

SEPTEMBER NEWSLETTER

As I am preparing this newsletter it is August 15 and our high today was 67. There is a lot of speculation about an early winter. We certainly have had a lovely summer. As far as I know we have only gone over 100 twice.

I neglected to mention last month that the pictures Dorian took were with her brand new professional Sony camera. The first one was the Fourth of July parade here in Lander. The second one was a huge fireworks show that is held on July 3rd. We were about five miles away from the fireworks across the valley, yet all the people that were watching the show on the ground and were lighted by the fireworks, showed up plainly in the photo. Amazing!

TRIBUTE

Our pictures this month are a tribute to our friend Margo LeVitre who passed over on July 31 in Reno, NV. Here is Margo among the aspen trees she loved (first picture) and she is flying free now (second picture). We love you, Margo.

One of our local landmarks burned earlier this month. The Magpie restaurant was in a building that was over one hundred years old. The fire was started two buildings away by a faulty electric pole. All of the buildings involved had brick or concrete walls except the Magpie. We went by the location today and there is nothing left but a pile of rubble. It is sad to see the historical buildings fall, but I suppose that is a part of the changing times. It appears that many of the old structures around the country and even the world are coming down, one way or another.

Our trip to Hawaii is now only a few weeks away. When we began to plan to bring this dream to reality, early in the year, it seemed like something in the far, distant future. Now that future is almost here. We got a lovely surprise. The resort contractor called last week and said that the condo where we had scheduled to stay is having some construction done. They offered, at no extra cost, to move us from that condo to one that is more upscale and from an ocean-view to an ocean-front room. Wow! We are double excited now. There are six of us going and only one has been to Hawaii, so it ought to be interesting with all of the "newbies".

RAINBOW CENTER NEWS

Next Group

Our next group will not be until October 12, "The Power of Mind and Soul's Blending". As we move into higher levels of consciousness there is a place within us that allows us to see/feel, hear/feel and think/feel. The feeling place is the seat of the Soul. Bringing our intellect to merge with the spirit so that we can realize our greatness from the depths of our being is another magnificent step to Ascension.

Lander is looking for a colon therapist. There is no one in the area of Lander or Riverton who does colon therapy. We also would love to have a Rolfer. Our Rolfer moved to Boise over a year ago and even though we have held an intention for a new one to come, so far no one has. We are two hours from Casper and Rawlins, three hours from Jackson and about an hour and a half from Rock Springs. If you would love to live in a beautiful Wyoming town near the Wind River mountains and have a corner on the market of your art, give me a call at 307 335-8113.

ALOHA FROM HAWAII!!

While I am in Hawaii, September 17-29, I will be available to anyone on the island of Maui who might want a personal reading. During that time you can reach me at my cell 307 349-0676 or 307 349-2675. If you cannot reach me on the cell (it will be turned off during the workshops we are attending) call my home phone 307 335-8113. I will be picking up my messages. Aloha!

Our last group “You are Blue Diamond, High Definition Beings” is out on CD’s. St. Germain has defined our current phase of development as a move to high definition awareness. He speaks of the Blue Diamond that is in the crown of the head and the one that touches our solar plexus. He also describes the Merkaba as a three dimensional blue diamond.

CD’s can be purchased on the website at www.voiceofthegatekeepers.com/2008groups.html

ASTROLOGY

NEW MOON

In my haste to get the August newsletter out I left out the second New Moon in August, on the 30th. So here is the info.

This New Moon in Virgo turns our attention to a more pragmatic point of view. In Leo we learn how to follow our heart. In Virgo there is a blending of head and feeling as the emotional nature of the Moon is directed by Virgo's more practical nature. Other than in the sign of Cancer which it rules, the Moon in Virgo is most intuitive and in touch with emotions. The sensible focus of this New Moon is heightened by the closeness of Saturn to the Sun and Moon. Saturn is the principle of time, space and all manner of physical manifestation. Saturn defines the boundaries of our life through discipline, definition, stability and crystallization. In Virgo Saturn seeks the perfect form, the most appropriate means of expression from heart and soul. Saturn can be a great supporter of our forgiving our "isness" by reminding us that we are in charge of our life—we create our own reality, make our own choices and we have the ability to change the things that no longer serve our life. Saturn exactly conjuncts the Sun on September third and highlights the places in our life where we are required to fortify, redesign or eliminate what no longer is functional.

Saturn can be the stern father energy, but its sober countenance is brightened now, by the approach of the second of three trines to Jupiter, which will be exact on September 8th. The third trine will occur on November 21, a week before Thanksgiving, when we enter into the beginning of our yearly time of festivities. Actually, Saturn and Jupiter moved into a trine of about 3 degrees on August 20th and will remain in close aspect until December 11th. Trines are not as motivational as squares or oppositions, but they inspire our lives and reduce resistance to change by offering new insights and opportunities.

On the 7th of September Jupiter stations to go direct and it may seem as though a veil has lifted and you can see things that just "had not been there before". This will take the brakes off of that stuck feeling that many of you have expressed while Jupiter has been moving retrograde. Jupiter represents our beliefs and ethics on which we base our perspective of reality—how we operate in life. In Capricorn, Jupiter shows us that anything is possible if we are willing to stick to it and if the attitude is for the highest good of all concerned. This is all given a big boost when Pluto stations to go direct on September 8th. Here again, things that "have not been moving" may jump forward rapidly. Don't be leaning on your belief that things will never get better or you might find yourself on your face. The movement of these two major planets within twenty-four hours increases our willingness to make big changes and risk a bit to make them. This movement is the Fool child of the Tarot stepping out on faith. The big question is, "Have we done our homework?" When the outer planets go retrograde it is as though we are given time to assess where we are and make pertinent changes because when the planet goes direct we will be moved forward along the track that we are following, whether it is where we desire to be or not.

Mercury, ruler of Virgo is at 2 degrees of Libra making the first of three conjunctions to Mars on September 8th. The second conjunction is in Libra on September 23rd and the third will be on November 28th at 9 degrees of Sagittarius. Libra is about fairness and justice. Mars, the Warrior, is not comfortable in the soft, gentle energy of Libra, so it seeks to stir up a conflict, somehow. The Mercury/Mars conjunction always sharpens the mind. The issue is that the keen intellect can sharpen the tongue as well. Under a Mercury/Mars conjunction we are required to walk our talk in integrity.

The Sabian Symbol for 8 degrees of Virgo is "A five-year-old child takes a first dancing lesson; leaning to use one's capacity for emotional self-expression according to cultural standards." This new Moon requires that we examine and remove the obstacles that deny forward motion in the creativity of the life now. One reason children learn so easily is that they do not believe that they should already know how to do everything, so they willingly learn what the lesson is about. Adults can block themselves by the judgment that there is something wrong with them if they do not already have all of the answers.

When we forgive the need to be perfect, we may then begin to be ourselves, masterfully.

FULL MOON

The Full Moon of September 15th is called the Harvest Moon. The Full Moon closest to the Autumnal Equinox is called the Harvest Moon because it's light last late into the day in order to give farmers more time in the fields at harvest.

The Sun will be at 23 degrees of Virgo and the Moon at 23 degrees of Pisces at the time of this Full Moon. Uranus will be in close conjunction to the Sun, opposing the Moon which will create a changeable emotional climate around the Full Moon. The emotions are always somewhat erratic around the Full Moon, but when the energy of Uranus is factored in, bizarre will be a word you may hear a lot. Uranus loves to up-end the established way of doing things and disruption of the old order will surely come out of this aspect.

Neptune will be quincunx the Sun and semi-sextile the Moon. These aspects are generally considered minor, but take on much greater import when an outer planet is involved, then add the gravitational pull of the Full Moon and the power increases again. The influences are subtle, but they cause us to change our perspective, which leads to a shift in attitude and altered life experiences. The fact that Neptune rules Pisces, the sign of the Moon's transit and is trining Mercury, which rules Virgo, could bring a deeper connection between head and heart at this time.

Pluto at 29 degrees of Sagittarius is the widest aspect of these three outer planets. This does not take away from its impact on our lives. The actual scope of influence that this Lord of the Under World carries extends from a few days before September 12 when the Sun/Uranus make exact opposition to the 20th of September when Pluto and the Sun make an exact square.

Pluto is evolution and Uranus is revolution. These two planets are approaching a square (within 8 degrees) and this will herald extraordinary changes in social, political and global transformation. This is exactly what St. Germain was referring to when he spoke of 2008 being a year of Evolutionary Revelation.

During the sixties Uranus made three exact conjunctions to Pluto (1965-66, 16-17 degrees Virgo). Between the years 2012-2015 these two planets will make seven exact squares between 8-15 degrees of Aries-Capricorn. Aries is the sign of new beginnings and self discovery, while Capricorn takes us to the highest point in the chart to get the most advantageous perspective of where we will go next, with our evolution. By the summer of 2009 Uranus and Pluto will square at 6 degrees apart, by 2010, they will be 4 degrees apart when they square and by 2011 they will be 2 degrees from exact square. With each degree of closure on the square they will be pushing us harder and harder to manifest the dreams that were seeded in the sixties. The square that Pluto is currently making to Uranus, the Sun and Moon generates a mutable T-square that bring an evolutionary imperative for the collective consciousness—especially those who have aspects in the later degrees of the mutable signs—Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius or Pisces.

T-squares always influence the sign that opposes the point of the T, which is Pluto. The energy is flowing toward Gemini with its desire to gather knowledge and information. We may suddenly find that we feel “over-informed”, that there is just too much going on. It is not about withdrawing, but about developing discernment.

Lazaris says that July 25th (the day that Sirius rises) is the most powerful day of the year. It marks the beginning of the “Dog Days” of summer. The second most powerful day of the year is September 23 (when Sirius sets and we move into harvest time and on toward winter). The fall equinox occurs on September 23rd, so the autumn season begins on a most powerful note, heralding the harvest time to be rich and important. Mercury turns retrograde on September 24th and sets a tone for the next three weeks that brings a requirement to consider what we say and how we say it.

The Sabian Symbols for this Full Moon are for the Sun at 23 degrees Virgo: “A lion tamer displays his skill and character; the need to tame one's vital energies in order to fulfill one's destiny.” And for the Moon at 23 degrees Pisces: “A materializing medium giving a séance; the ability to give of one's own vital energy to substantiate one's conscious ideals or unconscious desires.”

The planets are taking us into new horizons. We are being moved away from the old. What of the Uranian wildness must you harness in order to achieve what you desire? Are you channeling your energy into a focused point of accomplishment or are you dealing with scattered forces?

We are made of love. Love can call us to let go of things that do not serve us in order to bring about a greater good. We are being gently lifted, pushed or pulled depending on how we are responding to the changes. Remember this phase at all times: “I AM full of Love!” Say it until it resonates in your soul and becomes the essence by which you live.

NEW MOON

This New Moon in Libra occurs on September 30 and shines the spotlight on relationships and our understanding of what love truly is. American slang has made love a word that is applied to food, objects, and activities, as well as people. Latin has several different words to define the type of love that is being expressed. We have lost our perspective on love because we only have the one word to cover everything from passion involvement to a mild attraction or admiration.

Venus, the ruler of Libra is in Scorpio, at this New Moon. Libra teaches us to seek balance in our relationships. We learn about cooperation and how to find a middle ground in our negotiations.

Scorpio is a catalyst and causes transformation for all of the parties involved in any situation. Our partners, whether love or business, bring us mirrors to assist us to make the changes that will improve our own lives or the flow of the common good. When there is truly love there is a compassion and willingness to be forgiving of the shortcomings of others. Often we use the word love, when a better, more honest word might be useful or convenient. We are now required to consider what the true feelings are when we use the word love.

We have been brought to believe that once we enter into a love relationship, it is only natural to set out to change the person we are with. This often leads to the idea that if the partner would change then everything in the relationship would be fine. You raise your right hand and the mirror raises its left hand, so mirroring is never the exact opposite or exactly the same issue in both people, but if one is having a challenge with the other in relationship, the one who thinks changes should be made, requires to look within themselves first and then look at the partner again with a cleaner lens.

The Libra New Moon and Venus in Scorpio will bring some interesting insights into love and what it really is for you personally.

Where Venus lies in your chart--by house, sign and degree--defines your preferences and requirements in relationship and lifestyle choices. Venus in Scorpio asks us to take a look at our desires and motivations. Are we living by our own values or are we attempting to live by a standard that is not in compliance with what we truly want in our life? In other words, "Are you being faithful to yourself in your life?" Your relationships will give you no more than you are willing to accept or trust, no matter what you say.

Neptune, which is the higher octave of Venus, can help to dissolve our illusions and bring us to see the real and authentic in our lives. At 22 degrees

Aquarius, Neptune is in a close susquiadrate to the New Moon. This assists us to gain a greater, more heart felt understanding that we are one of a kind and yet the same; we are unique and yet inseparable parts of a whole. We have, for so long, focused on differences as something to conflict about. It is time to begin to see the differences as important features that make the whole Holy.

Neptune's close trine to Mercury in Libra shows us that equality is not uniformity. We can be individuals and contribute wonderful gifts to the final outcome of any creation. Synergy is defined as "the sum total is greater than any one of its parts". This does not mean that the participants must lose their identity in order to be a part of the whole, but that as they are dedicated to the wholeness we receive more than they might have alone.

The Sabian Symbol for this New Moon at 7 degrees Libra: "A woman feeding chickens and protecting them from the hawks; the need to face the antagonism of 'powers of darkness' as one attempts to feed the mind of as yet helpless and frightened apprentices."

We are being shown the things that are most important to us and the things that we fear the most. It is to remember that the truth of love is the foundation of life on the planet. When you doubt that love exists open your heart, mind and spirit to experience a love that surpasses everything.

TAROT TALK

Our card of the month is the Hermit which is associated with the sign of Virgo. The Virgin is not about sexual abstinence, but about the purity of heart and purpose that brings the individual to be so clear about their direction toward higher consciousness that it influences every aspect of their life.

The Hermit is about internal examination. The Hermit goes into the cave to find enlightenment. Some continue to stay in the cave for the whole of their life, because they believe that the enlightenment exists only in the cave. Once we achieve the wisdom, it is then important to bring it into the light and live it so that others, who may not care to go into the cave, can find it. It isn't so much about telling others how to live the wisdom, as it is to apply it so well in your own life that the possibilities become obvious to others.

The Hermit's number is nine. The three sets of three are body, mind and spirit. Use your work in the world as a spiritual path that will assist you to achieve your highest destiny. As you finish a set of lessons in your life you are shown the next set. This often requires that you move into the stillness within (the cave of the Hermit) to gain new awareness.

The Hermit achieves the height of perfection by following his/her own path with courage and integrity, which brings them to the harvest of rewards for the efforts exerted. The path to enlightenment is broad. If one gets caught in the belief in the narrow way they may miss the fulfillment that enlightenment brings.

Meditation is a wonderful way of getting in touch with the inner/higher self. It all depends on the focus of the meditation as to what the outcome will be. Some seek to escape into meditation and it leaves them ungrounded. Others worry and call it meditation, but they are disappointed because they say they cannot find God there. Where fear and anger exist love cannot be. However, love waits for the slightest opportunity to rush in and elevate the consciousness. The Hermit seeks Truth rather than just agreement with opinions. Truth is greater than all of the thoughts of humanity.

When you get the Hermit in a reading it is time to be still with yourself and listen within. Go into the "cave" of your inner knowing and take the time to hear the answers that are available there. Sometimes when the ego is afraid, we go inside ever so briefly and then emerge swearing that there are no answers within. The direction is always there, but we must have the patience of the "Hanged Man" and the faith of the "Fool" to find it.

THIS IS A MOST INTERESTING GROUP!

I would like to introduce you to HUB, Humanity Unites Brilliance. This is a most exciting group and the basic premise has St. Germain's signature. Check out the website: <http://Iamlife.hubhub.org> While I was in California I attended a HUB meeting. I met some truly wonderful people and was even more impressed with the project, the more I heard about it. Non-profit organizations generally can only put about 10% of the proceeds into the field because of the instability of month to month income. HUB is a for-profit organization and puts 40 % of the monthly proceeds into the field. A wonderful doctor from Haiti, Carol Jean-Murut spoke to the group about the value of micro-loans to African women. She told us that her grandmother fed, clothed and educated herself and her sister with a micro-loan that was provided by a friend. This friend put a $25 deposit at the general store and Carol's grandmother would purchase $25 worth of fabric, make clothing, sell it at the local market and then pay off the loan and buy $25 more of cloth to repeat the process. We, here in the U.S. can hardly fathom that a mere $25 could make such a difference, but in other countries it can help a woman start a business. The food, water and education that the monthly gift to HUB provides are just the beginning. The assistance in getting a business started so that the people can become more self-sufficient is such a blessing. In return for the monthly donation you have access to knowledgeable people who can give you guidance and direction for getting your own business moving in a more positive direction. If you would like to join the HUB group, give me a call and I will sign you up. 307 335-8113

CRYSTAL CORNER

Another month has flown by and I've been contemplating just how much I've enjoyed the summer. There has been an easy flow and peacefulness to it that has been missing in recent years. How great is that??

This month I would like to continue with the metals. They sometimes get short changed as people focus more on the crystals.

Galena is a silver colored metal that is an expression of an ancient connection to a brotherhood that came to earth perhaps a billion years ago. They were of a time when the mind drove the craft. This was a very primitive place and they wanted to come here so they had to step down their vibrations intensely. Their fuel was nothing like we know it now. It was virtually crystalline in form. It had an essence of the sacred. This is a composite of the fuel. This carries such an encoding of angelic essence. It has a certain amount of antiseptic or antibiotic quality to it. If it is carried on the body, it assists the force field around the entity to become more resilient, more resistant to the low level vibrations, to the viruses and other infections that are being broadcast in the air.

Another silvery metal is Hematite. When used in a meditative way, it can connect you with those from other dimensions, those who are called extraterrestrials and those who have come from other vibrational dimensions. Therefore, the Hematite is very good about bringing people back into their bodies which is vitally important in this time because most of humanity is not in their body below the heart chakra. This is to bring them back into the body in a solid way so that they can face what they are attempting to escape. But also, it is not only about grounding but also for protection. As I return to my body, I am safe there and then, as I am in my body, I will open that spiritual ear gate to communicate with those from higher dimensional frequencies.

As the earth is ascending, as we are ascending, everything is ascending including the stones. As we require greater vibrational levels the stones are evolving to assist us as we allow. And what beautiful instruments to work with!

Until next month, enjoy love, light and laughter!
