

November Newsletter

We took a trip up to Yellowstone Park the day that they closed the park. In fact, we could not get home through the South gate because of snow and an accident on the road to West Thumb. We had driven from Cody, Wy that morning and had to drive all the way back up to the East gate at Cody to get back into Wyoming to come home. Dorian got some of the most beautiful pictures of the winter mood settling on the park. We had lunch at Old Faithful Lodge and watched about three inches of snow fall in the hour that we took to eat lunch.

Our first picture was taken at Jackson Lake in Yellowstone about four o'clock in the afternoon of October 6. The mist on the water and the dash of fall color tell a remarkable story. The second picture Dorian created with two flying pigs that we bought when we went to Billings for my check up, which, by the way, was excellent. The third picture another aspect of Yellowstone dressed in her fall finery.

As you receive this newsletter I am on the road. We are holding our Georgia intensive on the 5-6 of November. All are invited to join us. Click here for the flyer for GA.

We had the most beautiful autumn in Lander this year that we have had since I have lived here. Everything was lit up with the flaming colors of fall. We had our first frost in mid-September and then the weather got very warm and the combination of temperatures seemed to be just right for an awesome autumn.

I am continuing to heal in such a way that I am just amazed. I feel better all of the time. It is almost as though I am regaining strength and a youthful joyousness that had been missing. I would desire that everyone would be able to experience life with this zest. All of the wonderful healing energies and blessings that I have received are gratefully integrated.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON

This Full Moon in Taurus falls on November 10, the eve of 11-11-11 which is a date of great numerological import. This coincides with Ceres, Neptune and Chiron ending their yearly retrogrades. Humanity is at a crossroads—a quantum splitting of worlds. One world is where we awaken to our divinity and the other is where we remain in duality. What is your choice? Do we choose to return to unity or continue to operate in the illusion of separation? The veil thins as this Full Moon reveals where we are and where we will go in the future.

Taurus shows us what really matters as far as our use of energy is concerned. Where will we invest our time, money and personal power? Scorpio's intensity teaches us to feel everything and realize that nothing stays the same. As relationships are of primary importance now, our relationship with the planet is balanced by the earth essence of Taurus. This can put us in touch with our personal value and how we support ourselves on all levels. Scorpio's water element takes us into the alchemical aspects of relationship, bringing us awareness of the power of our emotions, fear and unconscious. We are directed to align our feelings with our actions. The Full Moon puts light on the dark side of the sign it is in and calls us to balance both light and dark rather than hide from the revelation of our inmost secrets. Taurus can be materialistic and resistant to change, while Scorpio can be obsessive, manipulative and unable to trust.

Each sign in the zodiac brings a vital stage in an archetypal cycle of development. In numerology each number represents a fundamental frequency of development. The double digit numbers 11, 22, 33, 44 are called Master numbers and they draw in the essence of dimensions beyond the physical plane. The number 11/11/11 brings us a spiritual initiation and gateway into the realms of human relationship with the Divine Self. 11 equates with the sign of Aries. 11 represents its higher octave, our relationship with the Christ consciousness. The 11/11/11 holds the way open for profound transformation through meditation and group prayer that can bring about mass awakening.

Three celestial bodies finish their annual retrograde phases around this Full Moon. Ceres, while in retrograde has directed us to listen within and in this deepening of our inner connection to find greater compassion and nurturing for ourselves and others. Ceres turns direct on November 6 after almost four and a half months of retrograde. On November 9, Neptune begins its forward motion at 28 degrees of Aquarius. On November 10 Chiron turns direct at 0.38 degrees Pisces. The direct motion of these forces brings the message to unite and collaborate on a larger scale than ever before. We will see more and more pressure on opposing groups, ideas and opinions to find a way to align in harmony. The planets do not ask us to give up our power, but to direct in such a way that the highest good of all is obtained rather the greater good for a few.

Pluto in Capricorn continues to square Uranus in Aries, intensifying a push for liberty, justice and reform. Mars, the lower octave of Pluto adds its energy to the mix as it makes, first a quincunx to Uranus on November 12 and then a trine to Pluto on November 23. This brings greater optimism, inventiveness and a willingness to resolve long-standing issues in a credible way.

The planets are providing the impetus for profound up spiral in these times. We can use the Cosmic tailwind to make quantum leaps forward. "Change is inevitable. Growth is no longer an option.” St. Germain

NEW MOON

On November 24-25, Thanksgiving Day, this New Moon Eclipse brings extra potent energy. We are preparing to move into a new phase as we end a major life lesson and graduate to the next level. This eclipse brings an upgrade in consciousness. St. Germain has spoken often about the “older models”—those over 40—requiring more time for rewiring as we shift frequencies. Eclipses bring us a bigger hard drive and more memory if we are receptive. During a solar eclipse, the Moon interrupts the current flow of cosmic radiation on Earth. This reconfigures the templates of reality and ushers in downloads of new codes and programs. This is the sixth and final SuperMoon of 2011, which further alters the magnetosphere of the planet. We are experiencing personal shifts to our electromagnetic fields and awareness. Old programs associated with the past are disappearing and new matrices are revealed as Creation expands. There are those who may feel as though they were not consulted about these megachanges. Remember that we have been involved in designing these shifts for eons of time.

The Sun, Moon, North Node, Mercury and Venus all are gathered in the sign of Sagittarius. The Archer aims toward the sky and these planets direct the arch of the arrow of information to our loftiest goals. The constellation of Sagittarius points toward the center of the Milky Way galaxy. This ninth sign of the zodiac influences the expansion of our consciousness and offers clarity about our place in the cosmos. Where did we come from? Why are we here and where are we going? The centaur is half man and half horse, part mortal and part divine—symbolizing the inseparability of humanity and Nature, heaven and earth. We can no longer continue to pretend that we are “mere” humans. We are pushed by the forces of spirit to acknowledge our divinity within the human form. Chiron, also depicted as a centaur, is at 1 degree of Pisces, squaring Sun and Moon, as does Mars at 7 degrees Virgo. This mutable T-square suggests that we be less competitive and more compassionate with a focus on the Big Picture rather than just what is at the tip of our nose.

Thanksgiving Day in the United States is a time of expressing our gratitude for all of our blessings. Gratitude opens the heart. Venus, Goddess of Love and Beauty, expands our awareness of unconditional Love and opens the way to greater access as she transits close to the galactic center the day before the New Moon. The Milky Way is a super-massive Black Hole called Sagittarius A. We are constantly receiving transmissions of infrared, X-ray, gamma, radio and microwave frequencies from this source. Venus aligning with the GC directs these energies with laser precision to assist us in more powerful healing and heart opening at this time when we are asked to consider what we are thankful for. Perhaps this will assist us to carry the attitude of gratitude into the future we are meeting.

Mercury turns retrograde at 20 degrees Sagittarius just hours before this New Moon. We are being asked to expand our understanding of Reality. This retrograde doubles the time that Mercury, the Winged Messenger, spends in the sign of higher mind. We are required to think differently. The retrograde of Mercury ends on December 13 and the cycle is completed when Mercury returns to 20 degrees of Sagittarius on December 31. Our reasons for living and the way that we achieve those ends may begin to look very different by the end of the year.

We are being reminded that this is not the end of the World, but an awakening to ourselves and how we will create the future NOW.

CRYSTAL CORNER

November is upon us and the cold weather can't be far behind. I'm rather looking forward to some down time to play with the crystals, freshen up displays in the center and complete the new website. Yes, it really is happening this time! Be sure to check it out at www.eternal-ice.com.

Happy Birthday to all of you born in the sign of Scorpio. This is such an interesting sign and being ruled by Pluto adds great intensity. Malachite is one of your birthstones and is ideal because its intensity matches that of those born at this time. Bringing about transformation on all levels, Malachite is especially effective in its ability to absorb mental and physical pain, negative energy and pollutants. The patterns of this stone release the mind and stimulate visions. Mercilessly, it brings to light anything that is blocking your spiritual path and assists you to access insights from both your subconscious mind and higher consciousness and to share these with others. (Just a reminder—cleanse this stone frequently as it absorbs so much negative energy it could break if not re-energized.)

Turquoise is another of your birthstones. This will balance the intensity of Malachite, bringing inner calm. It has a soft but high energy that enhances your intuition and provides protection while you explore spiritual and darker realms. It provides solace for the soul and enhances physical wellbeing. In a crystal first-aid kit, this stone would be the first one used as it goes to the greatest depths of healing for one who is experiencing trauma. It stabilizes energies and helps one to understand why things have been created. (When purchasing Turquoise, make it a priority to get stones that are natural and not color-enhanced or stabilized as this would provide the greatest and clearest energy.)

Your emotions run deep—not that you show it on the surface—and Malachite assists you to understand and release experiences that cause you dis-ease or distress. Your emotions can be highly toxic as you have a tendency to hold on to resentment. The golden Topaz helps you to forgive and let go, while Rhodochrosite teaches your heart how to assimilate painful feelings without shutting down and assists in releasing suppressed emotions. This is beneficial in all areas of life where you are in denial. Snowflake Obsidian forces you to recognize ingrained patterns of behavior, teaching the value of mistakes as well as successes. All Obsidian will strip away illusions. The black Obsidian is harsher but all work equally well, including the Apache Tear.

Your ability to see below the surface makes you a natural healer. All the healing crystals are excellent tools for you but Charoite is especially useful with its ability to enhance perceptive analysis and to ground the self into everyday reality. It assists you to bring about deep karmic and emotional healing both at a personal and collective level. It reduces the illusion and draws in the understanding of the magik of the universe.

For more information on the stones and their healing qualities, please contact me at any time. Happy journeys!

Chinese numerology and Feng Shui for 2011

This year we are going to experience four unusual dates:

1/1/11, 1/11/11, 11/1/11, 11/11/11, and that's not all; Take the last two digits of the year you were born and the age you will be this year and the result will add up to 111 for everyone!!!! This is the year of MONEY. Also, this year, October will have 5 Sundays, 5 Mondays and 5 Saturdays. This happens only once every 823 years.

These particular years are known as Moneybag years. The proverb goes that if you send this to eight good friends, money will appear in the next four days, as is explained in the Chinese feng shui. Those who don't continue the chain won't receive. It's a mystery, but it's worth a try. Good luck to you. This only happens once in 800 years

TAROT TALK

Last month I gave you a reading and told you that I would discuss it this month. The layout was a Celtic Cross and you may look at last month's newsletter for the exact cards and layout or click here to view the layout. www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/tarot-reading.jpg

Here is what I saw in the reading. Out of ten cards there were four Worlds which tells me that the questioner was thinking more about physical or financial affairs when asking the question "Where will

I go next?" The second suit was Crystals bringing a lot of mental energy into the situation—potential creativity or too much thinking and not enough feeling.

Conditions that are passing away (4 of Worlds) refer to old ways of functioning in the World—belief systems that are passé, places where the questioner could be stuck in “How it is” when that is not “How it is” at all any more. The incoming influences (Sage of Worlds or Knight of Pentacles) bring wise (sage) advice and opportunities for new prospects in the job market or for some type of entrepreneurship. The Now card (10 of Worlds) speaks of assistance from both worldly and spiritual sources. The ten of Pentacles has been called “old family money” and addressed an inheritance of some sort. The Voyager deck that I use suggests that the inheritance may be gifts or talents yet undeveloped, as well as potential financial blessings.

The crossing card (5 of Crystals or Swords) represents old ideas that must change in order for the querant to move forward. Fives always indicate a necessity to go in a new direction as the old way is blocked in some way. The five of crystals suggest ingrained doubt about the good that life can bring, even though the 10 of Worlds promises generosity and gifts.

The Past card (2 of Crystals or Swords) speaks of choices that must be made before the situation can move or unfold. This may be a point where there is a fear to look at things differently because of past experience, family history or lineage issues that have encouraged limitation.

The future card (3 of Cups) speaks of Love and here the influences are multiple. This could be a Love relationship that could lead to marriage or commitment that will take the life in a new direction or it could be that the fear of success causes the querant to use the potential partner’s feelings as an excuse to expand in business or career. The positive side of Love can open the heart to self potential in business as well as a wonderful loving relationship.

The Column has (8 of Worlds or Pentacles) as the foundation card. This again refers to the necessity to change present ideas or concepts in order to move forward.

The Man of Crystals or (King of Swords) is in the place of negative influences and could possibly indicate a potential partner or boss who may be a very strict or stern personality. It could also represent the questioners own worry or doubt.

The 4 of Cups is in the position of positive influences and indicates a release of old anger, fear or frustration in order to make this shift. There may be a lot of talk about change, but the mind seems to go around in circles when it comes to progress.

The outcome card is (the eight of Major Arcana) which in the Voyager deck is Balance and in the Rider deck it is Strength. Finding the Strength to change and creating an inner sense of stability is an imperative for this client to make the changes that are being considered. There is resistance at every turn to even daring to step out into the unknown. The ten of Worlds and the 3 of Cups are strong helping cards, but the fear of success and expansion that is indicated will hamper big shifts for the moment. Nothing is impossible, but just wanting change does not allow it to occur.

For those of you who have not worked with the Tarot that much here is a brief explanation of the suits of cards and what they mean.

Wands represent the element of Fire. They are associated with Spirit and the essence of change. Wands bring attention to shifts away from the limits of physicality and mind alone and bring in more of the connection to your Masterful Self. Wands call you to look to the high side of the situation you are concerned with.

Crystals or Swords are connected to the mental realms and association with Air element. In the older decks the Swords represented all of the conflicts of life. When Swords show up there is potential strife. In the Voyager deck, the Air element is represented by Crystals and brings clear vision to see you way beyond the battles of life. The Crystals open your eyes to new perspectives and assist you to make wise choices.

The Earth element is indicated by Worlds in the Voyager deck and Pentacles or Disks in other decks. The Voyager deck is very expansive and works with our developing Mastery. The Worlds show us that there is so much more to life than just money and the making of it. In fact when the focus shifts away from finances often the money begins to flow in because the stress is gone and the way is open. When there is a predominance of Pentacles in your reading the emphasis is on money in some form.

Cups are Cups in all decks and hold the element of Water. Emotions are our reactive, EGO self. Feelings are the higher octave of emotions. When the Cups turn up, you will get to deal with a situation that tests your ability to stay centered. Even if things feel good there is the requirement to remain steady so that you don't run away from your good. Cups tell you that your emotions will play a big part in the affairs coming up. You come be asked to let go of an old situation that no longer serves you or you might find that you are waiting on an outcome and must be still in order to let things clarify.

I stopped reading the cards in reversed position years ago. I simply allow the card to tell me what it wants to say. There is really nothing that is bad or terrible, but the world of drama has conditioned us to look for the worst possible outcomes. I find that when I am willing to see I can see beyond the limits of Illusion to the enlightened potential. Even the Death card pertains to dynamic shift rather than just physical demise.

Next month I will give you another layout, one that I use myself all of the time. We will talk about the Horoscope layout. Have a wonderful, grateful Thanksgiving.

ST. GERMAIN'S MESSAGE

Beloved Masters, you are waking up to the very essence of your being and it is not at all what you thought it would be. The energy is softening and changing so that the very fabric of life is different. Many of you are feeling concern about the state of your mental health because you have directed the affairs of your life under strict mental control. Now there is a necessity to release the rigid thought processes and relax your grip on the Illusion. It is becoming more and more like attempting to hold onto air. Your mind is beautiful and it is completely necessary to your ongoing. However, the mind is being required to stretch and adapt to new concepts that are strange and unique to what you have known in the past. RELAX is a word that has been associated with something that you try to get or be. The mind suggests that relaxation is something that exists somewhere else besides where you are. You have to "get away" to relax. Taking a vacation from daily affairs, has been considered the prescription for getting some rest in the Illusion. Have you, Beloved Masters, ever considered just how tiring all of the planning and preparation for "Getting away" is? It temporarily distracts the mind from the daily grid, but it does not rest body, mind or emotions long term. Drugs, alcohol, partying—anything that takes your mind away could seem like a rest, yet the mind struggles to regain its balance and get "back into the daily affairs" again and again. The body is requiring more rest than ever, but until there is "core level" relaxation the emotional tension continues to build and most people are still attempting to pretend that emotions do not exist. There is a mental image of the EGO standing before you in each situation, hands on hips, saying, "All right, how would you DO this any better?" The same mind that is asking the question will then attempt to answer it. Einstein said, "A problem cannot be solved in the same place that it started". So the mental frame in which the chaos is created will not produce a peaceful outcome.

Feel into your center and examine what is going on energetically in your diaphragm. How is your breathing? How is your anger level, your stress level? Are the plans that you are making working for you or do you find that there seems to be an obstacle at every turn? Why don't things work like they used to? Did they really work that much better before or does hindsight just blur the edges so the past seems better? Dearly Beloved Masters, you are in a new place with your life and yourself. The old solutions do not apply to today's challenges. A mechanic that worked on cars in the 1970's must completely relearn how to repair today's modern, computerized vehicles. Your own personal computer (mind) has changed its technology and the thinking processes have to adapt in order to function NOW. Your "wiring" is different. Your chakras, nervous system, internal organs, mind, emotions and physical body are all responding to the shifts in very subtle ways, but nothing is as it was. Trying to pretend that nothing has changed is creating conflict in every stratum of society. The "Old Order" said that if you just lay low everything will go back to normal. The very core of the Earth and essence of the Universe has shifted. There is no normal to go back to. The status quo keeps changing every day. You may notice that the stock market is on a roller coaster ride of daily changes as the folk who buy and sell to make the trends are less and less sure of just what is happening. Their loss of equilibrium is causing insanity in the money market. Today the economy is improving, but tomorrow it will be worse than ever. Who is doing all of this and "how do we stop them?" You are the THEY that is causing the drama—by your opinions, judgments and fears. Every idea that you have creates!! The emotions that accompany your thoughts are intense energy charges that inspire action. Drop a pebble in water and it affects all of the water, not just where you dropped the pebble. Barely touch the edge of a trampoline and the effect shakes the whole powerful, tightly stretched fabric.

As you begin to accept the powerful creator that you are, you begin to be aware of just how much you influence the whole—the whole World, the group consciousness. Every thought and idea charged with emotion—whether it is joy or anger—affects the collective consciousness. You are amazing!! You are not a victim, but if you say that you are, then you will design a life of limit and lack and missed opportunities in order to be "right". What would it take to be rich? What would you lose if you were wealthy? WHO WOULD YOU BE? Who are you now? Don't THINK about it—FEEL IT. WHO ARE YOU? In the deepest, most internal spaces of your own essence—who are you? Your physical life has been erected as a distraction to yourself. You have been taught to believe that everything outside of you is what matters and that YOU are insignificant. YOU ARE THE ONE THAT CREATES EVERYTHING OUTSIDE OF YOU. You are prime creator of your own world. Like it or not you are the most powerful person you know, because you have your fate, your destiny and your beingness in your hands—energetically speaking.

The emergence of the New Earth is in your psyche. Would you hold an intension of a World in disaster or would you have the courage to give the World a gift of New Thought called unconditional Love? Can you give this to yourself? You absolutely cannot give someone else something that you do not have or do not understand. Experience is the greatest teacher. You can tell someone about your experience but until they are willing to live it for themselves they cannot fully grasp what you are talking about. Each Master will have a different experience because each one is totally unique. Arguing over who had the "right" experience is an exercise in futility. Enjoy the variety and in the offering of diversity you may find tools or materials for your next great creation. Rather than copying someone else, experiment with finding the greater you that exists within.

The chaos in the World today is "living proof" of how people create. The opinions, judgments and disagreements have escalated as the Old Order is passing. The fear of facing something new and unknown has brought up the entire gamut of lineage issues of the world. It does not matter where you live, what stratum of society you live in or how much money you make—everyone is meeting their Pandora's Box of limitations.

The insanity is of attempting to continue to push for more and more money when the illusion has put a cap on the currency flow as it has functioned up to now. Revelation is drawing the veil aside so that the deviousness of greed is evidencing itself everywhere. There are many who are beginning to sense the fact that when you are willing to be all right in this moment—NOW—everything begins to work. Each situation can be a happy, peaceful event if there is the willingness to allow things to work. You do not have to know how it will work only to be open to the fact that everything will be fine. This, Beloved Masters, is not some "airy-fairy" way of looking at life, but the natural order of "business as usual" for a practicing Master. You have mastered limitation. The same power that will bankrupt you will enrich you. Pay attention to what your EGO is telling you. When you make the changes that are required to live well in the new energy, the EGO will be relentless in attempting to show you where and how the changes won't work. That is the foundation of the chaos that is racking the World at this time.

You are required to be aware of how your EGO is trying to stop you from progressing along the Master's Way. You cannot just say "everything is be fine" when you feel scared to death. It requires that you study yourself and steady your self and your energy. Begin to recognize how the EGO presents itself in its many disguises. You cannot lie to yourself. You are required to discover the truth that a Master lives by within you and then implement that wisdom in the affairs—daily, mundane, ordinary affairs of your life. Forgive separating your Mastery from your life. You haven't lived until you embrace your Mastery.

The “end of the Mayan calendar” marks the beginning of opportunities for greater living. Business on the planet must operate in a vastly different way. Manipulation and control are devices of the Illusion that simply will pass away in the changing energy of the elevated consciousness. A Master in awareness of the Truth of self would find control a useless tool. Greed functions from the belief that there is not enough. A Master is connected to the unlimited supply of the Universe provided in Love.

We speak to you of the experiences that we live in. We have experienced physicality so the EGO cannot really use the argument that we have no idea what you are going through. We have not had your exact experiences; however, there is an amazing similarity among all experience, varied though it is. The desire of the Masters that we are, to assist the Masters that you are, is powerfully motivated by the passion of our living in Love and the wish to share that unending flow with everyone on Earth. We are with you in your growth and in your apparent “failures”. There are no failures, only misinterpreted changes. Be patient with yourselves in this time when you are living between the lines.

Each day brings Revelation! The spotlight of emergence is everywhere. Being enlightened is recognizing how you are creating each event in your life. Your thoughts are often unspoken words. If there is a lot of emotion involved and you go over and over an idea it begins to take form, even if you are afraid to say it out loud, even if it is something that you think you would not really do. The power is in the passion. Worry is a form of passion. It is not for the highest good of anyone, but it carries a lot of creative punch. You CANNOT CONTROL YOUR EMOTIONS WITH YOUR MIND, so saying that you “didn't mean what you said or thought” is a lie that you are telling yourself and that can be painful. Beloved Masters, acknowledging the truth of yourself, what ever it is, assists you to make important and loving changes in the direction of your journey. Honesty is not brutal. The EGO has attempted to convince you that self knowledge is too difficult to face, but when you are courageous and willing to know who you are fully, you find an amazing, blazing light of divine good within. This light has always been there, but it has been hidden by the shadows of Illusion. This is the Ascension! This is the second coming of Christedness! This will not be brought to you from outside. No one can give this to you, but you. If you accept the challenge of self discovery, you become your own teacher, Guru, leader because the wisdom has always been there. You just turned your back on it to play this game. Now the Homecoming is where you are—physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually. It is not about getting ahead—ahead of what or who? This is all about you. There is no measure of your divine potential against another creative Master. Each one is unique. What another person is doing is their own design. It may look terrible or wonderful, but it is what they chose. What do you choose? How would you have the World be? Are you focused on your World and your own design for greatness or are you measuring against others and finding that you or they are falling short? Breaking the addiction to “Yes, but they.....” is bigger than anyone can imagine. It isn't either they must change or I cannot stand it. It is “I AM powerful for myself”, “I AM willing to change my life” and most of all “I AM willing to Love myself so well that I can Love them (who ever they are).

We seek to empower each Master to awaken to their own divine potential. Our intensions are greater than you can imagine. We cannot change you, but we lend our essence to your desires. In the greatest of Love I remain your most humble servant. I AM the Lord St. Germain
