

July Newsletter

The year is half over and what a rich year it has been. There are so many things to be thankful for, including things that we have not be glad about in the moment.

Our pictures this month are of Dorian's lavender garden with our cat, Brenwyn, who is convinced that Dorian created the garden just for her. The second picture is of Mule's Ears that were growing in profusion when we took a drive out Red Canyon Loop a couple of weeks ago. We have had so much rain that the flowers are blooming so beautifully. The third picture is the blessing of a rainbow that actually ended in the lavender pots in our garden.

A number of years ago St. Germain mentioned that this area of Wyoming would become a more temperate zone. I wondered what that would look like. If rain is a beginning then we are well on our way. I have not seen so much rain in the whole time that I have lived in Wyoming. In fact, I believe that the only place where I have seen this much rain is Oregon or western Washington state. We have had rain for two weeks straight and it is still raining. We have probably exceeded our annual rain fall of twelve inches already. I haven't heard anyone say.

Everything is so green and lush. The mountains are just radiant with grasses and flowers. The trees on our land are growing and everything is just vibrant.

We took a ride out Red Canyon Loop about two weeks ago. The road goes through a wildlife habitat and across one of the big old ranches in the area. The road itself is mostly red clay and the sandstone cliffs run along one side of it. The other side of the road opens out to meadows and grassy cliffs. The Popo Agie River runs through the length of the Canyon. The drive is about thirteen miles. I have driven the road at all times of day and evening, in sunlight and misty rain. It has so many personalities that every time we take the drive it is almost as though we have never been there before.

We are planning to spend a weekend in Yellowstone Park in the fall. In September the pace slows down and the weather is still good enough to go into the park, which usually closes in early October. We have had snow on several of our fall treks but the colors are breath-taking and the air is fine. It is a special place. St. Germain has such strong connections to the Tetons and Northern Yellowstone Park that his essence is always with us there.

I want to share a vision that I had on June 2nd. It was almost like lucid dreaming, except I was awake. I was looking out over a vast ocean. The water was covered by a mesh grid of steel. As I watched it was as though the finger of God was drawn across the mesh. It looked like an acetylene torch as it blazed through the metal. The mesh parted and began to roll away, down the sides of the Earth. The sound was like a mighty thunder. The sides of the mesh met under the Earth and fell away.

As I watched people began breaching the water, as dolphins and whales leap up in sheer delight. There were those who have been very involved in the limiting of the planet and those who have attempted to keep things just the way they were. These were the first ones to break the surface and jump high. As people broke the surface they would fall back into the water, but they would not sink. It appeared as though when they returned to the water there was something there to catch them so that they did not return to the depths from which they came. More and more people leapt up and there was a lot of joyful shouting.

My feeling is that this is an indication of major shifts happening now. I was an observer in the vision but I was also a participant. I have wondered if others have had similar visions or dreams lately. I feel that we are moving into revelation and the clarity of who we are and where we are going is becoming more available.

In the channeling on June 14, "Living Your Divine Authority" St. Germain made reference to this vision and said that the mind-grid has been removed. He did not go into a great amount of detail, but I feel that the freedom of being out from under that heaviness will help us to discover more of who we truly are in the times to come.

I would love to hear about your dreams or visions.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON

This Full Moon occurs July 7 and is lunar eclipse. At the time of a lunar eclipse the solar radiation to the Moon is blocked by the Earth's mass and this creates a breach in time/space. Projections dissolve, patterns morph, and consciousness is expanded. This Full Moon eclipse exposes the shadow side of both signs involved. The shadow of Cancer is self-indulgence and immaturity. The outcome is that our wounded ego-child keeps sabotaging our happiness. Another part of the Cancer shadow is the martyr. The martyr pays a very high price of self-sacrifice in the hope that someone will notice and give the martyr what they need. It is a dead-end situation with no reward. If water does not flow it stagnates. Stagnation brings emotional and physical illness or explosive outbursts that break the dam and allow the pent-up emotions to spill out. During a Full Moon or an outer planet transit to natal Moon repressed emotions overflow the banks of our defenses. These waters can flood and destroy what we have worked to build, but to things that were stalled due to the repression, the flood can bring fertile new ideas and heal wounds that have been ignored for far too long. This is a time of assessment and consideration of what we must let go.

It may appear that this theme of discovering what no longer serves us has been going on for a long time. Many people are slow to attend to areas of their lives where change is vital. We are certainly being made aware of the absolute fear of change that a great part of our world is dealing with. The fear causes repression and damming of emotions. Pretense that nothing needs to change in order for life to get better is obvious. The damming of our emotions leads to all manner of disease from physical illness to the explosive outbursts that keep occurring that take the lives of innocent people. We hear in the news almost every day that someone else has gone on a rampage and/or a shooting spree because they cannot deal with a changing world. This Full Moon energy puts a lot of presser on those who are desperately attempting to keep things status quo. Representatives of the old order, such as former vice president Dick Cheney, who has expressed a desire for a terrorist attack just so that President Obama would be revealed, are every where. The wounds that have not been addressed now must be healed. The jaded life that sees no value in human kind and feels that killing is a necessity rather than an act against creation must be brought to light and loved into balance.

So we look at the shadow side of Capricorn that avoids taking responsibility and accepting the consequences of its actions. It worships power and domination. It will attempt to take control and win at any cost. Blame, shame and guilt are all a part of the Capricorn shadow.

Though Cancer and Capricorn are both yin, receptive signs, Capricorn has come to be associated with the father or masculine qualities. For the last 5,000 years the yang has been valued over the yin. Competition, control and outer conquests are considered much more worthy than the pursuit of the inner self and the mysteries of life. This full Moon highlights this long standing inequality between masculine and feminine and the necessity to return to the spiritual intentions of the fourth and tenth signs.

The Goddess aspects of Cancer—creation, nurturance and the protection of life and the higher spiritual aspects of Capricorn—integrity, discipline and dedication to what best serves the whole must become the standards that future generations are taught to live by. Pluto's transit through Capricorn is revealing the long-hidden costs of inequity, corruption and materialism and putting them under the cosmic microscope.

It is no accident that the Jupiter, Chiron and Neptune conjunction that only occurs in the sign of Aquarius once every few thousand years is gracing the planetary mix at this entry into the Aquarian Age. The last Jupiter/Chiron conjunction occurred on June 16, 1990 at 16 degrees of Cancer. As you look back to that time you may notice reoccurring cycles now. Jupiter's last conjunction with Neptune was January of 1997 at 27 degrees of Capricorn. On July 10 Jupiter will make the second of three conjunctions with Neptune at 26 degrees Aquarius. What were your dreams twelve years ago and where are you moving with them now? Mars at 27 degrees Taurus closely squares the Jupiter, Chiron and Neptune co-joining. Mars motivates us to live our dreams and visions now! Uranus stationed to go retrograde on June 30 and is tightly sextile to Mars. The suggestion is not only to get moving on dreams and goals, but to take different tack that you have been following.

The Sabian symbol for this eclipse favors using our spiritual tools and learning teamwork, especially between men and women. The Sun at 16 degrees Cancer: "A man studying a Mandela in front of him, with the help of a very ancient book." For the Moon at 16 degrees Capricorn: "School grounds filled with boys and girls in gymnasium suits." Use the energy of this Full Moon to define your goals. Remember:

"When you blame others, you give up your power to change." (Dr. Robert Anthony)

NEW MOON

The solar eclipse of July 21-22 emphasizes the evolutionary imperative to change or be changed. This New Moon is quincunxed by Pluto. Though not as strong as the Pluto/Moon opposition in June the energy still symbolizes shifts in perception and changes in the direction of our lives.

The Age of Aquarius, the division of a 26,000 year cycle that represents an era of equality and collaboration versus domination and competition, calls us to move beyond the beliefs and structures that perpetuate the old paradigms. Many of the indigenous calendars indicate that we are also ending a much, much longer cycle, which requires a dimensional shift from the small point of view we have held around divinity. We are facing, not the end of the world, but the end of how we have perceived life and how those perceptions have colored our progress.

Under this solar eclipse we are still being brought face to face with our shadow self. To move from the state of duality to unity we must live consciously. Both sides of every polarity must be integrated—dark/light, good/bad masculine/feminine better than/worse than. In duality we are only allowed to see one perspective and align with one side. As we embrace unity our vision clears and we begin to see facets of every situation that were not available to us before. We begin to see people as individuals of unique flare, creativity and amazing brilliance rather than just "those who agree with me or those who do not".

The New Moon is a great time to set new intentions and get clear that you really intend for the changes to occur. Intention means that you will move on a dream or desire powerfully. Just thinking something sounds nice is not an intention. St. Germain says that, wishes are wishy-washy and wants are "want-sy". When you really desire something in your life things begin to happen.

When two New Moons in the same sign occur in the same calendar month it has a much greater impact than if only one New Moon in the sign happens. This New Moon is a Super-Moon, a total eclipse and it is the second of two Cancer New Moons, it would appear that we have reached a major turning point in the war between the sexes. Humanity is ready to discover a new balance and men and women can honor each other because they are willing to honor themselves. Since every person has both masculine and feminine polarity the age old gender issues are becoming quite trite. Within twelve hours of the eclipse Jupiter co-joins Chiron in Aquarius, another grand opportunity to initiate big changes and resolve long-standing issues. The divine Humanitarian is being drawn up in each person and it is calling out the very best in everyone. So many have believed for so long that they do not have a best, most brilliant, most loving side. The old wounds are being opened to be healed. Feel you best self emerging.

Venus, another aspect of divine feminine, squares Saturn just before the eclipse and extends an invitation to redefine our values, priorities and relationship to the Goddess.

The Sabian symbol for 30 degrees of Cancer: “A Daughter of the American Revolution,” represents the necessity to birth and nurture freedom for all.” We get to consider that freedom for all has been considered primarily for certain groups and stratum of society in this country and most exclusively for men. The freedom of the “highborn and monied” rested on the backs of those who were considered less. The Aquarian Age can lovingly level the playing field so that everyone—male, female, black, white, red, yellow, all races, religions and stratum—have a chance to live the greatness that is theirs.

We can only use so much money or material goods in any given moment. As we live in faith and love everything that we might require in any moment is provided without limit. It takes courage to change, but the rewards are immeasurable.

Live your greatest, most loving self. Be consistent in your energy and be amazed at what you discover exists just beyond your limited horizons.

CRYSTAL CORNER

Hi, everyone!

I thought today we would take a trip down memory lane. Not in the ordinary sense but using some tools to trigger a deeper remembrance of how things are. Most of you have heard of or used the Lemurian Seed Crystals. These awesome crystals are very much like an activator of the pineal and pituitary and how they are connected to the soul. It is an awakening stone to greater levels of remembering mastery. There are some who would come to it and they would see light and perhaps that would be all. There are some who would come to it and what it would awaken, because of their readiness, could be very much like stars and novas and worlds being created or how the cosmos came to be. Depending on where they are in their spiritual development, it could be dramatic enlightening or devastating chaos. The veil can be lifted the slow way by meditation and practice and the soul comes into its evolution naturally. This crystal could either rip the veil away if they are ready on a deep level but not on a spiritual connected level, or it can open them to remember who they are. On another level, the memories of Lemuria would be embedded in the crystal and yet it did not come from Lemuria but Atlantis. This is for those from Atlantis who are here in these times to remember more ancient times. Many of the Atlantians who have been born here this time still carry such an intellectual viewpoint of things that they doubt anything as fragile as Lemuria ever existed. The memories, the visions and the energetic sense of Lemuria are in this stone.

The Rutilated Quartz is another of those crystals that would aid us on our journey. The rutiles are much like filaments of information. They are messages encoded in the stones. It is electrical and electronic as the psyche soars, as the entity allows itself to be less limited by the old ways. The electricity, the electronics, the computerization of the Rutilated Quartz will be decoded. There are messages in the stone that as the entity raises their vibrational frequency, they will be able to decode the message. A lot of the messages found in Rutilated quartz will be similar to those found on the Wing Makers site online: how magnificent you are, how wonderful you are, how grand you are, how far beyond what you believe, you are. This is technology that would exceed the comprehension of the finite mind of man.

The on-going revamping of the website is showing much improvement. We continue to post pictures of the crystals and have made the site much easier to navigate. Be sure to log in to www.eternal-ice.com and check out our beautiful stones.

Until next month, many blessings.

TAROT TALK

Our Tarot card for July is the Seven of Crystals. The seven of Crystals deals with the mind, your diamond bright, crystalline intellect. The sevens, paradoxically, as the stasis of attainment, are part of overall movement and higher ascension. Things are moving in spite of appearing to be still. All of the sevens in the minor arcana refer back to the Chariot in the Major Arcana. Honor what you have achieved and devote yourself to higher levels of success.

The seven of Crystals represents the “philosopher’s stone”. It represents the philosophical foundations upon which you build your life. Dullness is the stable state of mind of the Charioteer in the midst of great movement. How very appropriate this card is for these times when everything is changing so rapidly and yet it can seem as though nothing is moving. Especially, it does not seem to be moving as quickly as we would like. When you stay grounded, keeping a down-to-earth philosophy it gives you a solid mental base. From that platform you can move your consciousness forward in great leaps to grander heights.

Dullness can be a refuge, a chance to rest your mind. Sevens indicate a period of waiting, gathering strength for the next burst of activity. If you visualize a cat getting ready to spring—it makes minute adjustments and gets its focus clear—then it waits. Every muscle is ready so that when the cat leaps it lands where it intends and achieves what it desires. As you rest your mind you become open to new ideas and potentials that might have never occurred to you in the busyness of the usual activities. These thoughts can help you to leap forward in your achievements on all levels.

Watch that you do not become dull in your mind. People can slip into the “treadmill existence” in their lives. You get up, get on the “treadmill” of daily affairs, at the end of the day you get off of the “treadmill” and go to bed only to repeat the process day in and day out. Keep your mind open, imaginative, curious, creative and don’t forget to let it rest.

When you study for a test the outcome is far more productive if you get clear with the information and then get a good night’s sleep. When the mind is fatigued it does not function optimally. When you are overloaded and stressed you miss important events, thoughts and insights that would help you stay on track. The seven of Crystals reminds you to treat your mind as though it is a very fine tool that must be used with the greatest respect. You would not miss-use an expensive tool that would be costly to replace. You would keep the tool sharp and clean. You cannot replace your mind, so treat it with the highest regard.

When the seven of Crystals turns up in your reading it can put you on notice that you have gotten caught in the “I have no choice” syndrome. Life slips into dark places and before you know it you feel like the walls are closing in. Take a day off, especially if you think that you can’t. Change your routine. Zone out, veg out and let the world go for a bit. When you return to your daily affairs you will see them from a new perspective. The feeling that you are unable to change your life will move into the background. Don’t try to recover it.

The “philosopher’s stone” is associated with immortality. To be immortal is to meet your death, face it, accept it and pass through the fear untouched. Seven is also a number related to Faith. It is the essences of the adept, the mystic, the Merlin. As you sit with the energy of the seven of Crystals it can lead you into higher thought and connections with the higher mind.

St. Germain on the Changing Times

Beloved Masters, we celebrate you. You are rising up into the new essence of the Earth and even though many of you are still feeling a great deal of fear you are accelerating. We ask, that as best you can, you will put your fears aside

What is going on in Iran? It is evolution! What will happen with North Korea? Whether it is the intense parental domination of the Iranians or the spoiled and wounded child who leads Korea and feels that the only way to stay in power is through threat and intimidation, the representations of the old order are being exposed. The revelations will bring to light the actions and ideas that no longer serve the world. The old order cannot continue to stand.

Many still believe that the only way that change can occur is through violence and war. So, witness the revelation of a new order in some of the oldest of cultures. The women of Iran want their voices heard in the elections. They feel that because the candidate that they voted for was not put into office they have been denied that voice. Even more what is being revealed is the indifference to the value of human life. The hard-hearted attitudes of those who only see “progress” at all costs. These attitudes exist on both sides—in the government and in the people. Martyr hood has been considered the only way to draw attention to desired change. The last of the parental politicians want immediate retribution against Korea. Like a wise parent, President Obama waits and observes and lets everyone know that violence in any form is abhorrent. The Ego, whether it is the politicians who still want war in America, or the frightened little leader of Korea, does not want to take time. It wants “instant pudding” reaction with no consideration of outcomes in the long term of affairs.

The new order calls for holding prayerful intentions for the highest good. The ego resists this process as too slow, ineffectual, weak and wholly useless in the face of conflict.

Beloved Masters, we are with the planet. We are seeking to assist you in seeing beyond the limits of what appears to be, and behold what is true. It is difficult to be peaceful in the midst of a war zone and yet that is exactly what we are asking of you—to still yourself, your mind, and seek beauty. If you cannot see beauty around you imagine the beauty in your thoughts. Feel the essence of beauty and raise your vibrations. This will lift you high enough to see/feel the dimensions where none of the anger and fear of lower frequencies exists. Your anger is a detriment. Even as you believe that you have a RIGHT to be angry, you deprive yourselves and others of the greater evolutionary view. Fear paralyzes the mind. It locks you into the very outcomes that you despise. The view of which we speak is not only of spirit, but of the all encompassing energy of world affairs.

There is a great difference between “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you” and “An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth”. Destruction to balance destruction is a theory of the Mind-grid. Beloveds Masters, God has severed the Mind-grid. It has been rent asunder. The “contract” that you made to play this game has ended. It no longer holds sway over your lives and affairs. Because you have lived under its control for so long, many of you are beginning to have vague feelings that something is very different. These feelings will grow rapidly. The change feels like an unknown, which can bring fear, and yet many of you have been awaiting this moment for life times.

Your ability to change the Earth is not so much in your ability to fight as it is in your strength to hold your prayers in a powerful, positive place. See in your mind how you would have the world become, not just for yourself or those that you like and love, but for every man, woman and child. Hold the desire that they may have access to freedom, joy, prosperity, health and well-being equally. The mind-grid created a blindness that has caused the belief in “every man for himself”. This has been the most insidious of illusions because it has divided the Earth. There are many that speak of the Tower of Babel once more, where people speak and no one can understand what the others are saying. As you raise your frequency you will be in a dimension where you can observe what is really happening. You will see that the inability to understand one another is caused by some people wanting to hold on to the past. The past is done, finished. Others desire to move forward. Love brings harmony. If you desire from your heart and soul to understand others you will hear them with the inner ear that may not know the words, but understands the intension.

There are those who are leaving the planet in order to be of assistance from higher realms. "In the latter days (of the old order) the dead will rise." The mind has interpreted this as something ghoulish and horrible. The truth is that as the planet lifts into higher dimensional frequencies those who are living here on Earth will have greater contact with the "Other side of the veil". No one ever dies. Those whose bodies are no longer operating in physical dimensions are still quite involved with what is happening here and willing to help. They cannot control what is happening any more than those who are physically present. In fact, control is becoming less and less effective and will weaken until you begin to understand that no one person or group of people has the right to say how all will live. The power struggles and games of abuse and cruelty that many have believed were necessary will evidence themselves for what they are—totally based in fear and therefore extremely weak.

Love is not just a pretty thought or a romantic notion. It is the ultimate power and it is filled with compassion and unconditional essence. Feel the Love in your heart and Soul. Love is not an intellectual concept. In fact, the mind cannot begin to grasp the full scope of Love. It is a wholly and Holy energy. We bring you Love. We shower you with Love. As you will allow it you are filled to overflowing with Love in its totality. If you resist, the Love is not withdrawn. That is a belief of the old, Parental order—that God will not Love you if you are not obedient. God does not seek obedience. God seeks willingness and allowance to accept the gifts that await you. God simply desires that you will remember that you are Loved beyond the scope of all that you know. You don't have to try to be God. You are One with God, a co-creator with powers for good that have not been tested or tried because you have forgotten. Now you fear your own abilities. It is time to rise up. Hold your prayerful intentions in the most beautiful way that you can and BE AMAZED!!!

We Love you! We are with you every moment, even if you deny yourself the right to know this. We are here to assist and because of Divine Law we cannot force you to see or make you do "the right thing". You shout at us that you have done your part. You demand to know why we are not fulfilling our part. You say, "So where are you and why aren't you helping us?" Remember that we will help you as much as you allow. A demanding attitude filled with anger is simply more of the same way you have conducted your affairs for life times. It is the Patriarchy, denier of the balance of Goddess and God, filled with domination and control. These angry demands have no sway over God or the Masters. These energies simply put up a barrier that makes it more difficult for us to reach you. It is your choice. We wait and when you are quiet, willing to listen within, we come to you. We touch your thoughts. We offer healing and upliftment.

Until we meet again in what ever manner that may be, in the greatest of Love, I am your humble Servant. I bid you Adieu! Lord St. Germain
