

October Newsletter

Our pictures for the month are from our open house at the Rainbow Center. Ginger is one of our massage therapists. Maya, who does massage and sacral cranial and Nancy, our acupuncturist, were so busy all evening that we did not get a picture of them.

Shaylinn does sacral cranial blended with Reiki, Kinergetics and Energetic Rewiring. Shaylinn created the beautiful picture behind her.

The third picture is of Isa Kirk who created our beautiful picture of St. Germain that hangs in our center.

Our friend Diana Davis made her transition on September 22. She will be missed. She was a wonderful person and had great impact on many lives. She is survived by her son Forrest Weimer, her mother, Bonnie Taylor and three sisters, Dotty, Wendy and Judy.

I want to welcome a new contributor to the newsletter. Nancy Wadda is our acupuncturist at the Rainbow Center. She will be offering information and new perspectives on just how acupuncture can assist and heal in these times of crisis on the planet.

As I begin to work on the October newsletter the political conventions are over. One thing that I felt was quiet striking in both conventions was that the total focus was on Barack Obama. The Republicans spent most of their time attempting to impress everyone with President Obama's failures. Little was said to support Mitt Romney. The Democratic convention was focused on supporting the president in the ongoing of his policies and the forward motion of his creations. There was a sense of passion and spontaneity in what the Democrats said that moved people to feel good about themselves. This is where we are going and this is what we are being called from our Souls to remember—how great we are and what we are capable of bringing about if we simply keep our attention on the best, the finest and the most positive.

The old order has convinced us that the only way to promote ourselves is to put down the opposition. We are being confronted with the tatters of the illusion and what it has taught us only to discover in the midst of revelation that the power games and dedication to war have been facades to distort our reality. We live in an illusion and it is time for each one of us to discover the amazing truth of what is really there and who we are when we are not burdened by the opinions and judgments of falsity.

Rainbow Center News

Our October group will be on the 7th, at 2 p.m. at the Rainbow Center, 177 N 4th St. in Lander. The title is “Synchronicity, Allowing and Acceptance”. We are being called to notice the unusual synchronicities that we either dismiss or take for granted in our daily lives. These connections are an ever growing part of the move toward unity and harmony among all people on the planet. As we are willing to allow ourselves to be open to the many changes that are occurring, constantly receptive to what they are showing us in a whole new light, then we can accept that spirit is genuinely attempting to show us the path to higher awareness.

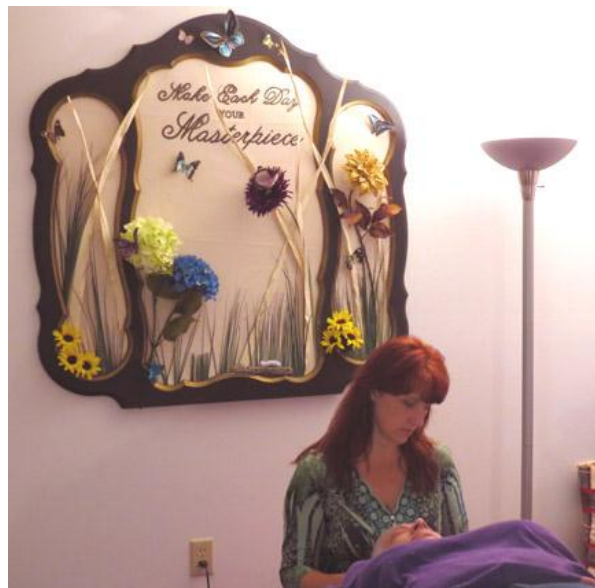

CD’s can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2012groups.html

Our October “Chats with the Inner Merlin” is titled “Defining the Darkness”. We have been indoctrinated to believe that dark is bad and light is good. This perpetuates the separation, but as we remember the Love that we are the trappings of separation are first revealed and then dispelled. Defining our darkness, personally and then allowing ourselves to release the fear of the unknown brings us to a place where dark and light are once again blended into a wondrous whole.

To order CD’s or DVD’s www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/evenings.html

Our group in Newborn, GA will be on Saturday October 27 at 7:00 p.m. The group is 3 hours and St. Germain will discuss current topics and answer questions.

The intensive is November 3, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and November 4, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. The title is “Celebration or Limitation: a Master’s Choice. Call Helen Dumba, 770 784-1060 for reservations for the group or intensive or appointments for private sessions with Molly.

ASTROLOGY

NEW MOON

The astrological energies are moving through the heavens like an amazing kaleidoscope that floods our lives with the impetus to shift away from what was and follow the stars to new goals and ideas.

This New Moon in Libra, calls for attention to how we relate to each other-- as a planet, a country and personally to one another. Libra’s evolutionary goal is that we can all see each other as equals. Peace, partnership and harmony are requirements for the establishment of what many on the planet say they desire.

For over 5,000 years the earth has labored under the elitist patriarchal rule—99% of the world’s assets are in men’s names; 70% of the world’s poor and 70% of illiterate adults are women. More than a billion people live on LESS THAN $1.25 A DAY. In the United States, the typical Caucasian household has a net worth of 14 times more than of the average African-American or Hispanic household; people of color comprise 30% of the U. S. population, but 60% of those are incarcerated. This New Moon along with the Pluto/Uranus square admonishes us to change our own consciousness about the inequality on the planet.

Libra is traditionally ruled by Venus, the divine mother. When our hearts are open we feel compassion and gratitude for the graciousness of the Universe. We recognize that we are an integral part of the whole of creation. It is being brought to our attention that competition, judgment and separatist attitudes are a part of a dying paradigm. If you look with your heart you can see the sacred uniqueness as well as the equality of each and every one on the earth.

Juno, the asteroid named after the Roman Goddess of Marriage, squares Venus, semi-squares the New Moon, conjoins Mars, squares Chiron and trines Uranus, pointing to the renewed empowerment of women and a softening that assists men to express their own feminine nature. The need to win is far less important than the requirement to heal. It is not about either gender “losing face”, but everyone realizing that he/she is wonderful and one of a kind. As we balance the relationship of our inner male and female, it leads to balanced relationships with others.

Jupiter squares Venus, exact on October 16 (Gemini/Virgo), and trines this New Moon. We are being encouraged to forgive the role playing that has controlled how the genders can be and caused fear around the gentle man and strong woman.

The New Moon is aligned with Arcturus, fourth-brightest star in the sky. Arcturus has been identified as one of several extraterrestrial groups who seeded life on this planet and continues to aid humanity’s evolution. Healing and sharing from the heart are a part of our process, of remembering that we are truly one with the cosmic heart-seed.

We are lovingly reminded that it is not, so much, to seek love, as to release all that is not about it and be willing to accept the blessings that love brings when the channel is opened.

FULL MOON

The Full Moon in Taurus on October 29 sets the mood for a fabulous Halloween time. The brilliant light of the Moon casts a dark shadow as solar flares and the outer planetary alignments bring ascension to the earth.

Scorpio forces us to face the hidden fears that control our lives because we have not wanted to look at them. We are required to release the addictive behaviors, patterns of life that we have outgrown and face the oppressive conditions that we have said we cannot live without—relationships, life styles and occupations that make us feel that we are in energetic prison. The pain in our physical and emotional bodies is an indicator of where we are resisting the changes that bring our greater good to us. The holding on is what hurts. Bring life into the dead places and allow the new good to burst forth in triumphant birth. Don’t let appearances fool you. Often there is life where there seems only to be endings.

(A friend of mine bought a plant and left it in the car on a cold, Wyoming winter night. The plant turned brown and seemed to be finished. She did not want to lose the money that she had spent on the plant so she began to treat the plant—talking to it lovingly, giving it minerals and special care. Slowly, the plant put out tiny new leaves and began to revive. She said that it was gratifying to see her attentions rewarded and now she has a beautiful, healthy plant.

Letting go was never intended to be painful, but over time we have become so fearful of “losing” that we have lost touch with when to let a thing, person or situation go. Timing is everything and when it is time things unfold into the next chapter of what life has for us.

In 2008, Pluto, the ruler of Scorpio, entered Capricorn. Pluto continues to motivate worldwide reform in all areas of finance. We must look at what money stands for and why the system that we have used for so long no longer serves the earth and her people. We can make physical changes, but until there is a fundamental understanding of what money represents on a spiritual level we will continue to have strife over “not enough”. We are being lead to global cooperation that could not have been possible before we entered the new millennium.

Scorpio relates to personal power and how we use the resources at our disposal. Saturn is conjunct the Sun in Scorpio for this Full Moon. This is a time of reckoning, restitution and reconciliation. We are required to understand what the word interdependence really means and forgive the fear of losing something of ourselves by giving up our self-imposed isolation. This Full Moon will begin to reveal where we have been duped and dominated by those who have told us that they have all of the answers and then showing that they just wanted more control over our lives. We must stop fighting those who want to give our power back to us and take responsibility for our choices in everything. Beware of those who talk of going back, as the way back is finished.

Saturn makes a grand trine to Ceres in Cancer and Neptune and Chiron in Pisces in the light of this Full Moon. We are being shown the depths of compassion, the ability to nurture and how trusting our own intuition can allow the divine feminine of our nature to enlighten us about how to relate with others. Venus in Libra opposing Uranus and squaring Pluto, calls for integrity in our relationships. Rather than manipulation and control, cooperation and inspiration emerge as we release the fear that someone else is going to tell us what to do. We have been told what to do for life times. No one can dominate our life unless we choose to allow it. "I had no choice" is a choice. It is time to get clear about where we desire our future to go and what we desire it to offer. The light of revelation is shining brighter all of the time on those who insidiously desire to lure us "back" into places that have proven to be limiting.

On November 3 the Moon moves into Cancer and forms a dynamic grand cross with Venus, Uranus and Pluto. This can bring insights that strike like lightning and we must be aware to consider the outcome of our actions before we take them. On November 6, Mercury stations retrograde at 4 degrees Sagittarius bringing its Trickster element into the open. The only other time that Mercury has stationed retrograde on a U. S. Election Day was in the 2000 Bush-Gore race, which finally fulfilled Nostradamus prediction that the president would not be elected until the twelfth month of the first year of the new millennium. That election was filled with miscounts, disenfranchisement of minority voters and rified voting machines. This election already has the element of the moneyed few attempting to buy off the election for the Republican party.

Now is the time to recognize your power and hold it in sacred trust. Bring out the best and most powerful aspects of all that you touch. Every time that you greet someone, say "hello", give a hug or shake a hand you are sharing the ever growing power of ONE. This is not "someday I will get around to it", this is NOW.

CRYSTAL CORNER

A Step Beyond

Hello everyone! As we step out on our journey, wouldn't it be great to have some tools to help us along our way? Who wouldn't love to have a stone or crystal to assist in opening to spirit or clarifying what you are feeling and hearing? Are you demanding your opening NOW? This month I will give you the information to help you on the way.

PRASIOLITE is sometimes called the green Amethyst. I'm not sure what causes the green color but it has a wonderful energy. A gem-quality PRASIOLITE has come to our attention and really amps the energy. We will discuss both the old and the new so we can see where we are going. In general, Amethyst and Aquamarine are very close in energy. The PRASIOLITE is a bonding of the two stones. It assists in opening the throat and allowing messages of a higher understanding to be brought through in a clear way. Therefore, it would not be that some other language that no one could understand would be spoken but that higher messages would become translated more easily into a language that everyone could understand. The gemmy PRASIOLITE can be so assistive in the process of allowing the intellect to connect to that spiritual depth within self. It is the element and energy of green that can open and soothe the heart by the very clarity of the stone and the nature of its frequency. This allows the opening so that the blending of mind and soul can be so much easier. It can help to activate the absorption and recognition of information that is coming into the human psyche from the divine computer. It doesn't bring enlightenment as much as it brings a sharp, clear connection so that the transmissions come through in a very clear way. No doubt! The mind does so want to distort things and this would clarify beyond the intellect.

WULFENITE would be ideal for hardcore blockage in the heart area for those who are demanding their opening rather than allowing it. The power is there and if it is not intensely opened, it can break the heart. This is for those whose will is so involved in the demand that they would be at one with Christ, that think they will be late. This creates a powerful opening.

LEMON QUARTZ is one of the newer stones I have and it is simply awesome! Because the three lower chakras have been so intellectually associated with the world, there has been a certain amount of dismissal of just how important the solar plexus chakra is to spiritual evolution. As the chakras are lightening in color, the deep intense, rather dense yellow of the solar plexus is enlightening to a very light lemon, to a crystalline energy. It's almost as though the very dense yellow was the veil that prevented the people from knowing what's really in the spiritual center or disallowing them from daring to go there. This becomes the enlightenment, the rolling of the stone from the door of the opening of the way to your inner self. It is suddenly that the inner eye becomes aware that where there seemed to be a wall there is now a path that goes into the inner self.

Traditionally, PERIDOT is associated with the Master Kuthumi and unconditional love. It bonds will, truth and unconditional love. Recently, I've come across PERIDOT crystals. Here again is a higher energy, a higher frequency form. It is almost as though if the Master Kuthumi allowed humanity to really understand how vast his essence is they would withdraw from the love and yet the stone is so soft and inviting. This gem quality PERIDOT is another point of 'bring me a higher love, help me to attune to the higher frequencies, assist me to understand who I really am.'

And isn't that a lot of what we are after? Help me to understand who I really am.

If you would like to visit with me about this information or anything at all, please feel free to contact me.

TAROT TALK

Our Tarot card for October is the Ace of Wands—Illumination. Illumination is your Magikian state of enlightenment. You hold the wand of light in your hand. The wand of Illumination holds understanding, which has no end. The search for truth brings light into the darkness. Holding the light of illumination is living in the fire of fire. Live your life to the fullest. Be open to the love that opens the heart and burns away the dross with its sacred fire. As you spread your light you have the courage to grow and expand. Share your light with others in love.

The Rune for October is Kano, Opening, Fire, a Torch.

*“Fire is Heaven’s light in its palest hue.
That firey branch burning at the heart’s center claims its kinship with the Sun.
What hid itself in shadow is clear to me now.”*
-- From the Rune Cards by Ralph Blum

This is the Rune of opening, renewed clarity that dispels the darkness that has shrouded some part of your life. You are now free to receive and to know the joy of nonattached giving.

Opening is the Rune for the morning of activities, for clear intent and focused consideration, all which are components for the start of any new endeavor. The protection offered by Kano is this: The more light you have, the better you can see what is trivial and outmoded in your own conditioning.

This can bring a mutual opening in relationships. You may be called to serve as a trigger, a timekeeper, through your awareness that the Light of understanding is once again available to you both.

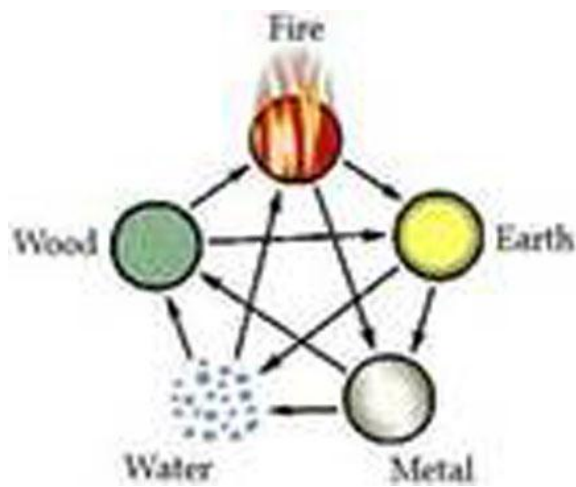

Recognize and realize that on one hand you are limited and dependent while on the other you exist at the perfect center where harmonious and beneficent forces of the Universe merge and radiate. You are the heart, the center.

If you have been operating in the dark there is now enough light to see that the patient on the operating table is you.

Opening can call for giving up gladly the old, and being prepared to live for a time empty. It calls for developing inner stability, not being seduced by the momentum of old ways while waiting for the new to become illuminated in its proper time. When this card or this Rune turns up in your reading, be prepared for new levels of self-discovery and enlightenment. Like the Magikian, in this time you must work alone. This is a period of waiting; for enlightenment to dawn, for the emptiness to fill, for you to recognize yourself in a whole new light. Be open, poised, ready and uninvolved, so that when the moment comes for movement you will be ready.

Thoughts from the 5 Element Acupuncture Corner

--By: Nancy Wadda, Acupuncturist, M.Ac.

Autumn Energy—the Metal Element

Late summer has turned to fall and the harvest is done, you will notice the leaves on the trees turning color and drifting to the ground to give the earth nourishment. So, the Energy of the fall season is slowing, daylight is shorter and the energy is preparing for the winter sleep.

The Metal Element represents Acknowledgement of the people, places and things we Value and also what we value in ourselves. This is a time to acknowledge those who are important in our lives, our creator, our ancestors, our relatives, children, and friends. Also we need to be gentle with ourselves and acknowledge those wonderful things about ourselves. As the trees let go of their leaves, we let go of things, emotions, thought patterns that no longer serve us.

Going along with nature, our body's energy also slows. We may feel more tired or want to go to bed earlier than in the summer time and this is the natural flow of the Metal Element. The pair of meridians that represent the Metal Energy are the Lung and Large Intestine. We breathe in the inspiration of the Heavens. We get rid of the things that no longer serve. For example, fall is an excellent time to have a yard sale or donate items that you no longer need.

So what are you hanging on to? Possessions or emotions, thoughts or people, if we acknowledge that they were once needed and served a purpose in our lives in the past, and then breathe them out, let them go, or as a professor of mine use to say, "Kiss it, love it, and skotch it aside."

Allow yourself the comfort of slowing down. In this era of 24 hour everything, listen to your body, mind and spirit. Go to bed a little earlier, acknowledge and love yourself, and remember that everything is a practice. To follow nature is a practice.

The emotion of the metal element is Grief and sometimes we hold onto that emotion and it gets "stuck" in our bodies erupting in physical ailments. This is why it is important to acknowledge our emotions such as grief and then let them go, knowing that we as human beings have done the best we can.

So say thank you to someone you care about, thank you to the Creator and thank you to the beauty of the autumn's gifts.

ST. GERMAIN PRESENTS

Beloved Masters, the escalation of war on the planet is making it crucial for each individual to seek within self for the Connection to the Divine that you have carried from the very beginning of creation. The Connection has remained with you in this game of separation.

We have said that only when you have a personal spiritual experience can you begin to recognize the Truth; each and every person on this ball is desiring to find peace and a sense of belonging in the security of a Supreme deity. Many believe that to die is the WAY to God. Others believe that if everyone on the planet would just see things the same way that they do the planet would become Eden again. The loyalty to the particular version of religious concept that has been dominant in the life(s) is considered as the One True Way. Where the changes are calling all to look is to that place within self where the recognition of Oneness exists for you personally—that place that assists you to FEEL your connection to every other Soul on the planet. This energy is far beyond the tenets of any religion or political persuasion in existence. The mind has feared that someone, anyone would try to force everyone to accept the same ideology all over the world. What each individual is seeking goes far beyond anything that the Mind could invent.

When you experience for yourself a mystical experience, an irrefutable connection to the Divine, no matter what name you may use to call the deity, it is something that no one can take away from you. Even under duress you still know beyond KNOWING that you had the experience. It isn't something that you were told to believe, no matter what—It is real!!! This is where everyone is being led by Spirit in these times.

If peace could be legislated you would have had peace thousands of years ago. Peace does not happen in fear or war. When you reach into yourself and find that connection to the Divine that lives within you it is miraculous. It is life altering!!! It is not and never can be found exclusively in the mental realms. You have to feel it.

The mind deals in logic. GOD IS NOT LOGICAL. When you are looking for answers and they feel logical you have stepped into the limited realms of Mind. That is how Mind works. The harder you try to find a solution the more confused you become. FEELING is not an emotional reaction. Feeling is a still quiet knowing deep inside that you are moving in the divinely appropriate direction for you. (not for you, as opposed to others, but for you.) Logic is a good tool as long as it is balanced with connection to the Oneness.

The whole planet is being called to live as the Masters that you are. Dependence—“they were supposed to do IT (make your life work) for me” or independence—“I have to do IT (force your life to work a certain way) all by myself” are illusions of the game you have been playing. Masters are Interdependent. Having the Grace to Honestly live the best life that you can in respect and appreciation of how you and others live. Forgive the fear of differences and look for where and how you are compatible with others. Where are you all saying the same thing in a different way? How does each individual desire a life that is loving, supportive, accepting, fulfilling, expansive, healthy and prosperous? If each person, religion or philosophy has a piece of the puzzle, but no one has them all then it would be to the highest good of ALL concerned to share the pieces in order for everyone to get the picture. Human nature is comprised of seven billion Souls, each one completely unique and each one desiring to be loved and accepted for themselves, without having to give up important parts of their selfhood in order to fit. The Mind cannot figure out how that loving unity could happen because that kind of universal compatibility isn't logical. The Mind simply goes back to attempting to figure out what each one has to give up in order to fit into the “mold”.

WHEN THE FOCUS IS CONSTANTLY ON WHAT YOU WILL LOSE THERE IS NO POSITIVE OUTCOME.

WHEN YOU BEGIN TO LOOK FOR WAYS TO BE HAPPY WITH YOURSELF, YOU BEGIN TO OPEN NEW PATHWAYS OF CONNECTIVE OPPORTUNITY IN YOUR BRAIN THAT HAVE NO FOUNDATION IN LOGIC.

The Mind wants to decide how you have to change to make everyone else comfortable or how everyone else must change in order to make you comfortable. Spirit shows us, from the depths of Loving desire, how to look at life, the world, other people without the filters of limitation and fear. Suddenly, YOU see the world in a whole new way. You feel, often without knowing how, that there is a way that things can be healed gently and kindly. Love is the greatest healing.

Hatred wants to move quickly. It doesn't give people time to sit quietly and consider the outcome of their actions before they take them. Hatred is a high-pressure salesman. It wants immediate reaction, immediate answers, immediate responses, because if you have a space to FEEL INTO YOURSELF Spirit will show you a direction that can achieve the desired outcome without pain or conflict. Hatred is blind and it wants to keep everyone in the same place. Love is beautifully far-sighted and it sees how the future is created here and now.

The Earth, has been a planet of warriors for so long that most cannot remember what it is like to have cooperative creation. There is a militant mind-set that wants the wars to go on. The planet has been plagued with wildfires all of this year of 2012. There are so many fires that there are not enough people, who are trained in "fighting" fires, to deal with all of them. There is so much disease on the planet that, suddenly, there are not enough doctors, trained in "fighting" disease, to heal all of the ills of the world. The military minds want to fight more, but there are so many conflicts rising up all over the planet, that it would appear that multitudes might get killed in the FIGHTING over who is right.

Logic wants to stop the fighting by having another war. YOU MUST GET SICK ENOUGH AND TIRED ENOUGH OF WAR TO STOP FIGHTING (personal wars, religious wars, political wars, wars on drugs, wars on disease, wars on poverty) AND BEGIN TO SEEK HIGHER RESOLUTION, NOW!!!

When the focus is on war, war is what you will bring about in your life. Saying you didn't want war, but fighting anyway, still creates more and more war. If you want peaches then forgive planting lemon trees. If you truly desire peace find the fertile ground within yourself to grow peace in the quiet, loving energy of compassion.

If you are doing the same things that you have always done and you are hoping for different results than in the past it becomes progressively more frustrating every day. Continuing to do the same thing and expect a different outcome is often defined as insanity.

In the midst of the madness go to the center of your being and SURRENDER—WHO, WHAT, WHERE, WHEN, HOW AND WHY?!!! When you just don't know anything else to do but surrender you are ready to begin the process of raising your vibrational frequency and bringing Love into the World. From that perspective you will see, perhaps to your amazement, just how wonderful, beautiful and willingly cooperative people can be. When you can accept that others truly desire the same type of world that you do from their own perspective, you can take a deep breath and allow the integration into safety and protection. Suspicion, paranoia and doubt will melt away in the warmth of true acceptance. FORGIVE MAKING OTHERS THE ONES WHO REJECT YOU AND BEGIN TO ACCEPT YOURSELF. ACCEPTANCE GROWS IN ACCEPTANCE!

When new ideas are presented another High-pressure salesman, called Mind says, "That won't work". "You've tried that". "Don't let them tell you what to do!! They just want to control you".

When we, the Masters, say, "Find out for yourself, feel for yourself, discover the sweetness of belonging in Love, that exists within you, for yourself" it is not about control. It is about the freedom to live your most divine self, here and now.

Feel the Love within yourself. Remember when you have felt love for an animal, a place or a person and then let that feeling fill you up. Feel it until you can think of someone or a situation that requires your Love and send Agape (unconditional love of the Oneness) to the person or situation unconditionally. Nature Loves without question so that is always a wonderful place to begin to experience the deep, abiding Love that is yours inside of you.

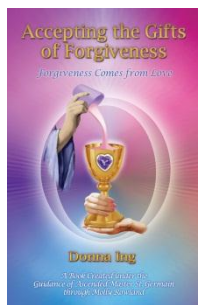

The healing that you seek is right where you are. The Love that you desire is inside of you. The Peace that the World wants will be found in surrender to Love, rather than more conflict. When there seems to be no more answers—surrender. It is the key to the next level of awareness. Open your heart and your mind to be directed to the next step. It may not be logical, but if you are willing to trust it will take you where you have been wanting to go.

We are with you. The help is waiting in the seen and the unseen realms. Have the courage “to be ready to go at a moment’s notice when the Master calls”. Now is the time and you are the only one who can make the choices for your life. I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain
