

September Newsletter

Our pictures this month are: First, an update on my great grandson Chancy. He is now eight and a half months old. One of the happiest babies I have ever seen. Our second picture is the graphic from our flier for the intensive. The last picture, toward the end of the newsletter is a mountain sheep who was posing by the roadside in Shoshoni National Forest which is about ten miles from our house.

Here we are starting the last third of 2009. Soon I will be heading east for the annual fall tour. I will be stopping briefly in Alabama, then on to DeBary, FL. for a week and then to the Crystal Organic Farm in Newborn, GA for two weeks. Pending is a possible stop in Arkansas on the way home. I am always delighted when new doors open along the way.

I have been watching the conflict over health reform. Being a “senior citizen” myself, I am amazed that the people of the United States could draw some of the strange conclusions that they have. We can certainly see the “Tower of Babel” effect operating in full force. One of the things that I am learning in studying nutrition is that when someone is addicted to alcohol, refined sugar or any strong substances (coffee, tea, power drinks, drugs {street or prescription} or just plain poor eating habits) they develop a disconnect from being clear and present in the moment. When fear is the motivating force in the life because of this disconnect, then monsters lurk in every corner. One of the major factors that I feel would best be required of everyone in accordance with personal health is to learn and practice better eating habits. The United States is the most over-fed and undernourished country in the world. There are people starving for the lack of food in many places, but a great portion of the American populace is starving even though there is food available. Government control has made sure that there are pesticides and chemical fertilizers, but the soil is depleted and the chemicals are poisoning the food rather than making it better. We are being called back to the land, perhaps to grow our own food again.

In this small town where I live there is a huge community garden that is tended by the people who use it. There is also an organic farmer’s market every week. Learning to eat better takes devotion to the care and feeding of self in a most loving way. It also requires, for many, breaking some life long addictions to unfortunate eating habits. As people mature they tend to want more salt and sugar—one because these substances moisten the body, but also because the memory says, “food doesn’t taste like it used to”. We have fewer taste buds as the body passes years. Too much salt, especially of the iodized type, contributes to high-blood pressure and when combined with anger and fear the combination can be deadly. So many of these people who are “venting their spleen at town hall meetings on health will probably wind up in a doctors office within a short period of time because of elevated blood pressure and/or stroke. They think they are letting off steam, but when the focus is on how angry they are it is just adding to the pressure on their heart, liver and kidneys. Get a whole crowd of angry, frightened people together and all you get is mob mentality.

I do not feel, for myself, that screaming at one another is necessarily an American right. It certainly is not the way of highest consciousness in handling important affairs. Clear, centered behavior can achieve much more in a shorter period of time. One reason committees don't always work is because of all of the animated discussion of opinions that take the conversation so far afield from the original point that no one can remember what the subject was in the beginning.. I agree that people have an absolute right to be heard, but who can hear anything in a shouting match. If the idea is important it deserves to be spoken in a way that everyone can hear and feel into. We must remember that Masters require no defense, give no excuses and have no need to explain their actions unless it is to give a teaching. Being on the defensive allows no protection or exercising of rights for self or others.

The changes that are being implemented by the present government have been a long time coming and even though change can be trying and often puts us out of control, it is always for the best in the long run. We either move forward or die. The second option is not too appealing.

St. Germain says that the affairs of the planet have reached a point of non-sustainability. "You cannot keep going up without support under you.

As we learn how to live according to the highest good of all concerned it requires that we reach for those dimensions where the energy of equality is not only true, but acceptable. Too many have born the inequality for too few for too long. I fully understand that you cannot give someone something that they are unwilling to except even if what you are giving them is what they asked for. For example, there are people who are up in arms over the potential of government health insurance, but don't want the medicare taken away. Duh!

We must pay attention to the fact that there is no health bill yet and anything that is out there is basically unformed texted that is still subject to change at a moments notice. There have always been people who might put in a living will that they do not want to be kept alive by artificial means. This has been a point of legality that has been argued and sometimes these people did not get their wishes. The new health bill is simply attempting to make personal wishes important enough to be honored. It is not an intention of the government to euphemize the elderly. In case you haven't noticed that could wipe out a great portion of the congress. I don't believe they would even attempt a rider that might put their own lives in jeopardy. Let's get CLEAR!!!

We are a country of wise and intelligent people. We require to remember that, as everything on the planet is going in new directions. I am pleased to be on Earth at this time and I feel that what is going on globally is positive, as a whole.

WISDOM/COMPASSION

Our virtue for August is Compassion/Wisdom. These are virtues associated with the Goddess Kwan Yin, the feminine Buddha. She teaches of compassion and healing through the wisdom of your words. The more you come to attend to the deep internal wisdom that flows through your soul the more you develop compassion for yourself and others. This is a very feminine virtue and draws on the intent to balance your life with God/Goddess/All That Is.

INTEGRITY

In September St. Germain brings the ninth Virtue of our year long series on spiritual Virtues that are connected to the twelve strands of DNA. This Virtue is Integrity.

Both CD's and DVD's of the first six virtues are available as singles or as a set. If you purchase the set of six virtues you get the sixth one free. You can also purchase the second six Virtues as a set or individually.

ASTROLOGY

FULL MOON

The Full Moon on September 4 focuses on the logic and practicality of Virgo and the spirituality and mysticism of Pisces. Virgo analyzes everything. Pisces tends to take things on Faith. Virgo corresponds to physical form and Pisces to spiritual transcendence.

We are truly entering the time of changing paradigms and quantum thinking. We are being pulled from our totally linear ways of thinking into a place where there is no time/space continuum as we have known it. Virgo says, “This is the time and we must act, now!” Pisces says, “In the divine time all things will occur!” Our “instant pudding” society does not comprehend living without boxes and the total definition of time in the linear sense of past, present and future. One of the most interesting works of today to help begin to understand beyond what we have said is all there is, is “What the Bleep Do We Know”. It takes us to a new level of understanding and, in fact, the thought processes and energy movement on Earth has evolved considerably since “What the Bleep” was made.

On September 6 Mercury goes retrograde at 5 degrees of Libra. It is sitting in a square with Mars at 6 degrees Cancer and a waning square to Pluto at 00 degrees. This configuration challenges us to get our conceptions and our perceptions in alignment. On September 29 Mercury stations to go direct at 22 degrees Virgo. What seems reasonable now may not seem so sensible by the end of the month. Pluto’s powers of revelation are emphasized by its station to go direct on September 11. It has been in retrograde motion since April 4 of this year. We have had five months to identify what needed to be revamped or restructured. If we were willing to eliminate the dead wood we will be ready to move ahead now. One of the tricky teachings of Pluto is about the importance of timing. We have lived so long with an idea that if we push hard enough we can make what we want happen exactly when we want it to. More and more we are moving into a space where timing operates according to Divine Law rather than man’s impatience. You ask for something and you think I WANT IT RIGHT NOW! God hears, assesses the request and says, “IN A WHILE, WHEN YOU ARE READY, RATHER THAN WHEN YOU THINK YOU NEED IT”.

All of the big outer planets—Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto—are making such potent aspects, to each other, to other transiting planets and to places in most every horoscope on the planet that we are vibrating with new energy. It makes us feel strange, lost, ungrounded, out of control, but most of all it is beginning to allow us to feel at home within ourselves. The North Node will be moving through Capricorn from August 22, 2009 to March 4, 2011. This brings us a message to own our power fully and accept the consequences of our personal choices. As St. Germain says, “It’s not about them, it’s not about them, it is NOT ABOUT THEM!!!”

Saturn, Capricorn’s ruling planet, is in exact quincunx to Neptune on September 12 and is moving toward its third exact opposition with Uranus. Again we are motivated to “Think Differently” and seek unorthodox rather than conventional methods. (Example: Killing the enemy is extremely old hat). Remember Einstein said that you cannot solve a problem in the same place that it was created. We must get out of the box and stay out. Trying to hold on to the past by going back and forth mentally and/or emotionally just confuses the issue.

The Sabian symbols for this Full Moon encourage staying in center (calmness and clarity) and finding creative, NONVIOLENT ways of resolving conflicts and problems. For the Sun at 13 degrees of Virgo: “A powerful statesman overcomes a state of political hysteria” and the Moon at 13 degrees Pisces: “An ancient sword, used in many battles, is displayed in a museum”. Grab the edge of your chair, we are about to take off and it will be warp speed. Your higher self wants to talk to you. Are you willing to listen? Follow your heart and not your head. We get to be like the Fool and walk to the edge of the cliff. As we step off, we can recognize full well that there is a foundation under us even if we do not see it.

NEW MOON

This New Moon in Virgo occurs on September 18. It brings ideas and physical effects together in a focused way. The process of packing a bag for travel or getting a house ready to move are very Virgo type activities. Employing the discernment and clarity to decide what is most useful and necessary for the moment and clarifying what will serve us later.

This New Moon reminds us that we must utilize what we have and eliminate that which is not useful. Our bodies do this naturally and amazingly, drawing heat to center when we are cold and directing scarce nutrients to places where they are most required.

Psychologically, we are much less adaptable. We believe that we just could not live without cell phones or microwave ovens, even though both are proving to be most detrimental to our health. St. Germain says that we are moving quite rapidly toward a time when we will remember that most of our inventions take more energy to use than if we simply allowed ourselves to “ask and receive what we desire”. We have become dependant on machines and devices to perform the MAGIK that was ours for eons of time. With many of these inventions, the time, money and effort that we expend far exceed the benefits that we actually get from them. Saturn’s close conjunction with this New Moon emphasizes Virgo’s message that less can be more.

This New Moon also spotlights the third of five oppositions that Saturn and Uranus are making. The first four oppositions occur in Virgo/Pisces with the last of these taking place on April 2010. The fifth one which happens on July 26, 2010 will be in Libra/Aries. Saturn opposes Uranus every 40 years or so and every time it does it corresponds to global social, political and economic upheaval. The last opposition between these two very catalytic planets happened in the mid-1960’s. It was a tumultuous, but highly creative time. Any opposition operates much like a Full Moon in that it highlights both the positive and negative expressions of the archetype involved. The mystic Grim Reaper (Saturn) opposing the God of Chaos (Uranus) energizes the contrast between entitlement and equality, entrenchment and progress, hierarchy and grassroots initiative. Those who have planets in their natal charts between 20-30 degrees of the mutable signs (Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces) will feel these oppositions most dramatically. The generations born with Uranus in Virgo (1961-1969), Neptune in Virgo (1928-1943) and Pluto in Virgo (1956-1972) have very special gifts to offer at this pivotal time in history.

Mercury, traditional ruler of Virgo makes the third of four squares to Pluto this year on the day before this New Moon, emphasizing a necessity for integrity, honesty and resourcefulness. You might reflect back March 27 and August 26, 2009 to see how the previous squares affected your life at the time. The final square on October 10, 2009 can bring insights into where you might be required to investigate or incorporate new information. Mercury’s conjunction to the Sun on September 20 and opposition to Uranus on the 23, the same day that the Sun squares Pluto (1 degree Libra-Capricorn) enables new perceptions, different options and strengthens the resolve for moving forward into new levels of function.

The Sabian symbol for 26 degrees Virgo suggests that we are learning how to serve and participate in something we may not yet fully understand: “A boy with a censer serves the priest near the altar; the first stage of actual participation in the great ritual of planetary evolution.” Where can you best serve now? What talents have you overlooked about yourself that may be some of your finest attributes? It is time to set boundaries, get your priorities straight and focus on your loftiest goals. How can you improve your health and happiness? Change is always a step to the next greatest level of joy and abundance.

CRYSTAL CORNER

One thing I have learned over the years is that we healers aren’t very good at working on ourselves. As with all people, we have challenges in our lives that we feel we ought to be able to heal. And, we are always the hardest on ourselves. I have come face to face with a gall bladder full of stones and scar tissue and damage that renders anything other than removal improbable. Some of the stones (not gall stones) I will be working with deal with the emotions that would create dis-ease in the liver and gall bladder. Issues of the liver have to do with the warrior nature, physical affairs and emotional conflicts.

Bloodstone, literally a blood purifier, works well with the liver and kidneys. It is about purification and detoxification of physical essential systemic imbalances.

Green Moonstone is associated in the physical with the liver and gall bladder and brings a sweetening to issues that would bring bile. It is almost what you would call a gem-quality antacid. It would sweeten the digestion, all the words and thoughts that are difficult to digest or release from the body. The green moonstone is a little more grounded than the other colors. This brings the emotional healing to how it would address physical organs. It would work best if placed on the different organs of the body and allowed to rest there or be worn there. If placed in the area of the adrenals, it would cool the warrior nature.

Sardonix is another stone that is a powerful kidney cleanser and will draw toxins out of that area of the body. It will assist with the liver and gall bladder and will also work well in the area of the spleen chakra for restoring emotional balance there.

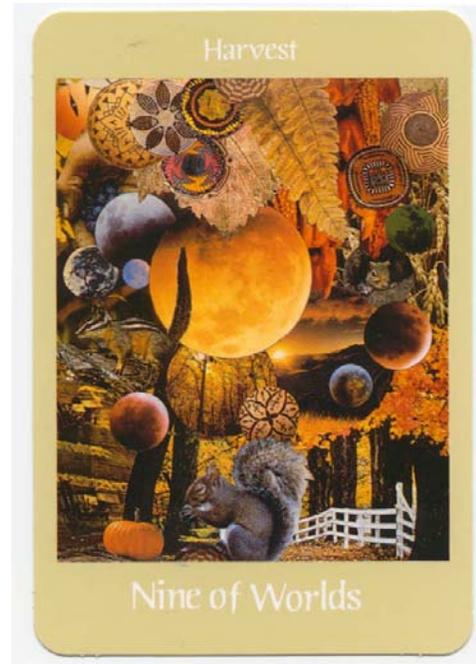

So, this is another step on my path to health and wellbeing. God bless our processes!

TAROT TALK

The September card is the Nine of Worlds—Harvest. You have sewn the seeds of lifetimes, but have you stayed with the crop in order to receive the rewards or did you walk away because you did not believe that you deserved the good? It is time once more for harvest, where do you stand? There is a vast difference between entitlement and genuine deservedness. “You owe me” is a statement that is dying with the old order. We have been taught that hard work deserves its own reward, but what if you simply begin to allow love, money and well being to come to you because they belong to you? What if you stop fighting for what is yours and open your mind, heart and Soul to Divine receptivity? Too easy you say? Not really.

The very aspects of the planetary changes that occur this month are pointing the way to harvesting wisdom, value and pristine insights that not only are the current harvest, but the seeds for a new future. Understand that your successes are preparation for the go round. Your harvest prepares you to make the transition called harvest and move toward new success

It is important to stay the course with dreams and ideas. Don't lose patience with the harvest. Fulfillment comes in its own time, just as a crop grows according to conditions of weather and soil. What type of soil are you providing your dreams and desires? Is it the fertile soil of the passion to create or the stony soil of resistance?

Find the places where, in the past, you left the field before the harvest and felt cheated of your reward. It is time to recognize that it was your choice to leave and those who harvested the rewards of your efforts were given permission to do so by your absence. Our harvests are precious and we deserve to bring in the abundance that we have labored to achieve. Make sure that the focus of your field (fertile ground, mind) is fulfillment and delight, because if you focus on lack, the crop will be poor or fail altogether.

Visualize a field rich with harvest and then let that field represent your dreams coming true. See/feel the joy of bringing full baskets of good into your home, your bank account, your life and the lives of others. As you feel the abundance in your solar plexus and allow the warmth of that harvest to spread throughout your body and your aura, you become a magnet for what you desire. Happy harvest!

The Master St. Germain speaks on Current Affairs

Beloved Masters, we are watching the world. Some might envision that in order to watch the world We have to keep our distance from the Earth and Her people. This is a misconception of the finite mind. We are right there with you all of the time. We are not bound by the limits of illusion. We have no desire to “cut and run” when things get difficult. In fact, as the tests become more intense We move closer.

There are many who are questioning the safety of the changes that are occurring. Let I be totally clear: “Your religions cannot go back, your politics cannot go back, your financial systems cannot go back and “Why would you wish them to?” This Universe was designed to move and grow and go into greater planes of wisdom and understanding. In the past several centuries there has been an ever growing state of stasis on Earth. The motto of the order that is passing has been, “Lay low, tighten the belt, hunker down and wait until things “return to normal”. What ever NORMAL is? We have heard that it is a setting on the washing machines in many homes. (chuckle) We now call you to Stand up, Release your limits and Listen within for the call of spirit to assure you that you are headed in the divinely appropriate direction. You will not be able to hear the Voice of Clarity if you are screaming your rage at others. You cannot trust that the highest and best good is there for you right now, if you are entertaining the manifesto of fear that the old order is issuing at every turn. The old ways, directed by the EGO, always tell of the worst possible outcome. The old ways say, “Change can only lead to something much worse than the difficult life you have been living. It is best to cling to your lack rather than to be open to the possibility that God has a better idea and will use humanity to bring it forth.”

Beloved Masters, We ask you to look for the best in yourselves and others rather than focusing on what might look questionable. Feel, feel deep within yourselves beyond the scare of the EGO attempting to play God, to the stillness that exists in the center of your being. Let your Soul teach you once again of Compassion and Love. These virtues are so strong and they remember you to the Holiness (wholeness) that is being recalled into your lives. Many of you have been so long away from love that you fear it even more than the loss you have felt from turning away from it. The Warrior’s are reminded that the only way to end a battle is to hold the unbreakable vision of peace and healing which has been buried in the shadows of illusions.

In your media (movies and television) there are often presented concepts of Magik where the Magikian can stop a large group of people with a thought. Those who wish to be in control of others see this as a power tool. Those who fear being controlled, consequently believe that the Magik is dangerous and to be feared. As you remember your Mastery you will also remember that a Master would not dream of wielding his or her will over another Master. The separation from equality and love has developed the belief that there are those who are superior and therefore must tell everyone who is less important or special how to run their lives. Masters have great respect for everyone and see them as capable and worthy. Granted the ways of victimization have long been held as a standard all over the world and they must pass away in the awakening that is occurring now. Those who would fight to keep the divisive ways that have brought so much pain to the planet in her history, are living in terror that those they have subjugated throughout time will raise up and fight back.

Masters have no necessity to make war in the ways that are known to Earth. Killing just for the sake of destruction is simply another contaminant that is polluting the Mother’s energy. There are those who have come to a point where they see life as so useless that they would believe that people’s lives should be extinguished because they are no longer productive. There are Soul’s on Earth who have taken part in Atlantian experiments where genetic engineering gave no thought to the value of a life, any life. They carry the fear that retribution awaits them. These tortured minds could create such a fate, but it is not God's will that such cruelty would be the outcome or the way of balance. This game of illusions has been violent and many have come to worship violence rather than love. However, what is emerging from the ashes of the past is a love that is beyond anything that Earth or her people remember. This Love is so powerful that it can rise above the atrocities that have been perpetrated in the name of power or science.

When you awaken in a strange place it takes a moment to realize where you are. Often the mind will play games and you will be afraid because it appears that you have been transported to unfamiliar surroundings. Then you recognize where you are and it is all right. In the changes that are now happening on Earth, the recognition that things are well is much more emotional/spiritual than mental/physical.

The road signs that you have looked for outside of you are either gone or often incorrect. You must now look within for guidance. The EGO is attempting to falsify itself as God and make you believe that you are in danger at every turn. In the Master Book (the Bible) it says, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my strength". In other words Masters look up in your consciousness to connect with new flows of energy that we are pouring out for you. You are being offered strength and clarity that come from Source, I AM. When you focus on the woes of the lower dimensions you get lost and feel that that is all there is. When you look for higher, better, safer, kinder, more loving ways you actually lift yourself up into 5th–10th dimensions. The hills and/or mountains have always represented spirit in the Master Book. Lift your vision, lift your thoughts, lift your heart to the places where spirit dwells in your life and Masters you will see the illusions tearing apart like fog in sunlight.

Stay your course. We are with you. Feel the love and its connection to God. Live all that you are. Reach deep into yourself and draw on the strength and courage and clarity that are also a Masters virtues. Hold our love so that you feel it and it fuels your ongoing. Peace be with you in all of your life. Until we meet again, in what ever manner that may be, in the greatest of love I bid you Adieu!

I remain your humble servant, Lord St. Germain

GLOBAL GLORY

We are presenting a work of love: "Global Glory" was channeled by Delores DeVore and Molly Rowland several years ago. St. Germain has said that the energy is even more pertinent now that it was when it was created. This is a toning to heal the Earth and all of us who are on the Earth. Our bodies are so in tune with all that is happening planetarily that it is necessary for us to wake up and feel, deeply feel the changes that are affecting us each moment. It is our sincere desire that the Masters will call the Choraliers together to bring more sound healing to the Earth.

A Gift from the Masters Presented by the Crystal Choraliers

Side One: A Celebration through the 12 chakras

The tone of this piece is a celebration of the 12 chakras. Beginning with the root chakra, and moving through each one, you will begin to feel the energy shifting and lifting and then it moves to the next level. Feel it as it moves and shifts and lifts you through the energy of each chakra, each strand of DNA. It is not the volume or pitch that will suggest each level, but the subtle change that occurs in the movement, a shift of the vibration that you can feel, that takes you higher.

The Masters that come through are El Morya, Lanto, Paul-the Venetian, Serapis Bey, Hilarion, Lady Nada, St. Germain, Orion, Maytreia, Lady Portia, Kwan Yin, and Sanat Kumara.

Side Two: Global Healing

The overview of the piece is a call to cosmic willingness to be one with the Divine. The different movements will address different levels of illnesses, not so much the illnesses themselves. Each movement is an initiation, a clearing to a new level of wholeness. Molly brings in, intertwines and breathes in energies from different parts of the Universe with the Masters direction. She flows these pieces of the Divine puzzle to Delores to shape and fit into their appropriate place. Delores works with the matrix of the planet, mending the energies of the earth's foundation. The tones break apart places where obstacles have been stored and shore up places where more strength is required. The energies are brought in, blended and the application is made.

Many times there is sound that represents the breaking up of old limits. This is not melodic, but the whole thing is an application of unity: As Above, So Below. The tones are for the Earth and her children, addressing all of their illnesses, whether they are physical, emotional, mental or spiritual. The levels that are addressed are from the 3rd dimension and are touching into the sixth. A few people are actually beginning to visualize the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth and some, from time to time operate there. So there are aspects of all the essences that are available to earth at this time for the healing of many levels.

Molly is a trans-channel for St. Germain and the Council of Light. She has been channeling St. Germain for over twenty-two years and worked as a conscious channel through astrology and tarot for twenty-five years before that. Molly is a medical intuitive with over forty years of experience working with doctors, chiropractors and psychotherapists Delores is a minister, teacher and workshop facilitator who uses Sound toning on the body to break up stored energy patterns. She was instructed by the Masters to create Sound Essences that carry the gifts and qualities of their dimensions through the tenth level. There are many who are still clinging to the 3rd dimension mentally, emotionally and physically, for the fear of leaving behind what they felt was secure. All are moving in the fourth dimension, whether, they like it or not. Many are moving into the fifth and some are experiencing even higher levels of frequency.

Even though Molly and Delores have known each other for many years, they had never sung nor toned together, before they went into the studio to create this CD. This is a purely channeled work. There was a wonderful joy in allowing the Masters to come through and "play" them as instruments.

We hope you enjoy the CD, and that it will create an essence of inner peace for you as you heal and remember that you are one with the Divine - I AM.

Produced by Robert Reed

The sounds on this CD are not always harmonious, melodic or even easy to listen to. This CD has been created to Heal - and therefore many of the sounds are dissonant. It can be used with a headset, lying down and covered with a blanket, allowing the sounds to wash over the body, but it is safe to play in your car while driving. The sounds are meant to break up energy patterns in the body that hold dis-ease, as they also are breaking up old frequencies of the Earth and bringing her into line with the new essences of the quantum shift.
