

December Newsletter

Our pictures this time are of the Crystal Organic Farm in Newborn, Georgia. I am attempting to get Dorian to do a slide show of all the wonderful pictures that she made on the trip. There are some amazing shots.

Merry Christmas! Here it is the end of the year again one more time and I am amazed at fast this year has gone. I hope that everyone is dealing with the stresses of the holidays in fine form. My intension is the greatest and best holiday time for everyone—lots of love, fun and fulfillment.

We have had well over twenty inches of snow so far this year. We had fourteen inches before Dorian left Wyoming to meet me in the east Nov 3. We had about seven inches on the last day of November along with several small snows. I love the beauty of the snow and the fact that we will, most likely have a white Christmas. We got purple lights for our Christmas tree this year. Do you know how difficult it is to find purple lights? I think everyone in the U.S. must have bought them. We went everywhere in Lander and Riverton and then Dorian went on line and we had two misses before we finally found a place that would ship them to us.

I enjoyed my trip east a lot and made it through with flying colors. The 11-11-11 event was a big success and the Crystal Visions was an excellent place for the channeling. CD's are now available of the 11-11-11 event for anyone who might wish to hear what St. Germain said about these times.

Just imagine, Solstice is only three weeks away. The days are certainly dark by 4:30 in the afternoon. It feels so late and it is still afternoon.

Our next big event is New Year's Eve as St. Germain brings in The Year of Readiness. We have prepared and NOW is the reality check, "Are we truly ready for the changes that are happening?" Everyone is welcome to join us in person or in spirit. At some point in time we hold an intension that we can get high speed internet at our home so that we can do streaming events. CD's will be available for $25 which includes the evening with St. Germain and the Meditation with Lord Michael, Jesus and St. Germain.

Rainbow Center News

Our December channeling will be on the 18th. The title is "Leaping into the Unknown". As we step into the energy of the most changing times the planet has ever seen St. Germain is taking every opportunity to guide us into the flow of new and unknown good. The "gloom and doomers" are beating their drums of woe and sorrow at every turn. St. Germain says, "We desire to be heard not above the din, but beyond it. You are loved beyond imagining. Let it in." The channeling will be at the Rainbow Center for the Humanities, 177 N. 4th in Lander.

CD's can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2011groups.html

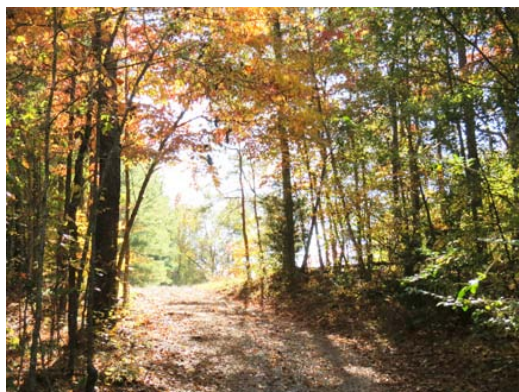

St. Germain brings the twelfth of our "Personal Magik" series "The Philosopher's Stone-Living Your Immortality".

Both CD's and DVD's of the first six parts of the series are available. If you purchase the set of six

“Personal magik” CD’s or DVD’s you will get the sixth one free. The whole set of twelve will be available for Christmas presents. This is a gift of the greatest magnitude

To order CD’s or DVD’s

Our New Year’s Eve event will be December 31, 2011 at our home here in Lander. The event will start at 8 p.m. with a channeling by St. Germain. There will be a pot luck supper at midnight and then a meditation with Jesus, Lord Michael and St. Germain. Everyone is invited. The evening is $55 and CD’s will be available for $25.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON

The Full Moon of December is a Lunar Eclipse in Gemini. This axis of Sun in Sagittarius and Moon in Gemini focus on our communication and how we relate in our world. The increase in radiation from the Galactic Center into our atmosphere is bringing increased opportunities to evolve beyond the old habits and limitations that have been imposed on relationships. Everywhere we look there is new emphasis on the quality of relationships, especially for healthy relationships among boys and men. Old paradigms are being revealed as faulty. It is necessary for new pathways of consciousness to be opened that go into higher dimensions and access matrixes supporting new consciousness and form.

Eclipses always emphasize major turning points and opportunities for advancement along our evolutionary journey. The inner eye is developing and becoming stronger so that we see things in a different light. This Full Moon Eclipse points out our views and assumptions about reality. We have come a long way from the place where the belief systems of the planet encompassed the acceptance that the earth was flat and the center of the Universe. Now quantum and galactic dimensions show us things that are far beyond the range of our five senses. Niels Bohr, one of the most influential scientists of the 20th century, acknowledged: “Anyone who is not shocked by quantum theory has not understood it.” What rocks the beliefs of the old order is that in quantum fact there is no objective reality; the observer shapes what is observed. This has always been the case, but until recently the outer focus of the 3rd dimension has prevented the possibility that each person really does create his or her own reality. The is the expression, “I will believe it when I see it”, but really the reverse is true: “I will see it when I believe it.”

Uranus, the planet most associated with extreme change and revolutionary ideas, ends its yearly retrograde just hours before this eclipse peaks. Known as the Awakener and the cosmic Wild Card, Uranus stationed retrograde on July 9 at 4 degrees Aries and will again reach that degree on March 25, 2012. mercury, the lower octave of Uranus and the traditional ruler of Gemini, began its third retrograde phase of the year on the day before the November 24 solar eclipse; its turns direct on December 13, just after this lunar eclipse. This retrograde doubles Mercury’s stay in Sagittarius, from November 2, 2011 to January 8, 2012, thus, giving us extra time to examine our options and think further “outside of the box”.

Full Moon meditations are especially potent, as is working with Celestite, the sky-blue crystal associated with facilitating higher consciousness and co-creation with celestial realms.

We are being urged at this time to release the hold on the past and seek to believe in a better future right where we are. This lunar eclipse shows us: “science cannot solve the ultimate mystery of nature. And that is because, in the last analysis, we ourselves are part of nature and therefore part of the mystery that we are attempting to solve.” (Max Planck)

NEW MOON

December’s New Moon ushers in the Christmas holiday, as it falls on Christmas Eve. This is one of the yearly times when the renewal of life and rebirth are traditionally celebrated. In Egypt, the mother goddess Isis gave birth to Horus, the Sun God, on the winter solstice. Apollo, the Greek sun God, was honored at this time, as was Mithra, the Persian God of Light. In ancient Rome, December 25, marked the end of Saturnalia, a seven-day festival in which banquets were held, gifts exchanged, business and warfare postponed, and slaves temporarily freed. In modern times, Christmas—as well as Kwanzaa, a weeklong celebration of African-American heritage and culture—continues the ancient tradition of feasts, gifts and candle-lighting as a rekindling of our faith and connectedness.

This New Moon in Capricorn encourages us to reexamine our traditions and fundamental way of life. The mountain goat climbs to the heights to view the next goal. From this elevated perspective we can reach for the next step in our soul’s journey. We are now being called to grow beyond our conditioning that we have received from birth: Parents, education, culture, religion, country and mass media all programmed to show us how we must act and present ourselves to the world, as well as, who we think we are and what we must believe, which determines what we can do in the world. Capricorn and its ruling planet, Saturn, urge us to find our own internal authority, be our own decider of what is real, what is right and true and how to be responsible rather than responsible.

All the outer planets influence this New Moon, emphasizing our readiness for making a giant leap into our own inner space. Uranus at 1 degree Aries forms the closest aspect, a square, which can assist us to detach from outer pressures and reconnect with our inner truth. Uranus represents liberty and individuality—the ability to see through deception and stay our own course. It brings the energy to question, experiment and remember that each one of us is a wholly Divine, unique and creative being. Uranus in Aries just redoubles the message to WAKE UP and live the Truth of our Spirit.

Jupiter, the archetype of faith and meaning, forms the next closest aspect to this New Moon. At 0 degrees 22 minutes Taurus, Jupiter trines the Sun, Moon, and Pluto. This can expand our sense of generosity and tolerance as well as inspire new perspectives and potential reforms. The optimistic and exploratory nature of Jupiter is underscored by its station to go direct on the day after the New Moon. This give a two thumbs up to projects that have been under renovation and required re-visioning since the King of the Gods turned retrograde on August 30. Jupiter’s shadow point, when it again reaches 10 degrees 21 minutes Taurus, is March 17, 2012. Saturn, at 28 degrees Libra opposes Jupiter and trines Neptune at 29 degrees Aquarius, making it easier for us to see how we are all part of the web of life, it opens the channels of communication to bring about collaboration with allies.

Pluto conjuncts with the New Moon, intensifying the ongoing cosmic message to radically transform whatever is unsustainable and not in the best interests of all concerned. In Capricorn since 2008, Pluto has been revealing the true costs of economic, political and social systems that are based on materialism, hierarchy and polarization. Pluto draws the line creating our evolutionary edge, where we must face the shadow in order to return to the light. This mythic God of the Underworld confronts us with all that has been suppressed, in order to ascend from duality and domination to a unified, heart-centered world. Pluto in Capricorn teaches us that we create with every thought, word and deed—that our life reflects our choices and that whatever is falling away is making way for something new to emerge. As the Sun approaches its yearly conjunction with Pluto on December 28, what must change becomes blatantly clear.

This New Moon reminds us: One thing that comes out in myths is that at the bottom of the abyss, like a treasure, comes the recognition of what is required for overcoming. The mid-night hour is when the true message of transformation is revealed. The light awaits us in the darkest moment.

CRYSTAL CORNER

Hello and happy holidays to all of you! Here we are at the close of another year, enjoying all the emotions and physical challenges inherent in the great shift in consciousness. If I didn’t know I begged to be here through this shift, I would be tempted to complain! Maybe I do that sometimes! So many of us have been working diligently to be here, in these times, for the ‘graduation’. Many of the stones I’ve talked about in previous columns have dealt with this ascension process. And we are so, so close. Keep your center and use a bit of Lepidolite to ease the stress that comes your way.

Beginning on November 22nd, we moved into the sign of the archer, Sagittarius. The main birthstone for this sign is the Topaz. It is a soother of fears and don't we have a lot of them! Sagittarius in particular ventures into the unknown much more often than many of the other signs. Topaz acts as a guide to that unknown place and deals with the fears of the journey. It also brings many good things into your life such as joy and generosity. And, it will most assuredly teach you to be a human being and not a human doing! The blue Topaz will show you where you have strayed from the path.

An alternate birthstone is the Turquoise. This will also offer protection on your journey and attunes you to spiritual realms. It stabilizes energies and brings the body into an understanding of why things have been created. Turquoise will aide in the understanding that you have all of the answers within.

Labradorite is an excellent stone for you to work with. It can take you into yourself, stimulating your intuition. It is also a peacemaker and lays to rest warlike issues. Gaze into the Labradorite to access the answers to your many questions as it is a stone of esoteric knowledge and initiation into the mysteries. If you have an abundance of energy in the solar plexus and the throat, this will help to clear that away.

Another of your astrological birthstones is the Peridot. This is about unconditional love. You love, no matter the condition. It bonds the will, truth and unconditional love.

If you would like more information on the birthstones, look for Judy Hall's book "The Crystal Zodiac". There is also a lot of interesting information on my website. Check it out!

Eternal Ice Healing Center will be doing an open house on Dec. 2nd and 3rd. It will be marvelous fun and we will have healers on hand for appointments and to visit with. Hope you can join us.

Happy Holidays and Happy New Year!

TAROT TALK

Last month I said that I would give you my favorite layout. I use the horoscope because it is so thorough. I decided to do a reading on the economy of the United States for the subject of this layout.

The circle begins in the east which is center left. In this reading the first house is the Chariot. The first house is always the nature of the situation. It is the house of self expression in the horoscope. It is how we present ourselves to the world.

I also notice that there are five of the Major Arcana cards which tells me that the situation has Universal connotations. When there are five or more of the Major Arcana in a reading things are preparing to move in a big way. Nothing can remain the same.

The Chariot is a card of waiting. The Chariot is drawn by two horses that represent personal will—positive and negative choices. When the will is aligned with Divine Will the horses move along together. When there is conflict the horses pull in opposite directions and it unsets the Chariot. This shows how everyone is waiting, not too patiently for change and how the opposing forces in the Capital are causing the period of waiting to be extended which upsets the balance of finances in the U. S. It also indicates potential upsets that have emerged from the European money markets that keep pulling the economy of the world out of alignment.

The second card is the Hierophant. This card refers to societal judgment. The second house in the horoscope is about finances and value—personal worth, not only where money is concerned, but how we value ourselves. A big issue that is emerging now is that we as a society have come to place our worth on our money—how much or how little we have. It is wise not to spend money that we do not have, but we have been lured into the buy now/pay later consciousness for over eighty years now. The Hierophant represents the law of life-mastery. We have reduced its wisdom to the limited judgments of the courts (man's law) that represent the banks and therefore never have the best interest of the people at heart. We are being forced by the shifts on the planet to change our modus operandi and discover that we have been going about manifesting backward. You don't go out and get what you don't have and bring it home. You get clear what you desire and seek to let what already exists for you to become a part of the affairs of your life. This requires understanding the laws of life-Mastery. All we are seeing at this time is the brutal limits produces by those whose primary focus is on not enough and how to keep what is mine even if others suffer. The changes of consciousness make it an imperative to consider the good of the whole, rather than just "me and mine". THEY are us. The third house of the horoscope deals with how we think and communication. It is the first house of relationship. Here we have the seven of cups—Fear. This is an obvious commentary on where the collective mind is focused. What is going to happen if things don't change quickly? What is going to happen if they do change? Each person is required to come to the awareness within themselves that if you wait long enough things change. The Mind says, "I know that". However, recognizing that where things are going while you are waiting is directed by what you are thinking all of the time you are waiting. Remember, "Fear is a little death. Fear is a mind killer. When you allow Fear to pass through you and about you like the wind, you may turn to see Fear's path and only you remain." -from the book, Dune.

So the card tells us that fear is an immobilizing factor that is holding the economy for ransom. The fourth house of the horoscope is the house of home—the house you live in, but also the body—the home of the Soul. This house associates with parental authority—especially the Mother. Since the United States is a Cancer nation and Cancer is the natural sign of the fourth house we are seeing the importance of the female workers being shown the same respect and value as men have had for so long. Single parents are struggling to get along on one paycheck. The housing market is struggling. Here in this house we have a ray of hope. The Sun falls in the fourth house. This bespeaks good things emerging for families, the housing market and for the U. S. in general. The Sun is like a benediction on the affairs involved in the reading.

The fifth house is about love, children and creativity. It is the place one would look in the horoscope to find out how well we would do with risk taking or gambles. We have the five of cups—disappointment here. Fives always indicate change. When there is five energy things will change—the question is which way will they go? We have a lot of Minds that are stuck in doing things the way they have been done for centuries. Change is inevitable. Yet these forces are attempting to prevent anything from moving, especially where finances are concerned. There is talk about the importance of children and family, but no willing to care for any one but their own. Revelation is bringing out new cruelties every day that have been perpetuated by those who want to keep the finances of the country status quo. It appears that they believe that if they can hold the finances of the country in limbo people will just give in as they always have. Too many revelations have come and too many people are beginning to wake up for these antiquated tactics to work. The Aquarian Age is about unity and harmony for the good of all concerned. That means for everyone and not a chosen few.

The Sun is a wonderful card and holds a tremendous amount of power, but it is closed in on both sides by emotional issues—cups are water and represent the emotions.

The sixth house of the horoscope is the house of work and service. It deals with healing and health issues. Here we have Devil's Play—the Capricorn card. Pluto, the great Revealer and Transformer is transiting Capricorn and has been for the last three years. It is moving through this sign that represents the old order and cleaning house. When Pluto closes a door in your life there is no handle on your side, which means NO GOING BACK TO THE WAY THINGS WERE. The healing is new perspective. We have elected servants who are now attempting be our masters. Fighting them will accomplish nothing. We must get clear within ourselves what we truly desire rather wanting someone else to make thing ok by their standards.

The first six cards are a commentary on what is occurring and where it is stuck. The second set of seven cards speaks to cooperation and how we can make movement.

The Seventh house of the zodiac is about partnering. It deals with getting along with others, justice and fairness and the laws of man. The Man of worlds is the Achiever. He is a man of power, but the power that he has carried is changing and he can no longer wield his power like a weapon. True power is an internal understanding of “who I AM”. WE exist in a world of many different people. The financial crisis is of concern to all. This is not just about pulling in and trying to get all of the money for ourselves. This requires global consciousness. As we are seeing the European market has a lot of influence on how the money flows in the U. S. Cooperation is not just necessary, it is imperative.

The eighth house deals with issues of power—sex, death and money are all power issues. Our Spiritual values are examined here and how we share goods and values in partnership. The Priestess is the guardian of the Mysteries. She holds the unrevealed future behind the veil. The veil is suspended between two columns which represent opposites. She is still and wise in that stillness. The admonition of the Bible, “Be still and know that I AM God”, shows that in the inner quietness we find peace. This is the house of shared money. Can we be still within, stop the clamoring for outward outcomes and find the personal answers within ourselves. This is not about what is out there and it is not just about them. Wanting things to change without wanting to change ourselves has been the hang up that has brought us to this impasse. Faith is a big element of the Priestess because it is that inner knowing that all is well when there is no tangible proof.

The ninth house is foreign affairs. It is education on a higher level—college, university or spiritual. Here we have the three of Wands—Compassion. We notice that there is a tendency to want to fix everything by throwing money at it. Sexual misconduct—give a million and a half dollars to investigate why this happened and prevent it in the future. If the focus is kept on THEM then WE can keep doing what we have always done. The country doesn't have the money to maintain its government, but there is plenty to aid other countries because it would look bad if we didn't help. The insanity of talking about compassion but not clearly being compassionate with our own people is being revealed everywhere. The politicians look over the top of the people of this country and producing money out of a hat to maintain our “image” at all costs. We must gain balance in what is going on and stop attempting to care for the whole world before we heal our own economy.

The tenth house is about our credibility in the world. We have the Man of Crystals—the Inventor. In a world that is solution oriented the Man of Crystals comes up with inventive problem solving. The issue is that the Mind has reached the limits of what it knows and it keeps going back to what was. Pluto is moving very fast to assure that there is no “back” to go to. We are being forced to look outside of the hackneyed solutions that no longer serve anyone in the world—even those who have made their money without integrity. The Crystal clarity of this card is revealing everywhere that there are continued attempts to muddy the waters one more time. It is no longer how we appear, but who we really are in world affairs that matters.

The eleventh house is the house of goals—hopes, dreams, desires and wishes. It also defines our friends. The eight of Wands calls for change. What are our goals and are they worthy of continuation? Are we the kind of friends that deserve good friends in return?

The cunning and guile of the world game are showing up everywhere. Being more underhanded than others just will not help us to achieve our financial stability. Things are changing and it is important for everyone to take notice. Struggling for survival is a part of the past that is moving away. We are required to live within ourselves and discover what we truly wish for—then bring it to fruition.

The twelfth house is about karmic patterns. It is the hidden aspects of the issue and it deals with unconscious and subconscious patterns. The two of Wands directs us to discover the purity of our purposes and bring balance into our world through being true to ourselves. This concept is not based on me first, but on “how I feel if I am always left out for the good of others”. The teaching we have had have all been about looking outside of ourselves to obtain good. “They have the good and we have to do what ever we can to get it”. When we discover our own internal purity, we anchor within and live a totally different way. We call our good to be with us and live as though the good is already ours, rather something that we do not have and must get any way we can. This country was created by visionaries and it is time to recover the purity of those visions.

The binder card in the center of the reading is the six of Wands—Trust. The binder card defines what the reading is saying—a summation, if you would. Everything that we see going on in our own government and around the world is basically about trust issues. We cannot trust anyone else until we find how to be trustworthy for our selves. I look to the next card down in the center stack and it is the ten of Wands. The United States is a light to the world. It is certainly not the time to dim that light, but we will not keep it bright by buying our image. We will achieve what we deserve—both money and authority—by being worthy of it. The third card down is Fortune. We are only a few steps away from having a better economy than ever, but everyone is required to change his or her own perspective. We are being show everywhere that we create our own reality. If you focus on what is wrong and getting rid of it, all you can see is faults and flaws. What do you want? What do you desire? Put you attention on that, not on how much you need it, but allowing it to manifest now.

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Beloved Masters, let us speak of the power of positive thinking. The phrase “The power of positive thinking” implies that the mind controls the events of your life. Just wanting something to be so does not bring about important changes in your life.

So we wish to present you with some basic principles of Mastery that have always been with you, but you have been educated to relegate them into the realms of fairy tales and mythology.

The mind is a generator. It creates thought (energy form) which in turn manifests as physical form (the world you live in). Because of separation from the Truth of your real self you have decided that you are not smart enough to create something wonderful so most humans have gradually settled for less and less. This Mind generator is fueled by a product of separation called fear which is a most unstable fuel. Often, in mythology when a monster is slayed, by having its HEAD cut off, it does not die but produces twice or three times as many heads as before. The mind multiplies thought. The Mind generator, that has been the creative director for the game of separation, has become antiquated. It has reached the peak of its potential because the energies of the planet are shifting so rapidly and separation is coming to an end. The thoughts that the old generators are creating are simply going around and around in circles. Fear wants to destroy competition and the thoughts and ideas about competition multiply. Fear increases and the generators (the minds of each and every human being) are beginning to overload.

The Truth of where the planet will now go has always been with you. It has been told to children in fairy tales because the mind of a child is so receptive that there was the underlying hope that the children could remember the way things were before separation began. But the Mind also taught the children that fairy tales and mythology were for babies or the delusional and so when you reach a certain age you become too mature for such ridiculous ideas. The “mysteries” have been pursued by power hungry minds with the intention of taking over the world with those concepts. Yet the ideas either didn't work or the great control game fell apart as other minds came up with bigger and better control. Things have escalated throughout time until now when the TOWER OF BABLE effect has reached monumental proportions on earth.

The old, antiquated Mind generator has worked from the cranial brain and generated thoughts that have become progressively more fear-based. There is a component that has always been with you that now requires to be employed. It is called Spirit. Where Mind alone operates on fear-base, when Spirit is connected the Mind begins to remember how to function based on Love energy. Where fear is an unstable fuel, Love is a consistent and very stable fuel, which allows the generator to operate at much higher frequencies without burnout.

All of the thoughts that the Mind generator produces are dependant on outer conformation—proof of theory. The Love generator uses internal conformation based on personal experience that requires no outer validation. Masters live their lives based on the application of Divine principles in everyday living. You are a planet of Masters and it is time to upgrade your generators. The first question that comes to Mind is “How do I do that?” Doing is based on the premise that everything must be gotten before anything can happen. This does not allow for the fact that you were created with all of the components of creation (everything that you require) inside of you. The Mind generator looks outward for proof of outcome. It needs justification and agreement from those that it deems smarter, more educated or more capable than self. Hence, in seeking outer validation the unstable fuel of fear activates the process of attempting to achieve power over those who are “better”. The illusion is that by proving that one has something more important, they are more powerful than those to who they give their power. The need to be important is a driving force of the Mind generator. You do not adapt the Spirit to your generator by any process of the Mind. In fact, the only reason that this process seems so difficult is that the Mind is attempting to grasp a principle that does not operate in separation.

We are not talking about theory. Theory is postulation. It is scientific experimentation. We are speaking of the application of Universal principle to the basic energy of the human machine. Living provides understanding. When the life is funded by a Love generator the understanding is fundamentally positive. Faith is an element that the Mind generator disdains. There have always been a few who have made the breakthrough and connected Mind to Spirit. It takes all of the courage and faith that you have in these times. Since this shift is not something that can be created outwardly it calls for a change of focus. The Mind looks outside of self. The point of reference is always somewhere else besides here and now. This makes desire relatively unachievable.

When the Love factor is plugged into the Mind generator the upgrade allows a totally new perspective that changes the concept of self completely. No longer is there the fear and desperation of low level energy swirling the Mind around and around in circles of self-defeating lack and limit. The mind expands beyond the ceiling of low energy (consider how low your energy feels most of the time) and opens to the unlimited fuel of Spirit. (This has nothing what so ever to do with religious tenets that are creations of the Mind generator for power games.) Spirit is vast, unfettered, unlimited energy that is constantly being renewed by Love. The Bible says, “Magnify God, oh my Soul”. The generator of Love magnifies the power of creation in the way that it was originally intended when you first came into the physical state.

You have spent eons of time in separation. It has become so familiar that there is a fear of anything different. YET, EVERY HUMAN ON THE PLANET IS FEELING A RESTLESSNESS THAT CANNOT BE STOPPED WITH DRUGS, A DEPRESSION (low energy) THAT DOES NOT LIFT BECAUSE THE MIND GENERATOR CANNOT GO BEYOND THE FEAR THAT RUNS IT.

The Mind fights the idea of change as a warrior fights for victory. However, war is a component of the Mind which generates separation and it can no longer bring any kind of positive results as it has nothing to do with where things are going now on the planet. The Mind says, “I will wait for THEM to change so that I do not have to put out the effort.” So, many people are caught in a sense of waiting for something to happen that is as illusive as smoke. The feeling is that something (probably something dire) is about to happen. The heaviness of the possibilities is generated by the fear of the Mind. Surely, nothing good can come of these times, the Mind says. What you are feeling are the impending changes that can lift you out of the Hell of separation. The Mind is fighting the last great fight to stop the progress of Spirit’s return. The Mind has created the Holy war of Michael and the heavenly host battling Satan. The Devil, Evil, Satanic forces are all creations of the mind to perpetuate a fear of the unknown. Then those who wish to rule by fear bring about horrible situations to prove that these forces are far more powerful than Love. Separation has called domination, control and destruction realities when nothing is further from the TRUTH.

The feeling nature blended with Soul assurance brings monumental shifts which help to overcome the Mind, but a major requirement is the FAITH in what is being said or affirmed. When Spirit is plugged into your Mind generator the result is positive believing, so that there is positive outcome. The world plays a game of judgment that is both cruel and useless, that if, for example: someone is suffering a life-threatening disease and they die, they just didn't put enough positive thinking into the desire for a cure. The truth is that fear can cause such doubt that even though the mind wants a good outcome, the EGO can turn the thoughts to failure again and again. The feeling of the highest and best outcome is what makes a difference. Whether the person lives or dies, the feeling of hope and well-being gives a different response on both sides of the veil. Fear and anger are tools that the EGO (Mind generator) uses liberally. The questions of "Why me?" and "Why not me?" rise up for all. However, when there is an unlimited faith in the best good for self then that outcome will be with you no matter what. Facades no longer work. "A brave front" can, perhaps help others, but being honest about all aspects of life can lift you up and over illusions. This is not about bitter resignation nor the World's limited concept of reality, but a powerful trust in a positive future which begins NOW.

The World is facing not just the collapse of the financial affairs that have been the "way of business" for eons, but a total shift of the internal workings of the human condition. Belief systems that have been relied on are falling and failing because they were created based on the falsehoods of limitation generated by Mind. Guilt and shame have been applied liberally by the church, the political system and the medical community in order to gain control. All of the layers of self-imposed smallness are being blown away by the winds of change and the exposure of the True Self is almost overwhelming. Thinking positively is not just a lovely thought, but a Spiritual imperative. "That's just how it is" is a battle cry of the EGO to fight progress. There is a bumper sticker that says, "Change is inevitable. Growth is optional." I assure you, Beloved Masters, that GROWTH IS NO LONGER AN OPTION!

Over the next year you will be experiencing more and greater change than you have ever encountered in such a short period of time. The "Grand Old Party" is the standard of resistance generated by Mind, but even they will be required to yield to the force of the changing times. This is not a statement of threat or battle for war will also be progressively more exposed for the machine of money that it has been. Over sixty years ago war was declared one of the biggest industries on the planet. The Mind generator has pulled humanity further and further away from Love. That is why there can be no end to war in the old ways. The statement that "The economy is failing therefore war is necessary" will become more and more obvious for what it is. Fighting for your life is futile. Loving your life so well that you raise yourself up into the energy of the Divine allows positive thoughts, feelings and outcomes.

Positive thinking cannot be done. The Mind wants to control the emotions by the same force that it has exercised over the minds of others. Emotions and feelings (the higher vibration of emotion) exist on a higher frequency than thought. Mind wants to make a statement of creation and have the energy of manifestation respond to it. Words without Love are simply words. It is the passion of faith along with powerful words that causes great outcomes. "I want to get well", "I want to be rich" or "I want to be loved" are all statements that imply that you don't have what you want and you are trying to get what you want to come to you from some unknown place outside of you. Perhaps if you were the right kind of person God would love you enough to give you what you want.

THE PARENTAL ORDER IS PASSING. GOD IS NOT A PARENT DOLING OUT GOOD TO THOSE WHO PLEASE HIM. GOD IS THE ABSOLUTE ESSENCE OF UNCONDITIONAL LOVE THAT ENCOMPASSES ALL OF CREATION.

You are already important. You don't have to earn importance. You are already special. Recognize it within yourself. You are already good, because God created you. You have been indoctrinated with lies of the illusion (Mind generator) for so long that you have forgotten that you are fundamentally sacred. Dearly Beloved, amazing, wonderful, Divinely Created Masters, trying to force your self to think positive in the fear of a bad outcome if you do not, is self-defeating.

Beloved Masters, a great part of the chaos of these times is that the Mind has reached the extent of its limits when operating alone. It is now imperative that Spirit be allowed to take the lead. The Mind calculates, conjures, cajoles and attempts to craft something different from the same old material from the all too familiar past. The Mind is going around and around in circles in front of the World. Wanting things to change but refusing to move forward brings no results at all. The fear of being responsible is emerging everywhere. Those who have carefully guarded their wealth by staying clear of participating in the affairs of the World as a whole are finding that their most cherished hoard is slipping through their fingers like sand. The energy of these times “rains on the just and the unjust.”

The very Mind that is creating overwhelming illusions of lack will hold you paralyzed in the fear of something different, simply because the Mind focuses on worst possible outcomes. Plug Spirit into your life and experience the willingness to make changes without some preconceived guarantee. The good you seek belongs to you NOW. It has always been with you through the whole of this game. It can and will be revealed as you forgive making everything important exist somewhere outside of you—often the belief is that others have the good that belongs to you. That is a fallacy of Mind. YOU GOOD IS YOURS! NO ONE ELSE CAN USE YOUR GOOD. THE REASON THAT YOU DON'T SEE YOUR GOOD IS BECAUSE YOU HAVE CREATED, FOR YOURSELF, A WORLD WHERE GOOD DOES NOT BELONG TO YOU. YOU SEE GOOD AS SOMETHING UNABTAINABLE.

The Mind says, “My good is out there in the future. Someday I will get it.” Or “My good was in the past and I can never have it again.” When the things that you desire are perceived as somewhere else you can not embrace them as yours NOW. Go to another town, go to another planet, go to another solar system and the “you” that believes in lack will still be creating a life of limit. Here where you are and NOW in this moment with the good that belongs to you within is the only time and place where you can bring about the life that you desire to live. It requires that you be with yourself. It requires that you get energetically clear about what you really desire. If you got what someone else has you still would not be happy because what they have and the reasons that they have them are not yours. There are principles of creation that you overlook when you are looking outside of yourself. How are you using your creative essence? How does it feel when you imagine an outcome of success? The Mind rushes to blind you by having the answer that the World would call “right”. Success feels good, the Mind says. Now Divine creator in human form, go beyond the thoughts and into the realms of Spirit that abide in the energetic center of your being—HOW ARE YOU USING YOUR THOUGHTS? WHAT ARE YOU REALLY FEELING? ARE YOU TRULY WILLING TO CHANGE YOUR LIFE TO INCLUDE THE THINGS THAT YOU SAY YOU WANT OR ARE YOU JUST WANTING

THINGS AROUND YOU TO CHANGE SO THAT YOU CAN EXPERIENCE AN ILLUSION THAT DOESN'T FIT YOU? WHAT WOULD MAKE YOU HAPPY? WHAT IS HAPPINESS, TRULY? Most importantly, HOW DOES HAPPINESS FEEL WITHIN YOU?

The Mind generator makes happiness a state based on things. When you live your Spirit in your life all of the time, Happiness becomes a state of affairs that encompasses things, but is not about them. You are the happiness and therefore you generate energy that calls into your life all that supports happiness. Even what has been called “bad” will be viewed from a totally different perspective so that you can gain new good from the understanding.

The Truth is that when you stop trying to become spiritual masters and simply live the mastery that is yours, you realize that you already are and have what you have been attempting to get.

So Beloved Masters, the times allow us to begin to give you the information to unlock you to you. It isn't out there. They don't have it. It belongs to you and you have carried it with you all along, as you looked everywhere but within. Until we meet again, in the greatest of Love I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain.
