

August Newsletter

The Dog Days of summer are upon us. July 23, according to Lazaris, is the most powerful day of the year as Sirius rises over the horizon. On July 23rd we awoke to a beautiful rainbow over the mountains. This is a rare occasion as our rainbows are normally in the Southeast rather than in the Northwest. A little black cat walked by just as we spotted the rainbow. It was a rather mystical day with overcast and later rainy skies.

When ever there is a special occasion we go to the Tarot deck and draw a card or cards for the ensuing months. At the solstice I drew Death, the Hanged Man and the Tower. This freaked Dorian out a bit, but I see these cards as heralds of major change over the next six months and I have already experienced much of it. (I just got the results from my latest check up and I have now been cancer free for over a year. Yea!!!!)

On the 23rd I drew the Fool, Art and Fortune. Again, one more time, I am stepping out into the unknown, especially in my work, which keeps expanding all of the time. The evenings with St. Germain are such powerful information about our ongoing evolution.

Each group that we do on a monthly basis builds on the information from the previous one.

I am finding that most people are being very challenged in the area of creativity and many feel that it is taking far more strength to accomplish normal tasks than it used to. This is because we are being required to function in higher vibrations and the old way of pushing every thing through is meeting resistance. Fight and force are literally being stone-walled by the Universal shifts. We have been taught that if we are going to change we have to get rid of what we don't want or don't like. The more we fight the old, the more we find ourselves entangled in the webs of illusion. As we are willing to shift the focus so that we dwell on what we do want or do desire to live we make room for love and love is an essence of reconstruction and redirection. As we are willing, love takes over and lifts our minds out of the muck of separation. Love is a healer and restorer.

Many of us "older models", as St. Germain calls those over 40, are experiencing a lot of aches and pains, as well as, depression and disassociation from life. If you will simply allow yourself to merge with the unpleasant feelings, the Master that you are can make the transformation of the old, out-moded energies into brand new ideas, activities and inspirations. There is a huge difference between giving up and surrender. Surrender is a choice to live a bigger, better, more outstanding life by releasing the burdens of separation to God. As we let go, God magnifies the energy we give over and returns it to us as a creative power that is life altering.

If you have not taken part in the "I CAN" exercise give it a chance to work in your life. When your focus is on "I CAN" rather than what doesn't work, you begin to experience life transforming occurrences. "I CAN" be well, make money easily and joyfully, have a fulfilling relationship, come up with fun ideas for my life. "I CAN, I CAN, I CAN!!!" My vision board is covered with "I CAN" messages. I feel the "I CAN" energy moving in all of my affairs.

This information about cancer is most enlightening. I hope everyone will take this into consideration in any condition where the word cancer is mentioned.

ASTROLOGY

NEW MOON

The first New Moon for August occurs on the 1st of the month. Leo is the sign that associates with the Sun, heart energy and the spine that is our own internal lightning rod.

The Sun and Moon join Mercury, the South Node and Venus. This puts a lot of light on our mind, mental activities and what is going on inside our head. We are responsible for what we are thinking and this New Moon points that out. Let's get to the heart of the matter it seems to say.

This New Moon is a total Solar Eclipse. When the light of the Sun is obstructed and we experience the light of the Moon alone it causes us to think and feel differently. This is one of the reasons that some people are just much more comfortable at night than in the full light of solar energy of the day. Being fully exposed to lunar energy draws us to touch our emotions and find out how we feel. The fear of what we would do if we are emotionally revealed can cause people to act crazy in the influence of the phases of the Moon, lunacy. This is more associated with the Full Moon because the light of the Moon is so intense at that time, but a Solar Eclipse gives us the most complete exposure to the lunar energy in and of itself.

Because this is a total Eclipse it signals the readiness to make a major shift in our direction, especially in affairs of the heart—this includes “What is going on with the physical heart?”, “Is romance really what we are looking for after all? “, and “Have you abandoned your creative source in the midst of all of the crisis on the planet?”

Leo associates with love and our priorities around love, relationships, compassionate objectivity healing the heart, and the shifts and changes we encounter as we allow love to be a safe, acceptable way to live, rather than judging love as a weakness. The patriarchal society have created a law that because love is associated with the Goddess it is a flaw that can cause loss when it comes to business, politics or just winning in general. Love is the greatest strength there is, but the ego, which is a down side to Leo, holds tenaciously to the idea that if you love you become vulnerable and susceptible to being taken advantage of. Breaking these old laws takes tremendous courage and love is the fortification that can bring us through. Leaning to live the love is an imperative on the planet now.

Mercury conjunct the Sun/Moon assists in a broadening of Divine understanding. Neptune in Aquarius co-joining the North Node of the Moon helps to open the heart to a deeper sense of inspiration for new creations and a connection to Higher Awareness. This is where we begin to think/feel rather than attempting to sort everything out in our head. The South Node in Leo can assist us to release the shadow side of this sign which is greed, control and self-absorption.

The Sabian Symbol for this New Moon at 10 degrees Leo is “Early morning dew sparkles as sunlight floods the field; the exalted feeling that rises within the soul of the individual who has successfully passed through the long night which has tested the strength and faith.” This is the dawning of a new era and even more a new order on the planet.

FULL MOON

The Full Moon in Aquarius that occurs on August 16 is a total Lunar Eclipse. In many belief systems the Sun represents the left brain and masculine energy while the Moon is the feminine nature/right brain. Left brain is considered rational and reasonable while the right brain is the intuitive and less rational aspect of our thinking process. There are two words in the Greek from which the word eclipse comes. One is the word calypse (to cover) and the other is the verb eclipo (to cease existing). When the Moon moves into the shadow of the Earth for a few hours we experience the undiluted energy of the lunar source. This awakens the intuitive nature and allows the flow of creative juices in ways that do not always occur during the solar energies of the day.

(Every hour of an eclipse equals one year of influence on the lives of the human race.)

As in the New Moon Eclipse, all three of the outer planets are involved. Neptune at 23 degrees of Aquarius is co-joining the Moon and the North Node, opposing the Sun in Leo. Neptune can lift us to the heights and drop us into the pits of despair. In these times it is teaching us to better understand multi-dimensional realities. Until the Harmonic Convergence (August 1987) we had lived in a three dimensional world, but as the trine in fire opened a portal to higher aspects of reality we began to experience what Star Trek had alluded to. We truly “began to boldly go where no one had been before”, only for us it not just a physical journey to other planets and star systems. We are traveling the Universe within and accessing spiritual dimensions that had always been considered “out there” somewhere. With every phase of the Moon we are being nudged into higher dimensions. With each aspect that any planet makes we are called to investigate ourselves from a new perspective. For many people the prospect seems completely overwhelming and they attempt to “roll over and go back to sleep”. Sleep is over in the sense of spiritual awakening. We keep having alarms go off to get our attention. We must wake up and participate in where our planet is going and realize that it is up spiraling, rather than “going to Hell in a hand-basket”, as my grandmother used to say.

When we allow ourselves to integrate with those things that we have avoided, we begin to recognize the joyous, belonging aspects of life, rather than only seeing the disruptive or destructive part. Neptune assists with this integration.

Uranus, at 22 degrees of Pisces, quincunxes the Sun and semi-sextiles the Moon, bringing movement in Quantum shifts. The very nature of Uranus is disruptive to the old order of things at any given time, so it will move us out of the rut of normal affairs and cause us to experiment with new modalities, new ways of thinking and more progressive ways of coming to our lives. The doors of the past are closing behind us (with the help of Pluto), as we go to have a look at something we have never considered before.

In the past people have laughed at the wild ideas of the inventive mind. Now most everyone has their own computer and communication around the world is instant, instead of taking days or months. The motto of Uranus is “think outside the box”!

Pluto, at 29 degrees Sagittarius, is trine the Sun and sextile the Moon, showing us where we are bogged down by dead wood in our lives. Pluto, the Revealer, will be dredging up the old, out moded parts of our lives and bringing attention to the potential for new, fresh life force. One perfect example of this is an old mattress. After a while a mattress gets loaded with dead cells and becomes heavier and heavier, until we must get a new mattress rather than sleep in the energy of the dead aspects of our lives. Pluto is showing us where we must transmute the old, dead energy into new spiritual awareness.

Saturn, Mercury and Venus in Virgo, all trine Jupiter in Capricorn and Vesta in Taurus, for this Full Moon, which puts emphasis on our physical values and how we can increase our abundance by feeling good about all that we have, as we clear out what no longer serves us.

Chiron, the Wounded Healer, co-joins the North Node in Aquarius and along with the Neptune/Moon conjunction brings us new perspectives of walking the Rainbow Bridge which unites race, creed, color and nationality in order to celebrate diversity.

The Sabian Symbols for this Full Moon are for the Sun at 25 degrees Leo: "A large camel is seen crossing a vast and forbidding desert; self-sufficiency in the face of a long and exhausting adventure." For the Moon at 25 degrees Aquarius: "A butterfly with the right wing more perfectly formed; the capacity to develop the rational and fully conscious aspect of the mind ahead of normal evolution."

This is an excellent time to be in touch with your dreams, both waking and sleeping. Time spent in meditation can be very rewarding. The aspects assist in greater understanding that mind over matter only works when there is a connection to the Divine. Dominance is conflict, while dominion is the ability to call the forces of nature to respond in love. Jesus had dominion over the ocean when He stilled the tempest. He did not demand that the water be still, He asked, in love, and the love was the key to peace.

This is a time of pregnant potential for our greatest and most wonderful dreams to come true. Rise above the chaos of illusion and you will find that a whole new world awaits you in the clarity that is now being defined and refined by the planets.

THIS IS A MOST INTERESTING GROUP!

I would like to introduce you to HUB, Humanity Unites Brilliance. This is a most exciting group and the basic premise has St. Germain's signature. Check out the website: <http://Iamlife.hubhub.org> While I was in California I attended a HUB meeting. I met some truly wonderful people and was even more impressed with the project, the more I heard about it.

Non-profit organizations generally can only put about 10% of the proceeds into the field because of the instability of month to month income. HUB is a for-profit organization and puts 40 % of the monthly proceeds into the field. A wonderful doctor from Haiti, Carol Jean-Murut spoke to the group about the value of micro-loans to African women. She told us that her grandmother fed, clothed and educated herself and her sister with a micro-loan that was provided by a friend. This friend put a $25 deposit at the general store and Carol's grandmother would purchase $25 worth of fabric, make clothing, sell it at the local market and then pay off the loan and buy $25 more of cloth to repeat the process.

We, here in the U.S. can hardly fathom that a mere $25 could make such a difference, but in other countries it can help a woman start a business. The food, water and education that the monthly gift to HUB provides are just the beginning. The assistance in getting a business started so that the people can become more self-sufficient is such a blessing. In return for the monthly donation you have access to knowledgeable people who can give you guidance and direction for getting your own business moving in a more positive direction.

If you would like to join the HUB group, give me a call and I will sign you up. 307 335-8113

TAROT TALK

This is a new feature that we are adding this month. The card that we have picked to begin with is the card associated with Leo. It is the Strength card. In old tarot decks strength is depicted as a young girl holding open the jaws of a lion. This was to often the understanding strength is not just brute force, but that gentleness and virtue are both aspects of strength that often get overlooked.

As the Goddess energy is emerging to balance the masculine way the truth of this perspective of strength becomes clearer and more applicable than ever before.

The lion of Leo is strong hearted and has leadership abilities because of its strength that can come from love. There has been some controversy over whether the strength card is number eight for power or number eleven which is the number of divine partnership. Eleven is a Master number and therefore brings out the qualities of the union between self and Higher Self. Certainly, the love aspects and focus on the heart could apply in either case.

I suggest that people get to know their tarot cards. Getting a new deck is a bit like bringing 78 new people into your life and it is good to know what they are about and what messages they can bring you.

Whether you have a new deck or one that you have worked with if you haven't taken the time to get to know these people it is a good idea to do so. Perhaps, you could sleep with the deck under your pillow for three nights to see what your deck will tell you about itself and/or you. If you get disturbing messages it does not mean that the deck is a bad or evil deck, but that it is connecting so deeply with your subconscious that it is getting in contact with hidden agendas that require to be addressed.

Silk is a wonderful protector for your deck of tarot cards as silk is known to have protective properties that keep the energy of the deck clear. Choosing the piece of silk for your own deck is as personal and unique as you are.

Yellow relates to the mind, while blue is peaceful and purple draws in higher realms of assistance. You might be drawn to green for growth or gold to enhance the Divine.

You might want to draw a single card each night before you go to sleep. Place it under you pillow and keep a tablet and pen by your bed to make notes on what you dream or any messages that you receive. Some people like to draw a card each morning to set the tone of the day. The most important point is to get to know and understand your cards based on your own personal symbols. The interpretation may come from a book, but it is still a good idea to feel into the card and see what it has for you. You may find that you feel something totally different about certain cards than the description that the books give you.

I have found many people who are afraid of the cards, probably because of misuse in past lives. The cards are a bit like codes used to access information on the Universal computer. The cards drawn for or by one person will often tell you something entirely different than the same card drawn for someone else. The cards, in and of themselves, are tools for divining how the energies are working in the life right now. As we move toward the end of the Mayan calendar, fortune telling will become progressively more difficult because most of it depended on the persons belief in what the prognosticator told them. As the illusions end we will be much more aware of our capabilities to create our own future rather than having it lined out by someone else. The cry of the parental order has been "Tell me what to do and I will do it". The future we now approach is not based solely on the rewards of performing tasks to the satisfaction of another and getting the proverbial gold star. Thus, the fear of giving ones power away to another through the cards becomes less and less a factor.

The Tarot is one of many wonderful tools with which to access your inner self. There is no one tool that is better than another. However, there are tools that will work for you, personally, better than they will for someone else. You may also find that as you progress in your spiritual development, tools that served you well at one point may not be of assistance any longer. Change is the one factor we can always count on.

If anyone is interested in having a tarot reading, I would be most happy to assist you in defining your potentials for your future.

CRYSTAL CORNER

Greetings to all of you and I hope you are having a wonderful summer. It seems I can always find something to occupy my time!

This month I have decided to relate some information on the metals we can use in our ongoing. Pyrite, or fool's gold, is the primary stone I use for cleansing the stones and crystals. This was given to me by the Masters to cleanse and recharge the crystals when that requires to be done quickly. Most books on crystal healing recommend that you use salt or salt water to cleanse your crystals. While this would work, you run the risk of damage to the stones. St. Germain told me that we might sit in Epsom salt water and be okay, even though we are a crystalline structure, because we have the flesh for protection. The crystals have no such protection and might be scratched or etched and so damaged.

When using the Pyrite method of cleansing, hold your stone or crystal under running tepid water from the tap to remove most of the contamination. Make a solution of small pyrite granules and pure water in a container with a lid. I use a quart size or larger plastic container and four ounces of pyrite. Rinse the pyrite several times before adding the pure water. After the stone is washed, swish it back and forth in the pyrite solution several times and then dry it. It is ready to use again. Do not leave the stone in the solution! Beyond its use as a cleanser, pyrite could be called a stone that would help separate the wheat from the chaff, that type of filtering process that would allow you to define what would be called the spiritual gifts or higher levels of awareness from trivia or intellectual trash. This works as a definitive tool of clarifying the difference where judgment has taken over and blurred the edges and caused a distortion that makes the entities angry with themselves or fearful of their creations or judgmental of other people or things in their lives. And so, it really does help to some extent to transmute judgment.

Copper is a protection. It has a grounding energy-not like hematite, onyx or obsidian-but an earthiness to it that gives a grounding energy. It would not, perhaps, be as powerful for healing pain as malachite but it would help with pain, especially arthritic pain. It helps to balance the minerals of the body. It works to a certain extent with enzymes and hormones in that it is an organizer. If there is a deficiency of copper in the body, then it is as though the liver does not get things organized as well. If there is too much copper, then there can be a taste of bitterness in the mouth and a tendency to be over-abundant in the necessity for control. So, the balance of copper in the system is really quite important.

Until next month, enjoy love, light and laughter!

THIS IS A TRUE STORY!

This is an amazing and totally heart warming vignette. This is truly an act of greatest love.

The media is full of so much garbage any more, but then there is this. "Have your Kleenex ready, this will open your eyes to LOVE!!!!!"

A son asked his father, 'Dad, will you take part in a marathon with me?' The father who, despite having a heart condition, says 'Yes'.

They went on to complete the marathon together. Father and son went on to join other marathons, the father always saying 'Yes' to his son's request of going through the race together.

One day, the son asked his father, 'Dad, let's join the Ironman together.' To which, his father said 'Yes' too. For those who don't know, Ironman is the toughest triathlon ever. The race encompasses three endurance events of a 2.4 mile (3.86 kilometer) ocean swim, followed by a 112 mile (180.2 kilometer) bike ride, and ending with a 26.2 mile (42.195 kilometer) marathon along the coast of the Big Island.

Father and son went on to complete the race together. View this race at.....
