

When it came time for me to go to the fair in Calgary my husband said that if I did that fair I should not come back. I went and did the fair and when I got back to Billings I moved in with the woman who had helped me to get to my class reunion. I stayed with her for about three weeks and Munday came thru town. A woman that I knew through real estate (I was a Realtor at the time) offered to allow Munday and I to do readings at her home. She had a large home and Munday worked in the basement while I did readings upstairs. People knew that we could not possibly hear each other and yet what we said validated the other one, again and again. At Thanksgiving I got on a bus and moved to Spokane. I knew a couple of people from the fair circuit and I had a place to stay. Within two days I had an apartment, a roommate to help with expenses and shortly I got a chance to be on KXLY Spokane's biggest talk radio. I was only supposed to be on for thirty minutes, but at the end of that time the station manager came and asked if I could stay for another hour. He said that they had never had anyone light up the phone lines like I did. I feel that I have led a blessed and charmed life, but the further I have gone along the way the more I have learned that when you are doing what you came to do things just fall into place.

I lived in Spokane for about a year and then a psychic reader from Calgary asked me to travel to AZ with him. We went south and so did the trip. In December of 1985, we arrived in Richmond, B.C. We stayed with some friends of his and in a month or two he got us connected with a group of psychics called "The Psychic Circle". The group traveled all over B.C. and Alberta. They had a tarot reader and astrologer in Vancouver, but they needed one for the road. I filled the bill and for the next nine months I traveled with the group. In fact, for a while I was running the group out on the road while the managers were busy at home.

Life took me into many interesting places. At the Harmonic Convergence in 1987 I went to Powell, WY to do some readings on my way to Texas to visit my mom. I worked at a store called the Dragon and Unicorn and stirred a lot of protests with my presence. Two churches in the town decided that no one of my ilk was welcome in Powell and they published an article to debunk my work. The upshot was that I had one of the best weeks of reading that I had ever had. People came from all over the area to visit the store and get a reading. It was while I was in Powell that I channeled for the first time.

The next summer I went back to Powell. I was traveling with a woman from California named Pat. Pat had had experience with channels and was helpful in the process of my becoming a channel. I did a channeling for a group at a local bank in Powell for two weeks in a row and then Linda (yes, Linda Thomas, Woman of Crystals) said that I could channel at her home. Each week I would do a public channeling and then a private channeling for the family. When I first started channeling I worked with my eyes closed. One evening in a public group St. Germain opened my eyes. There was shocked surprise from the crowd. From that point on he always worked with my eyes open. A month or so later one evening St. Germain announced that he would have me stand up and walk while he was channeling through me. I stood up and walked around.

In the fall of 1988 I began to do private sessions for people. That fall while I was living in Powell my daughter called and said that she was pregnant. She was living in FL and again I had no clue how would get to her, but I set my intentions and a client who was writing a book gave me $400 for St. Germain's help with the book. I went to visit my mother and then on to Port Richey, FL. My first granddaughter, Kayla, was born in February of 1989. I lived in FL for seven months, moved to North Carolina for a year and then on to Elkton, Virginia on the west side of the state, for four and a half years.

When I moved to FL St. Germain said "We will send Runners for you". I had no idea what he was talking about, but shortly after I got to FL I drove down to Indian Rocks Beach to a crystal store to see if they would promote for me. They did not do promotion, but they told me that there was a store up where I was living that did. The woman who owned that store told me that she would allow me to do two channelings and no more because she was a channel and she didn't want me taking her business. I had been charging $25 per person for a session and she told me that was too much, that I could only charge $10 per person. I wanted to get started so I said "yes". When I got to the store the first night I found out that she was charging $25 per person and giving me $10. Live and learn. The first week a priest came and liked what he heard. The next week he brought a room full of people. One of the men told me that I could come and do channeling sessions at his home. He connected me to a psychic center in Tampa and I did sessions there for a while. With each session someone would come and connect me to another person or place, until it dawned on me what Runners were. In fact, it was people from North Carolina who invited me to Waynesville and it was while I was there that St. Germain announced that I was moving to Waynesville. While I lived there we had our first New Year's Eve session. The house had a tiny little living room and as people arrived they kept saying we are not going to fit. We had twenty-five people for the group and we all fit. However, everyone notice that it was as though the walls kept moving out as more people came until the room accommodated everyone. Thank you, St. Germain.

Next month I will talk more about the journey of being a channel. As St. Germain says, "Ain't Nothin' what it seems" and "Being a Master is not for the faint of heart".

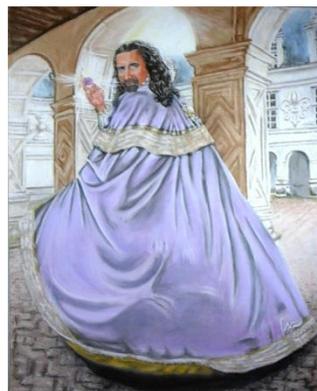

I invite questions about channeling and related subjects. Send questions to:

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Dearly Beloved Masters, the World Game has made Mastery appear to be something that can be proven to the World by a diploma or degree upon the wall, by the color of robe you wear or information that you have acquired in a school or seminary. Mastery is the process of remembering within yourself the Truth that created you, the Love that you are and the consciousness with which you interact with others in these most demanding times. Being a Master is not and never has been an indulgence in personal desires without consideration of the effect of those desires on the whole. Mastery is not about dominance and control as those energies begin to fade away as you enter the realms of higher consciousness. Mastery is completely intertwined with the Love that created you and everything in this World. The fact that there are atrocities being brought about in the name of some God brought into human form to dominate the World is a reaction to the latter days of the Old Order. Ruling the World has been the focus of the EGO throughout separation. We have said before and will say it again and again, “No one human or group of humans, even if they say they are directed by God, has the divine right to enforce or control other humans. I AM is not a punisher. Love is not divisive and God does not take sides with one part of creation against another. In fact, the more that you live in Love the more that you begin to understand how all of humanity can be blended and conflict can pass away. Love does not define things by right and wrong or good and bad. Love sees choices that bring pain, but does not judge the one who made the choice. The divine law of Karma brings balance in all things, not punishment.

The forces that are moving in the Middle East are the last vestiges of the Game of Separation. Many on the ball would still want to fight them and perpetuate the ongoing conflicts of the past. The Master Obama is listening, not only to the advice of human council but to inner directive for the highest good of all concerned. Violence is raising its head everywhere and it has been so predicted in the Master Book (Bible). Revelation is peeling away the final scraps of Illusion and bringing the planet into the frequency of Reality. Reality functions very differently than Illusion so many of you are feeling that everything is strange. Your body, your mental faculties, your emotional nature are all responding differently in the changing energy. Many are experiencing dizziness, feelings of disorientation, a sense of bi-location (feeling as though you are here and somewhere else at the same time) or even wondering who you are—really? Some are experiencing a feeling of being in a vast, empty place or of being vast themselves. The EGO responds with foreboding because it cannot control what is happening. All of these things are heralding the movement into the higher frequencies and reclaiming of Mastery. The feelings by themselves do not prove anything, but attending to the energy and finding a balance within your life help you to keep moving into a place of deeper understanding of who you are becoming in all of this. Being with yourself means being energetically connected with what is happening with you NOW and the experience of being in charge of your life and affairs in a safe and secure manner that does not depend on outside resources alone—insurance, alarms, warning devices, war or money—but the energetic security that exists within you and is always there and affective for you, no matter what.

The Old Order sought to prove rightness by outward show. The New Order seeks within to bring a balance of inner and outer affairs. The proof must be found within. The Master Book speaks of false prophets in the latter days. Each person must feel within and decide what is the way that they would go in these times, but it is not to force others to also go in that direction by control, threat or fear-based ideas. Manipulation, slanting information on what is happening, by presenting something as different from what it truly is with words, innuendos or false concepts begins to take on the energy of lying. Lies are always based on fear and will be revealed for what they are more and more quickly in the raising frequencies. The most trying situations arise when those who have been manipulating truth discover what that control brings back to self. Lies do not make one powerful in the changing energy, though there are many in high places, on all sides of each situation who are still in a place of blindness that allows them to believe that they can “get away” with inappropriate actions. It does not matter where in the World one is, on what side one stands, what religion one espouses, who one is fighting, because the ways of the World are changing and security comes with faith and safety comes with the willingness to let go of beliefs in taking sides altogether. Armageddon, the last global war, is being fought, first of all within self.

If you need to be told what to do—forgive it. If you need to tell others what to do—let it go. Each Master is required to discover and test the new truth for themselves, to prove that their choices are clear. “Tell me what to do and I will do it and be rewarded” is a quest of the Illusion that is passing away. The greatest teachers are the best students in their own class, because they are always willing to learn, grow and move forward. If the teacher refuses to change or calls you to refuse to change then consider carefully the potential outcome of stasis.

When growth stops Death sets in. Anger, fear and resistance began the process of dying because they create an acid body and acidic emotions. When the body dies it turns acidic right away and microbes and organisms designed to take care of the decaying process move in quickly to “clean up the planet”. There are many people who live in such fear, anger and conflict that they are walking around with the death process occurring within their body. They don’t quite die, but they certainly are not living WELL.

Mastery is the most joyful, peaceful, powerful life. It encompasses relationships with everyone and everything on the planet—from the most wounded tyrant to the most serene being. Mastery takes you into a place where the ancient Magik can be blended with your current life to produce even greater, more wonderful outcomes. Mastery is inclusive, Loving, clear, confident, up lifting, accepting and truthful. There is no necessity to put another person in a bad light in order to appear to be better. When you Love and trust yourself, paranoia and suspicion melt into the Love and are blended into it. Love embraces all things.

War has been a reaction of the EGO for so long that no one remembers when it was not so. The planet is being called to seek clearer, truer ways of resolution than just killing each other to prove who is right. The Book of Revelation says that the blood of the dying will run as deep in the streets of the Middle East as the shoulder of a horse. It would appear that the Taliban would seek to make that prophecy becomes a reality, but to what advantage. Vengeance has no place in Love. Retribution brings no balance, only the tipping of the scales in a different direction for a time until another ideology seeks to take control. War has no winners—everyone on the planet is losing in the battles that are being fought. The pain, suffering and financial cost are becoming insurmountable. Even if those who have hoarded their money were to now share it, the cost would still be a great burden because destruction is not where the essence of the Spirit is directing humanity to go.

YOU HAVE A CHOICE!! YOU CAN NOT MAKE THE CHOICE FOR OTHERS, ONLY FOR YOURSELF. AS YOU CHANGE, YOU CONTRIBUTE TO THE POSITIVE ONGOING OF THE WHOLE WORLD. IF YOU MUST FOLLOW THE OLD WAYS IT WILL NOT STOP THE PROGRESS. IT WILL ONLY SLOW DOWN YOUR OWN PERSONAL MOVEMENT. Where you focus your attention is what you will meet in your life. Cling to the ways of war and you will find yourself in the midst of it no matter where you live. Raise your consciousness, focus on living peacefully and you may see war, but it will not surround you or take your life.

Remember, it is not what you are saying in the World or to the World, but what you are holding within yourself that will make the difference in your outcome. Often, people will say of someone who has had a tragedy, “They are such a good person. Why would this happen to them?” The truth is what they told the World and what they believed within themselves may have been miles apart. Knowing the “right” answers won’t heal you if you don’t trust that they will serve YOUR life.

Everything is changing quickly and often choices must be made in a instant. The Bible says, “Be ready to go in a moment’s notice when the Master calls”. The implication has been that the Master is someone outside of you. The Truth is that the Master is you!! Those who have wanted to make someone else responsible for their lives will be very angry to see these words, but it does not change the fact that each one is still responsible for his or her own life. We, the Masters who have gone before, await the moment to be of assistance, but we understand that we cannot intervene without true permission. Giving permission based on fear in a moment of crisis is often not clear or real. When you really mean it from the Lord God of your Being there is a resonant frequency that cannot be falsified. “Get me out of this and I will do anything” can energetically change when the crisis is passed. I am willing to change from the core of my being is a feeling that rings true and is a promise first to self.

We Love you dearly. We desire the greatest and best outcome for all. We are not measuring lives and setting standards about who deserves and who does not. We Love all. Until we meet again, in whatever manner that may be I bid you Adieu. I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain
