

November Newsletter

We normally hold our intensive in Georgia, but since I was unable to travel this year we are holding the intensive here in Lander. It will be open for you to join by phone. The title is “Living Your Magnificent Self: A Journey of Integration”. The energy of the planets in the Heavens is contributing to major changes within and without of self. We have been told that we are small, insignificant and unworthy. The changes are bringing all of the lies of the illusion to the surface for transmutation, transformation and transcendence. St. Germain constantly reminds us of how wonderful, beautiful and amazing we are. He is bringing us another few levels along to path of accepting all that we are and integrating it into our daily lives. The intensive is November 2-3. It starts at 10:00 am MST on both days. Saturday will go until 6:00 pm and Sunday until 3:00 pm. The cost will be $300 for those who choose to join by phone. CDs will $100 for the set. You can go to the website to register. Hope to see you on the phone!

Starting in January St. Germain is going to be offering a “Personal Growth” package. Each month you can get the Teachings, Q & A and a one hour private session with St. Germain to develop your personal evolution in spirit. The cost will be $120 per month with a six month commitment which is a great deal as a one hour private session is $200 normally. Just imagine spending an hour of valueable time each month discussing anything about your growth that you wish with the Master. We have the good fortune of spending time with him regularly and it is such an up lifting experience.

If you are looking for the ideal calendar for 2014 check out the Hummingbird Calendar that Karen Singer has created. It could just be the highlight that you are looking for to brighten the New Year. They make great gifts!!!

This doe had her baby in the wonderful habitat that we have behind our home. They were enjoying the last snow that we had.

Our second picture comes from the Crystal Organic Farm in Georgia. We were not blessed with fall colors this year, but this fall scene is filled with all of the beauty I love about autumn.

Our third picture is one of our amazing Wyoming sunsets. Dorian called this a Kwan Yin sunset. This was taken at our last snow on October 11.

Our fourth picture is a reminder to live the joy every day. The beauty of the peacock is a lasting image of the glory of creation. This picture was sent to us by Linda Lube.

As I write this newsletter I am cast free again one more time. The doctor allowed me to take off the brace I was wearing to protect my thumb after the tendon surgery. We have six weeks until we leave for Hawaii. I hope to have the use of both hands for the trip.

The last snow that we had dropped four feet on our deck. We do not usually get that much snow this early in the year, but the weather patterns are changing. This has been a wet year all the way through. The forecast keeps predicting snow or rain every few days.

The response to the Personal Growth Package that St. Germain is offering starting in January has been wonderful. It is very exciting to see so many people involved in their spiritual evolution.

The government shutdown has ended, for the moment, but the conflict goes on. It would appear that there are those who love drama so much that they will drag important matters out to the last crucial moment. Winning a congressional battle seems far more important than the safety, well-being and prosperity of the constituents. President Obama desires that each person have the right to good health care. That should not be a point of conflict at all. As St. Germain pointed out in his message this month future generations are not now. People have the right to a good life today rather than each generation suffering lack in the hope that the next generation will have things better. With those who wish to see to it that there is limit today, why would they change their mind in the future, unless each individual decides to hold an intention for greater good for all as we evolve on this planet.

None of us has really gotten the most joy out of total denial or unbridled gratification. There is balance in all things. Love shows a completely different perspective that the intellect cannot seem to see. Fighting for the right to continue to live as we have leaves no room for constant improvement. No matter what the condition of current affairs there is always more and greater waiting in the next moment if we will allow it.

Rainbow Center News

Our group for November is “Adapting to the New Paradigms”. We are all noticing the changes that are occurring every day. The way that we live with those changes is accelerating to match the shifts. St. Germain is making an effort to help us see and understand what we are seeing as our evolution is progressing.

The group will be November 10, 2 p.m, at the Rainbow Center for the Humanities, 177 N. 4th in Lander.

CD's can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2013groups.html

Our November Teaching with the Master is “The Vulnerability of Freedom”. We have fought for freedom As long as any memory exists. The thing that is beginning to evidence itself now is that freedom is not just the right to do what you want to, but a gift of the Divine that allows us free will in this plane of existence. In the beauty of Love freedom takes on a whole new perspective—one in which we find that it takes vulnerability in order to fully experience freedom. Join us November 13 for the call-in.

If you haven't had the experience of the Teachings that St. Germain is offering this year they really help us to understand what is going on. It just might be worth your while to check them out. The deep healing power of the Master is there to experience again and again as you listen to the awesome wisdom that he brings. CDs are $15 for each set—Teachings or Q&A. It is $25 to call in one time or $40 for both sessions each month. Postage and handling are separate.

ASTROLOGY

NEW MOON-SOLAR ECLIPSE -NOVEMBER 3

Eclipses always mark the passage of a major phase of our lives and the opportunity to take all that we have learned into the next stage of our growth. Eclipses act very much like upgrading a computer—a lot of information that was not available to us before springs to life. Energetic matrices of the old order dissolve and the new paradigms move into place. Solar eclipses occur close to the same degree of a sign occur every 19 years. This November the solar eclipse is at 11 degrees 15 minutes of Scorpio. On November 3, 1994, there was a solar eclipse at 10 degrees 54 minutes of Scorpio. What was important in your life then? How has your direction in life changed over the years?

We often ask the question, “What is going to happen next?” We cannot see the future fully until we are willing to let go of what was. Mercury, the North Node and Saturn closely cojoin this eclipse to bring once again the ongoing message that we must face our fears, own our shadow and in that also own our power once more. Scorpio was originally represented by a serpent, a symbol long associated with wisdom and healing (as the caduceus, the emblem of physicians) and transformation (the snake of the kundalini which lies coiled at the base of the spine). Scorpio calls us to descend into our own shadow land (underworld) and release our grip on the EGOIC ways of the illusion, thus reclaiming our personal clarity and power in its purest sense. The search for the Holy Grail has long been portrayed as an outward quest to someplace in the World. The Grail waits in our own internal sanctuary for us to return home and find it.

Pluto, modern ruler of Scorpio, forms its fourth of seven squares to Uranus on November 1 at 9 degrees 25 minutes Capricorn-Aries adding greatly to the evolutionary impact of this eclipse. Each square between Uranus and Pluto signal a giant leap forward. To discover the areas in your life that are up for major change consider the three squares that have already occurred on June 24, 2011, September 19, 2012 and May 20, 2013. What have these times given you in the way of insights for your progress.

Often there is a tendency to look at astrological aspects as events standing alone, effecting that moment and then they are over and passed. Each aspect of planets in the Heavens is like a pearl on a string. The movement is like a map of happenings that move you forward along the way. One aspect energetically builds on the last one. Like the material that builds a temple, the planets energetically build the structure of our lives. A planetary configuration can happen and it may seem that nothing came out of it, however the next planet that touches the degree and minute of that aspect can be the trigger point to activate the potential in your life and/or the world.

Healing happens when we bring light to the darkness—enlightenment. The EGO guards the shadow land, where all that that has been repressed or denied lies buried, thus creating what we have deemed undesirable. The shadow keeps us prisoner to limitation, manipulation and domination. Everyone has the Archetype the Saboteur which “goes behind our back and sets us up”. Only by facing the shadow can we bring illumination into the dark, hidden side of our nature releasing us to move forward and live the happiness that is our Divine Inheritance. Whatever we reject or deny in ourselves, we tend to project onto others. How often do we see people accusing others of being guilty of the very things they do all of the time? What we resist, persists. What we disown, becomes our jailer. How often do we worry about “what they would say” and fear that we will be found out for our deepest, darkest secrets? REVELATION is here to help us let it all go!! The planets are moving in their courses to bring us to the inner recognition of our requirement to up spiral into the blending of light and dark—our own holy self.

Three planets change direction within a week of this eclipse, moving us along in the river of change. On November 6, Jupiter begins its yearly retrograde movement at 20 degrees 30 minutes Cancer, returning to direct on March 6, 2014 at 10 degrees 26 minutes Cancer and reaching 20 degrees 30 minutes of Cancer on June 1, 2014. Jupiter retrograde in Cancer brings us into close contact with our emotions through family issues—personal and/or global family. On November 10, Mercury ends its final retrograde of 2013 at 2 degrees 29 minutes Scorpio. On November 13 Neptune ends its yearly retrograde at 2 degrees 34 minutes Pisces in close trine to Mercury inspiring greater intuition and imagination, as well as assisting us to be clear and truthful about what is on our mind and heart.

At this eclipse Venus is conjunct the Galactic Center at 28 degrees 12 minutes Sagittarius, focalizing a massive download from the galactic core. This helps us to release old patterns and beliefs, especially around the position that women hold in the ongoing scheme of things. Venus shows us how to move our attention to a greater balance between intellect and Love. Mars at 11 degrees 11 minutes Virgo, closely sextiles this eclipse—trining Pluto, opposing Chiron, and quincunxing Uranus to bring about the transformation of the dark masculine.

The changes that we are now meeting demand that we discover the power of our courage. Courage allows us to recognize our fears and move forward, acting and making choices based in Love. This is not the end of the power of men, but the rise of the power of women to meet them equally. No longer will there be the dominance of one or the other, but the embrace of the sacred union within self that allows true relationship in every aspect of life.

FULL MOON-NOVEMBER 17

Scorpio is the sign that puts us in touch with our dark side, the shadow self. The Full Moon also illumines our darkness shining its light into the places that require our attention. Mercury, the North Node and Saturn join the Sun for this Full Moon at 25 degrees 26 minutes Scorpio. Scorpio, Pluto's realm, is the repository of all that we have held on to and stuffed into the subconscious mind (our hidden agendas). Scorpio deals with our "should, oughta, gotta, musta, can't, won't, don't" (parental laws), our secrets, including the ones we keep from ourselves and the shamanic realms. The high side of Scorpio, the Eagle, brings in aspects of Alchemy to transform the darkness and blend it into our light. In alchemy black represents the prima material, associated with lead and the density of our subconscious. Gold represents the purified consciousness bringing us into full awareness of our true self. Through personal experiences with our power, both positive and negative, Scorpio teaches us to face and overcome our fears, surrender the attachments to those things that no longer serve us and embrace our immortality.

The Moon falls in Taurus, Scorpio's polar opposite. Taurus is the first Earth sign and seeks a balanced relationship with nature—both attentive and compassionately objective. Ruled by Venus, Taurus teaches us about the dynamic influence of security and nature in our lives and an attention to what really makes us happy. As we develop a sense of self-worth and value, we allow ourselves to manifest our requirements and the desires of life. The South Node tells us about the lessons that we have mastered and do not need to keep learning. With the South Node conjunct the Moon we are brought to confront the shadow side of Taurus: materialism, insularity and fear of change. In every aspect of our lives we are being shown that material possessions are transient while Spirit is infinite and eternal.

The planets are bringing those of us who reside on Earth to realize that our spiritual life is now being blended into our daily affairs. This is not the tenets of the church prevailing as domination or war games, but studying the lives of the Masters (not just the Word as law, but as the essence that fills us up and makes our walk on the planet a movement toward living our Spirit in every act). Masters teach by example rather than by "do as I say, not as I do". This Full Moon touches into all that is occurring on earth in a most timely way.

Two feminine archetypes, Venus and Ceres, bring the feminine traits of intuition and nurturing to the fore. Venus, traditional ruler of Taurus, squares Uranus and cojoins Pluto bringing the energies of evolution and revolution to bear on relationships; calling for a redefining and broader awareness of integrity, cooperation and enjoyment. Ceres, named for the great Mother Goddess, is now moving through Libra, opposing Uranus and squaring Pluto. This calls us to up spiral away from the hierarchical model to equality, co-creation and blending of the masculine and feminine, as well as, between humanity and Earth. Jupiter in Cancer calls for greater respect for the feminine and Mother Nature. Jupiter remains within ten degrees of the Uranus-Pluto square from June 27, 2013 to June 13, 2014, catalyzing new principles and potentials.

On November 19, Chiron stations direct at 9 degrees 07 minutes Pisces, ending its yearly retrograde which began in June. When a planet stations, it hovers within one degree of that point for several weeks, intensifying the archetypal energies of both planet and sign involved. Chiron stations in close sextile to Pluto and semi-sextile to Uranus, supporting the discovery of viable solutions to long-standing social, political and economic issues.

We are brought before our mirrors more with each passing day. The seeds we plant dictate the fruit that will come forth. You do not reap sweet fruit from bitter seeds. Love bears Love, anger brings forth anger. What you reap tomorrow comes from what you have planted today.

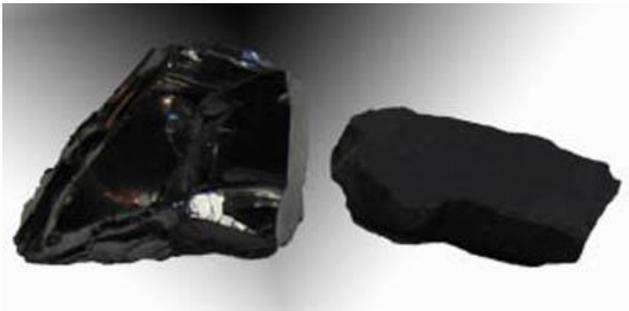

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

An Introduction to Black

Hello everyone! It is the most marvelous fall day and it looks like the calm before the storm! Such is life in the Rockies.

What does the color black mean to you and how do you feel about it? Do you steer clear of black things because of a fear of the dark and what might lurk there? Are you afraid of the dark part of yourself? I believe that at one point or another we have all been a little uneasy and avoided the unknown. I have several new stones to tell you about that I hope will help you to embrace that darkness.

Shungite is a stone from Russia and ranges in color from a flat black to a shiny darkness nearly like Galena. In these times when the raising or bringing forth of the shadow self is so prevalent on the planet, the black stones are becoming more obvious. They're stepping forward in nature because they do assist in reaching into self and getting in touch with the shadow to bring it forward so that it can be embraced by the light. This stone is, if you would, a mental suggestion. It touches into the soul but gives a mental suggestion of the fact that the shadow is not a terrible thing but a part of self that has been buried, hidden like a treasure. Very often when it is unearthed and looked at from a point of compassion and objectivity, it is recognized for something worthy rather than something to be feared.

We are seeing stones that bring up what is hidden, what is buried and the Shungite is one of those things that almost makes a mirror of the shadow side. 'Look at this. Really take a look at this. Walk around it. Look at it from all its aspects. Don't look at it onedimensionally or take from what you see from one angle that that's all there is. The stone, in and of itself, is almost like a companion on the journey into the shadow land to assist one to be able to acknowledge what is there without so much fear. Certainly the cunning of the egoic mind has taught humanity to fear anything they cannot control. This stone in many ways assists in the letting go of the need to control what you can't see, what you don't understand and simply embrace it, acknowledge it, accept it. What an amazing treasure.

In Denver, at the gem and mineral show, I was looking for the sacred Tantric Lingam stones from India. As I walked up to a booth selling the stones, my eyes were immediately drawn to these amazing BLACK Lingams. I felt so much joy when I held one and my cat did his best to claim it as his own when we got home! The black Lingam is also something that would soothe the fear of the darkness. It would show the wisdom that's buried in the deep places within self. Things that have been held in the dark are judged in other lifetimes, many lifetimes and yet now, it is to bring them forth, integrate them and be absolutely amazed what is revealed—Revelation. That part, humanity has been taught to fight and yet, as it is integrated, it brings a lot of your power back.

Traditionally, the Lingam stones have been about balancing the sexual energy. Sexuality has been so confusing for humanity. It's a power, a power that is God-given and yet it has been turned into a dreadful game. And so, this is a mender and a healer of all the issues that humanity carries around their sexuality, of the good and the bad, of the right and the wrong, the sinful or the sacred. This is a blender. When it is held in the solar plexus with the points up and down, it acts as a conductor to draw down the egoic mind to a blending with the soul. When it is held between the solar plexus and the splenic chakra, it is as though it open a book of judgments that has been held in the belly and begins to clear things. So, from heart to solar plexus, it is the drawing down of the mind to connect with spirit and from the solar plexus to the splenic chakra, it is a healing of emotions and a reconnection to your own inner mysterious wisdom. This begins to help people deal with their lineage issues.

Another stone with similar uses is the Indigo Gabro. It is about healing their lineage issues and of the healing and mending and the forgiveness of what has been accepted as throughout the lineage, passed down from generation to generation; 'That's just how it is.' The parents, feeling that they are right about it because they learned it from their parents who must have been right, pass it on to their children.' This is how it is. Don't question it. This is a sacred belief of our lineage. And the child in these times is beginning to look at that and feel into it and say, "What a crock!" As children have been wont to do for generations, the child intends to break the trend, only the children in these times are more capable of breaking those trends than any generation that has been here before. This energy is here for the healing, the peeling away of the layers and the remembering of what's under there. What's under there? Oh, my God! What's under all those layers is you! The real, unadulterated, the uncomplicated pure you! This is a magnificent healing stone and the layers may pass away without a single incident and some layers may pass away as though they were extracted with a very keen knife because some layers are far more acute than others. This assists in the ease of getting to who you are.

And so, we have some wonderful new instruments to work with on our amazing journey.

I wish for all of you a Happy Thanksgiving and a safe and prosperous holiday season.

TAROT TALK

Last month I talked about selecting your own personal totem by drawing cards from the Medicine Cards by Jamie Sam & David Carson.

This month I decided to talk about cards that are very pertinent to us at this time.

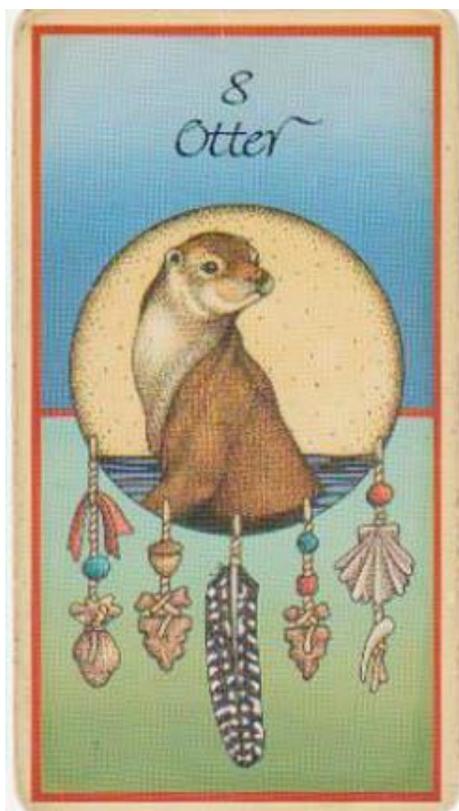

The first card is the Eagle. Not only is it the symbol of our country, but it is a messenger of our spiritual connection to the Divine. Eagle is a great teacher of how we can come to life from the new perspective by seeing things from the overview of life rather than getting caught in the limiting concepts of the world. Eagle rises up and sees the overall pattern of life guided by Great Spirit. Eagle represents a state of grace brought about by attention to personal affairs with understanding and staying the course to fulfill the tests of life that are our greatest initiations. By the experiences of life we learn to appreciate how Eagle medicine serves us.

The feathers of the Eagle are considered to be the most sacred of healing tools. Their essence has been used by shaman for centuries in all manner of healing.

The Eagle reminds us to take heart and gather courage. When you see an eagle take note of what is going on in your life that is calling for the assistance of this great bird. You may be put on notice that a spiritual test is imminent. By being present with yourself you can recognize those aspects of self—soul, personality, emotions or psyche that require bolstering or refinement.

If you have been walking in the shadows of former realities Eagle brings illumination. Eagle asks you to legalize freedom and follow the joy of your hearts desires.

As Eagle is a masculine essence the Spirit of Otter is the effervescence of woman in her greatest joy and beauty. As masculine energy is not just for men is feminine essence is for women and men. The medicine of Otter is balanced feminine energy. Otter lives on land, but always has its home near the water. At home in both elements, Otter is the personification of feminine grace and beauty.

Otter teaches us that balanced feminine energy is not jealous or catty. It is sisterhood, content to enjoy and share good fortune of others. Anchored in the understanding, that all accomplishments are worthwhile for the whole, Otter people express joy for others. Woman energy without games or control is a beautiful experience. It is the joy of loving others peoples children and their accomplishments as much as your own.

Drawing this card or seeing an otter may be reminding you to bring out your playful, childlike spirit and simply allow things to unfold in your life. Become Otter and move gently into the river of life. Flow with the waters of the Universe...this is the way of balanced female-receptive energy. Honor it! In doing so you will discover the power of woman.

We are called as a people all over the planet to live the Spirit of Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine blending within us to bring us into the remembering of the Truth of our nature. Live the courage of Eagle and the grace and joy of Otter in your daily life, CELEBRATE!

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Beloved Masters, there is a vast difference, energetically, in standing for principles and stubbornly refusing to move. There is a great fear in the land because everything is changing. There is the necessity that each person claim dominion over their own life—taking charge of their own health, wealth and happiness.

The leader of the United States has sought to offer the people of this mighty land an opportunity for all to have health care, rather than only a few. Those who have ruled by “might makes right” are afraid that if people become healthier they will not be so controllable. If people become healthier they will desire more and there would be a necessity for more equitable distribution of funds that would begin to blend upper, lower and middle class into a pool of delight and comfort—no one group saying how the majority will live their lives or seeing to it that the laws that are passed keep many from ever getting ahead.

In many ways Ayn Rand captured the trends of these times in her volume “Atlas Shrugged”. (Even a filibustering congressman mentioned this book in his discourse.) The political hierarchy had taken over the country and was bringing the whole thing down one bill, one law, one limiting idea at a time. The elite few were draining the coffers of the land and those beings who could possibly make changes chose to wait until the whole thing collapsed. The changes that are required now are not just a new group of people to step in and do the same old things, but a willingness for cooperation within the whole, operating in integrity and heart-felt pleasure in seeing everyone win. This is not about another fight. Fighting is being revealed for its futility. This is about a personal change of heart within each being on Earth. What a beautiful place this would be if each person decided to forgive their wars and seek peace within, rather than waiting for others to change. What Heaven you could have, right where you are, if you allow your Faith to lead you. A big issue on the ball right now is, “In what or in whom do you put your FAITH?” YOU WILL NOT TRUST GOD UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND HOW TRUST FEELS WITHIN YOU.

Attempting to solve the issues of the day in the same place where they started is an exercise in futility. The Master Einstein addressed this years ago—“You can never solve a problem in the same place that it started”. People are going around and around attempting to offer the same solutions that have not worked before and are far less likely to bring peaceful outcomes now. How do you feel about your life? This is no longer about changing anyone but you. The vast majority have not wanted to hear this, therefore, this is an answer that has not been considered much. If you do not make internal changes you continue to think along the same lines that you always have. Even if some of the answers that you are looking at have worked in the past, more than likely they will be less than fulfilling in the current energies. If you cannot come up with an answer for any situation immediately, don’t worry—“timing is everything”. Patience is a necessity, more than ever now.

We keep reminding you that you are Masters having a human experience rather than mere humans struggling to become Masters. You have been taught for so long that Spiritual evolution is HARD, that you look for difficulty where none would exist otherwise. In every aspect of your life look for the JOY! Joyful anticipation is not necessarily overwhelming. Joy can be quiet, still, amazing in its simplicity. Begin to look for the joy in each event of your day. If you choose to focus on misery, Dearly Beloved Masters, you will surely create it.

Let us speak of the effects of emotions on everything. People go to the doctor, many tests are made, the physical body has obvious reactions and yet the tests come back negative. The doctor finds nothing wrong physically yet the symptoms are there. The machines that examine the samples from the body do not consider the emotions. There have not been developed tests that acknowledge that emotions exist much less cause issues physically or mentally, yet they do.

Consider a computer virus or disease in the computer. There are those minds who are so invested in power trips that they will send precious hours developing contagion for computers just for the satisfaction of knowing many people will be inconvenienced. Just as there are those people who spend much time in laboratories inventing new diseases for the body, those who develop computer viruses are not considering the repercussions of the karma to themselves by what they are creating.

Remember that the human intellect and emotional system function much as a computer, therefore computers are highly responsive to human emotions. Anger, fear, impatience can cause a computer to malfunction in much the same way that you might respond if someone was reacting emotionally toward you. People get sick when the emotions go into overwhelm. Healing a computer virus can be accomplished by compassion and gentleness toward the computer. Often “mystery” viruses can be discovered when you stop fighting the issue and allow yourself to tune in to what is going on with the machine or your body. Remember that everything is a part of everything else. Healing your body, mind or emotions is similar to healing your relationship with machines, equipment or other people. Here the mind may say, "Oh, get real!" Dearly Beloved Masters, we are being very real, more real than you are used to accepting. Many science fiction tales are not so far from the truth as you might have thought. The horror stories make interesting dramas, but you are, after all Creative Masters. Computers are not going to take possession of the World unless you choose to give power to that belief. "Human computers" are not going to take over the world either though it might appear as though that could happen. The mind wants to keep things small and "safe", yet the safety that the mind clings to is an invention of the illusion. How can anyone be safe when their focus is protection against terrible things? Safety is keeping the energetic focus on living in such Love that the vibrational frequency you abide in is holding protection in its essence. YOU REALLY DO CREATE YOUR OWN REALITY!!!

Will you continue to look outside of yourself for answers or will you began to take your power back by paying attention to how you are using your creative energy. I WILL SAY THIS AGAIN!! WAR IS REVEALING ITSELF FOR THE LIMIT THAT IT IS! It dams the flow of useful thoughts, ideas and relationships. War is filled with fear and suspicion. The focus is on harm rather than healing. "Get them before they get us" is a standard of the order that is dying.

Let us speak a moment on living in NOW. There are politicians who keep bringing up future generations as an excuse to limit the good life now. They do not wish people to look too closely at how they (the politicians) are living now, but they admonish others to "tighten the belt and do without" so that future generations can live well. How long has that concept been held before the masses and the generations pass and those who chose to do without live in penury and those who chose to live well do so. Each generation creates its own way by either changing its beliefs or clinging to the beliefs that they were taught. What is happening on the planet is no one's fault!! Let I say that again. WHAT IS HAPPENING ON THE PLANET IS NO ONE'S FAULT!! Revelation was agreed on as a part of the healing once the illusion began to break apart. The old order must change. How humanity has come to view themselves is required to shift. "The flock, fighting over garbage, while ostracizing those who genuinely seek a better understanding, is a view of the illusion. Read "Jonathan Livingston Seagull". Truth never gets old. Don't read as a mental work—feel it, feel it, FEEL IT!!

From a Master's perspective everything is moving according to Divine Directive. Unconditional Love is not cruel, but it requires being clear and present in your own life now. "It is not about them. It is not about them. IT IS NOT ABOUT THEM!!" Check to see how your emotions are controlling your life. Raise your frequency and prove to yourself that shifting your focus to dwell on looking for Joy in all things, rather than woe, makes life stronger, clearer and more rewarding.

Our most sincere desire is that each and every being on Earth can reconnect to the powerful truth of who they really are. We hold that intension in Love. We clearly understand that the choices are with you and we are required to honor your free will. We see the amazing potentials available now. We Love you. And so it is, Beloved Masters, until we meet again in whatever manner that may be, I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain.
