

October Newsletter

Has this year passed quickly or what? Here we are to the tenth month and only last week it was New Year's. We have an early fall in Lander, so I get to celebrate it twice. Our autumn is usually the first three weeks of September and then I travel to the east coast in time to see the beautiful colors of the Smoky Mountains.

Have you noticed the changes in time and how fast it seems to move? The planet is definitely expressing her self in every phase of life. It is like the question, "Which came first the chicken or the egg?" Only this question is, "Which comes first the emotional reaction of humanity or the upheaval of nature?" Certainly we are being tested on a daily/hourly basis to stay in center in the midst of crisis, conflict and the unknown and that is in our own homes and communities. Then factor in the global issues and worriers have plenty of fuel for their past time of worry. I have been contemplating the fact that we look to have initiations and often we think of them as the vision quest or some gathering of souls who have come together to experience a week or a week-end dedicated to the purpose of moving to the next level of spiritual growth.

I have noticed over the years of my life that the initiations often come in the form of life experiences. It is one thing to have a "wow" metaphysical happening, but the real proof of our metal comes not from the momentary experience, but from how we apply the truths that were gathered in our daily lives. Often people comment to me about those they know whom they consider spiritual and how these people have followed the path for so long and how they have studied, etc. and how they don't seem to have gained anything in the way their life is lived. I see that it isn't just what we know, but the understanding of its application to life that makes the difference in the long run of life.

One of the things that I know I have had to be aware of is forgiving the necessity to be perfect. I see people making them selves sick attempting to be perfect. St. Germain just chuckles and says that perfection is not the estate of the human condition. He says we are perfecting, but will not achieve perfection because perfection is a form of stasis and creates change immediately. So if humans reach what they call a state of perfection, everything changes and perfection transforms to a new condition.

As we are being called to participate in conscious creation and conscious living we, of necessity, must think from new perspectives, allow ourselves to connect more and more with our spirit which lives in us, not out in the world somewhere and accept that we are 100% responsible for the outcomes of our actions. We all see people doing the same things they have always done, the same way they have always done them and complaining that nothing ever changes. There are those who are hoping, praying and waiting for things to be different, but apparently they are unable to grasp the concept that the changes begin within us. I do not wave a hand and say that this is an easy shift to make. I have been seeking to apply it in the affairs of my life for years and all of the time I find places where I am still looking backward and places where I find new innovations of thought/feel as the energy of the planet is changing day by day, hour by hour. Thinking with the mind alone is a habit that is challenging to break. The discipline and understanding that thinking in the center of the body has much more peaceful outcomes, requires that we prove to ourselves again and again by experience, until we accept our own research and trust our own knowing. Conscious living is living the love far more than the fear. It is blending our awareness of “right” and “wrong” until the balance moves us through quantum leaps of new clarity into places that exist right now in more refined essence, but we haven’t been aware of these places because we cannot find them in the density of old ways of existing.

Life is a classroom, a constant study of self and we are certainly worth the effort it takes to know ourselves. The Magik of the new earth awaits us right here, right now!!

Rainbow Center News

Our October group will be on October 12 at the Rainbow Center for the Humanities. St. Germain will talk about “The Power of Mind and Soul’s Blending”. The necessity of the times is to move our process of thought into the “body-brain” that exists in the solar plexus. As we learn the process of thinking in a blended way the Soul guides our intellect to higher awareness and a perspective of our life and creations that help us to have a more magikal “now”.

CD’s can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2008groups.html

Next Evening with St. Germain

Our October evening will air at 7 p.m. ET on the 22nd. St. Germain will offer new meaning to “The Gracious Gift of Understanding” We believe that we understand when often it is knowledge rather than the depth of wisdom required in order to grasp the true meaning of our next step of evolution.

So many people are still looking into the physical world and asking, “What will happen next? Where do I go next? What is happening in the world?” The answers to where we are going lie beyond the realm of the purely physical and the changes that are required must first be made within. In other words, we actually answer our own questions by what we choose to believe about “What will happen next? Where do I go next? What is happening in my World?”

To sign up for the Evening on the website www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/live-events.html

To order CD’s or DVD’s www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/evenings.html

You have only a little over a month left to sign for the Georgia intensive, “LOVE: The Magikal Healer”. It will be held November 8-9, in Newborn, GA. Molly will be available for private sessions from October 30-November 11. Call Helen Dumba, 770 784-1060, for information, appointments and directions to the Crystal Organic Farm.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON

The Full Moon on October 14 continues the theme of Love and a greater understanding of what it truly is about.

Jupiter, which always takes us to a higher level of wisdom, forms a T-square with the Moon in Aries and the Sun in Libra. Aries focuses on “me and mine” and calls for self-examination. Libra, on the other hand, is looking at what “we can do together”. Cooperation at higher levels is in the spotlight. Whether it is personal or the governments of the world, everyone is going to feel the necessity to find a place within themselves where they can allow others to express their ideas and opinions without immediately making a conflict over the differences. Jupiter can lend itself to excess on the down side, which can cause people to be obstinate and opinionated. Since love is the desired energy to create, we are all being put in the position to look at our lives, actions and ideas from a new perspective.

Neptune, Chiron and the North Node, all in Aquarius are sextiling the Moon and trining the Sun. The humanitarian nature of Aquarius can bring the required balance to the table in negotiations of all kinds around the world...

Uranus is semi-sextile the Moon and quincunx the Sun. The impact is still more change and change always bring with it disruption. Uranus has its own brand of stubbornness and lawlessness which can cause irritable, irascible natures to blow up like land mines if they are not catered to. Uranus will be an element that demonstrates that the outcome of getting ones own way is not always success.

Since Neptune and Uranus have been mutually receptive for the last five and a half years the necessity to change our belief systems and raise our standards, as well as develop new levels of trust within ourselves, has been made clear. The burning question that everyone seems to run up against is, "What, exactly are these changes and how do I make them?" The ego tends to want to make one sweeping change and then move on to the next thing. The changes that are now required are incremental and are made a bit at a time as each situation arises. The sweeping change of Uranus has a tendency to overlook the finer points that Neptune can show us if we will operate in higher frequencies.

Pluto is in a wide angle (7 degrees) sextile to the Sun and trine to the Moon. Pluto peels away old layers of limitation and assists us to reach for higher understanding.

Mars, the lower octave of Pluto, has arrived at the point where Venus sat at the New Moon in September. This will push us to fulfill the dreams and creations that we were contemplating at that time. We can either find ourselves in a funk of frustration or frenzy of activity. Mars desire for action will be at the bottom of what is going on. Since Mars rules Aries, the sign that the Moon is in this Full Moon, you can bet that the emotions will run high no matter whether you are moving on with you life or sitting still.

The Sabian Symbol for the Moon at 22 degrees Aries is: "Gateway opening to the garden of all desired things. The feeling of joy and utter lack of inhibitions in objective life. Experiencing self-exaltation or bondage to the craving for happiness." St. Germain speaks of our return to the Garden of Eden, within us. It isn't going back to a physical garden somewhere, as much as allowing ourselves to live the "Eden existence" of freedom and joy in the highest of octaves. The doors to the inner garden can now be found and opened.

The Sabian Symbol for the Sun at 22 degrees Libra: "A child laughs as birds perch on an old fountain, and drink". The intuitive understanding of simple souls in spiritual matters. Youthful life-enjoyment and a fresh grasp of the soul's requirements".

The fool child watches as we drink at the fountain of ancient wisdom that flows within us and then fly freely into new dimensions of understanding.

NEW MOON

This New Moon brings the depth, intensity and regenerative power of Scorpio into play. Of all the signs, Scorpio is most capable of bringing itself back from what might appear to be total destruction. Scorpio in its highest and best is the eagle seeking spiritual truths in the rarified heights of new becoming. At its depths Scorpio can be the scorpion that will sting its opponent or itself to death simply because that is its nature. The Sun and Moon sit in a wide trine to Pluto, ruler of Scorpio which can intensify the energy of resurrection or cause things to crash and burn. Since Pluto is now on its way to Capricorn with a sixteen year destination we are sure to see both aspects of Scorpio and Pluto in operation in a grand way at this New Moon.

Saturn, Lord of time and space is in opposition to Uranus at this New Moon. Saturn seeks stability and status quo, while Uranus is all for upending the norm in favor of change and new growth. The economy certainly can begin to restore itself under these aspects, but for the moment the cure might appear to be worse than the disease. The good news is that Saturn is sextiling Mars, co-ruler of Scorpio and trining Jupiter. Both of these aspects support a Bullish market and an upturn in Wall Street. It really isn't so much how the stock market goes as it is where the collective consciousness of the planet rests. The aspects for this New Moon can go deep into that unconscious/subconscious of the collective mind and begin to root out out-moded belief systems that belong to the order that is now passing away. The death of the old order occurs as Scorpio and Pluto both move to bring about the birth of the Aquarian Age--when something dies, something is born. Every day the changes, that are taking us away from the old standards on the planet, become more obvious. The crushing heel of those in dominance has been considered the way of life for those who have been it for centuries. The pregnant potential of the New Age is equality in Truth rather than the illusion of equality, which is being revealed for the lie it is.

We have seen the governments say that they have the best interest of their people in mind as they go about spending tax money in useless, wasteful ways. If someone on the street came to you and said, "I want 50% of your income to fix up my house or inflate my bank account" you think they were crazy, but if the government demands this you are considered to be a bad citizen if you don't pay the taxes and you are even punished by the tyrant for not doing what you are told. All of these practices are inappropriate laws of the old order. The political system says that things must change slowly because the people are not ready to live in a new way. The revelations of Pluto show that those who have gotten fat on the money of the poor are not ready to live differently. The old order says, "That's just the way it is!"

The planets are moving us toward conscious living and as people live consciously, it isn't about fighting, but getting clear what is desired and moving the internal energy toward that goal, according to the highest good of ALL concerned.

We are being faced with finding the balance within us between "only mine is important" and "only theirs is important", to bringing about, honestly, the greatest good for all. This requires that those who believe the world owes them a living and those who believe that they are responsible for the world find a point of understanding and clarity within themselves. The planetary shifts are calling us to stop looking outward for the answers that we have within. It isn't what others are doing, but our reaction to what is happening that keeps us from finding peace. This is perhaps one of the most difficult lessons that we must grasp as we are being lifted to new heights of awareness. Scorpio always gives us the choice of continuing along the old, out-moded way or stretching in order to see the new road that is defined in a different light.

The Sabian Symbol for this New Moon at 6 degrees of Scorpio is: "California Hills: The Gold Rush shatters their peace." The passionate quest for Universal values versus the destructive decay of a culture dedicated to easy living. The leap to grasp opportunity brought about by avid seeking. There is nothing wrong with living a good life. There is nothing wrong with struggle. Both are choices that require a middle ground of clear wisdom so that they can be transformed into something greater. There are those who struggle and celebrate it and there are those who hate the fact that their life is not easy. There are those who have ease and wish that life would bring greater challenge and there are those who are immobilized by their ease.

Again, it isn't what others are doing, but our reaction to what is happening that prevents us from finding what we desire. We have been educated to be dissatisfied where we are, rather than to seek something greater for our next adventure. There is a difference.

TAROT TALK

October is the month of Libra and the Tarot card for Libra is Balance, number eight in the Voyager deck. Eight is the number of infinity. Our power is truly never ending, if we recognize the source does not exist here on earth outside of us, but here on earth within us.

The I Ching Hexagram for Balance is #63, Chi Chi/After Completion.

When perfect equilibrium has been reached, any movement may cause order to revert to disorder.

In many of the disciplines of the spiritual path the teaching of moving so lightly that you leave no footprints is very important. Balance is found when being seen is not as important, as being felt. The balance of the dancer is a state of mind of "now". Move lightly as the wind, blend in like the chameleon and shift with the light of the crystal.

Balance is not stasis, but harmony. We hold the scale of balance in our own hand. The word balance comes from two Latin words: bi meaning "dual" and lanx meaning "scale". The balance between opposites requires right and honorable action. Follow the “high” path. Let balance be your teacher.

When the balance card comes up in a reading it is suggesting that you forgive swinging back and forth between what you want and what others expect of you and surrender your desire in love to God/Goddess/All that is. Surrender allows the harmony of balance to reveal itself to you. This is a card that addresses choices and the peaceful way of making them.

THIS IS A MOST INTERESTING GROUP!

I would like to introduce you to HUB, Humanity Unites Brilliance. This is a most exciting group and the basic premise has St. Germain’s signature. Check out the website: <http://Iamlife.hubhub.org> While I was in California I attended a HUB meeting. I met some truly wonderful people and was even more impressed with the project, the more I heard about it. Non-profit organizations generally can only put about 10% of the proceeds into the field because of the instability of month to month income. HUB is a for-profit organization and puts 40 % of the monthly proceeds into the field. A wonderful doctor from Haiti, Carol Jean-Murut spoke to the group about the value of micro-loans to African women. She told us that her grandmother fed, clothed and educated herself and her sister with a micro-loan that was provided by a friend. This friend put a $25 deposit at the general store and Carol’s grandmother would purchase $25 worth of fabric, make clothing, sell it at the local market and then pay off the loan and buy $25 more of cloth to repeat the process. We, here in the U.S. can hardly fathom that a mere $25 could make such a difference, but in other countries it can help a woman start a business. The food, water and education that the monthly gift to HUB provides are just the beginning. The assistance in getting a business started so that the people can become more self-sufficient is such a blessing. In return for the monthly donation you have access to knowledgeable people who can give you guidance and direction for getting your own business moving in a more positive direction. If you would like to join the HUB group, give me a call and I will sign you up. 307 335-8113

CRYSTAL CORNER

THE CRYSTAL CORNER

We are close to October, my birth month. In addition to Opal, my birthstone, I have a very real attraction to Moonstone. This stone carries a lot of Goddess energy and will certainly assist us in our ongoing.

The white Moonstone has always been an aspect of the purity of the Goddess, an aspect of the inner nature, the feminine self and how to receive. It draws in and allows the love of the feminine nature, the Goddess. Many will have a great fear of it, being attracted and repelled as by a cobra, for they desire the powerful love of the Goddess and fear their abuse of it in other times.

Green Moonstone is associated in the physical with the liver and gallbladder and brings a sweetening to issues that would bring bile. It is almost what you would call a gem-quality antacid. It would sweeten the digestion, all the words and thoughts that are difficult to digest or release from the body. This is a little more grounding than the white Moonstone and brings the emotional healing more to address physical organs. It is not recommended as an elixir.

Rainbow Moonstone brings together the essence of Isis, the magic, the essential nature in the heart, that energy of beloved Mother when the entity desires to be held. It is the essence of the divine Goddess to assist the woman within to know her power, that essence of the ocean that is so deep it is terrifying because of its primal nature and yet, the desire to hold it because it is there.

Vivianite is another Goddess stone and the aspect of high feminine understanding. It brings Goddess forth in her strength, in unconditional love, a beautiful love dark like the night, mystical as woman's nature. It creates the extreme strength of love with no fear of the gentleness of it, for with the gentleness there is great power. This crystal is attuned with the third eye.

And so ends another column. Enjoy love, light and laughter every day!
